Antioch crowns 2002 queens

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch has crowned its 2002 queens, and for the first time there is a Junior Miss Antioch.

Melissa Zeman, 13, daughter of Donald and Linda Zeman, took the honor of being crowned the first Junior Miss Antioch. Mary Cashmore, an Antioch resident and the 2001 Junior Miss At-Large winner presented Melissa with the crown.

"I was very happy that Antioch had a Junior Miss competition this year," said Melissa. "I've been in the Little Miss pageant before, and probably would have done the At-Large pageant if Antioch hadn't done this."

Melissa said she wants the residents of Antioch to know that she is a responsible person who is

Wal-Mart supporters show their smiles

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"It sounds to me that Wal-Mart is a very good neighbor," said resident Mary Turner, who said she supports the silent majority in favor of Wal-Mart at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Village of Antioch. The comment was made in reference to the potential tax dollars the village could gain if the proposal is approved.

Turner asked the village trustees and Mayor Taso Maravelas "to keep us in the village." She added, "Downtown, though charming, doesn't give residents the choices they need. The fact is that Wal-Mart will be very good for our community."

Turner, and fellow Wal-Mart supporters, handed out yellow ribbons and yellow smile face stickers to visually show their support. Additionally, she presented the board with 979 signatures on a petition favoring the Wal-Mart proposal

County indicts 2 in Neubauer homicide

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re announced the indictment of two men in the Jan. 6 murder of 27-year-old Lake Villa resident Richard Neubauer.

Raymond Serio, 28, of Round Lake, and Ronald Ruhl, 33, of Lindenhurst, were both charged with first degree murder.

Both men are already in custody on unrelated charges.

Motorcyclists rally for pediatric brain tumor foundation

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"This is really going to be a special Friday Fest," said Glenda Sorensen, community development director of the Village of Antioch, of its "Ride into Summer for Kids" theme day on July 5.

A motorcycle rally benefiting the Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation of the United States is being held in conjunction with the music, food, fun and farmers' market Fridays are becoming known for in the village. The event will take place at the regular Friday Fest location in the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland and Entertainment Center off of Orchard and Skidmore, behind the stores on the east side of Main St.

The non-profit charitable foundation seeks to find the cause and cure of childhood brain tumors through the support of medical research in addition to providing support for children and their families.

"Ted Nielsen (Nielsen Enterprises, Lake Villa) has donated a $10,000 savings bond that will be raffled off to help raise money," said Debbie Rentner, one of the event organizers and Friday Fest volunteer (as well as The Village Chiropractor). "Five hundred raffle tickets will be sold for $50 each to help raise money for this wonderful cause."

The rally will begin at 3 p.m. and will include a silent auction and drawings in addition to the raffle, live music, food and drinks. The farmers' market will also open at this time. Authentic, autographed sports collectibles will be auctioned along with a wine package from Armanetti's and a tube and tow rope as part of the auction offerings.

Food will be served all day because the event falls on the Fourth of July weekend. Double Eagle restaurant will serve Italian beef, sausage and ice. Additionally, the Moose Lodge will serve hot dogs, hamburgers and bratwurst.

For this special Friday Fest, an additional band, Lost Canyon, will perform at 3 p.m. Split Shot will take the stage at 5 p.m. warming up for American English at 8 p.m.

"We're really expecting a great crowd for this event between it being the Fourth of July weekend, American English playing and the motorcycle rally," said Sorensen. "Extra parking will be available at the site of the former Country Pontiac just north of Orchard on the east side of Main St."

Awards will be given at 7 p.m. for the motorcycles deemed "best of show," "best chrome," "best lights" and "community choice." Prizes will include trophies, savings bonds and restaurant gift certificates.

"This event will also help with awareness of the Ride for Kids being held on July 21," said Rentner. Last year, local riders raised a record $247,240 with Nielsen and Nielsen Enterprises being the 2001 "Champion Individual Fund Raiser" with $112,630.

Village works to hash out settlement in 90 days

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"Settlement agreement" is terminology that causes many residents of Antioch to cringe as the "1992 Settlement Agreement" between the Anest brothers and the Village of Antioch is accused of being done under the cloak of darkness and its legality remains in question. Trustee Dorothy Larson promised that all of the actions taken surrounding the "non-binding agreement for settlement" with regard to the Deercreek litigation and the Neumann Homes litigation, and approved by the board of directors

Food pantry expands service

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"This is a true integration of both parishes," said Deacon Scott Keenan of the St. Peter Food Pantry joining together with the Prince of Peace Parish in Lake Villa to better meet the needs of those requiring food assistance.

On July 18, what was known as the St. Peter Food Pantry will now be known as the Blessed Trinity Food Pantry, and will be open on both Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:30-6:30 p.m. in the former convent building behind St. Peter Church at 557 Lake St.

"There should be no boundaries when it comes to helping people," said Keenan. "We don't just process people in and out. We try to take a more holistic approach and really spend some time with our clients."

Keenan said it was necessary to add Thursdays to the pantry schedule, as the expanded territory will mean that more families will be seen each week.

He added, "Families can use the service once per week, and the second day offers some options. We've expanded everything from what we had here before."

Pantry use, in general, has increased since Sept. 11.

"We're seeing a lot more working poor people," said Keenan. "People have gotten laid off and are working two jobs instead of their one job, and still aren't making it."

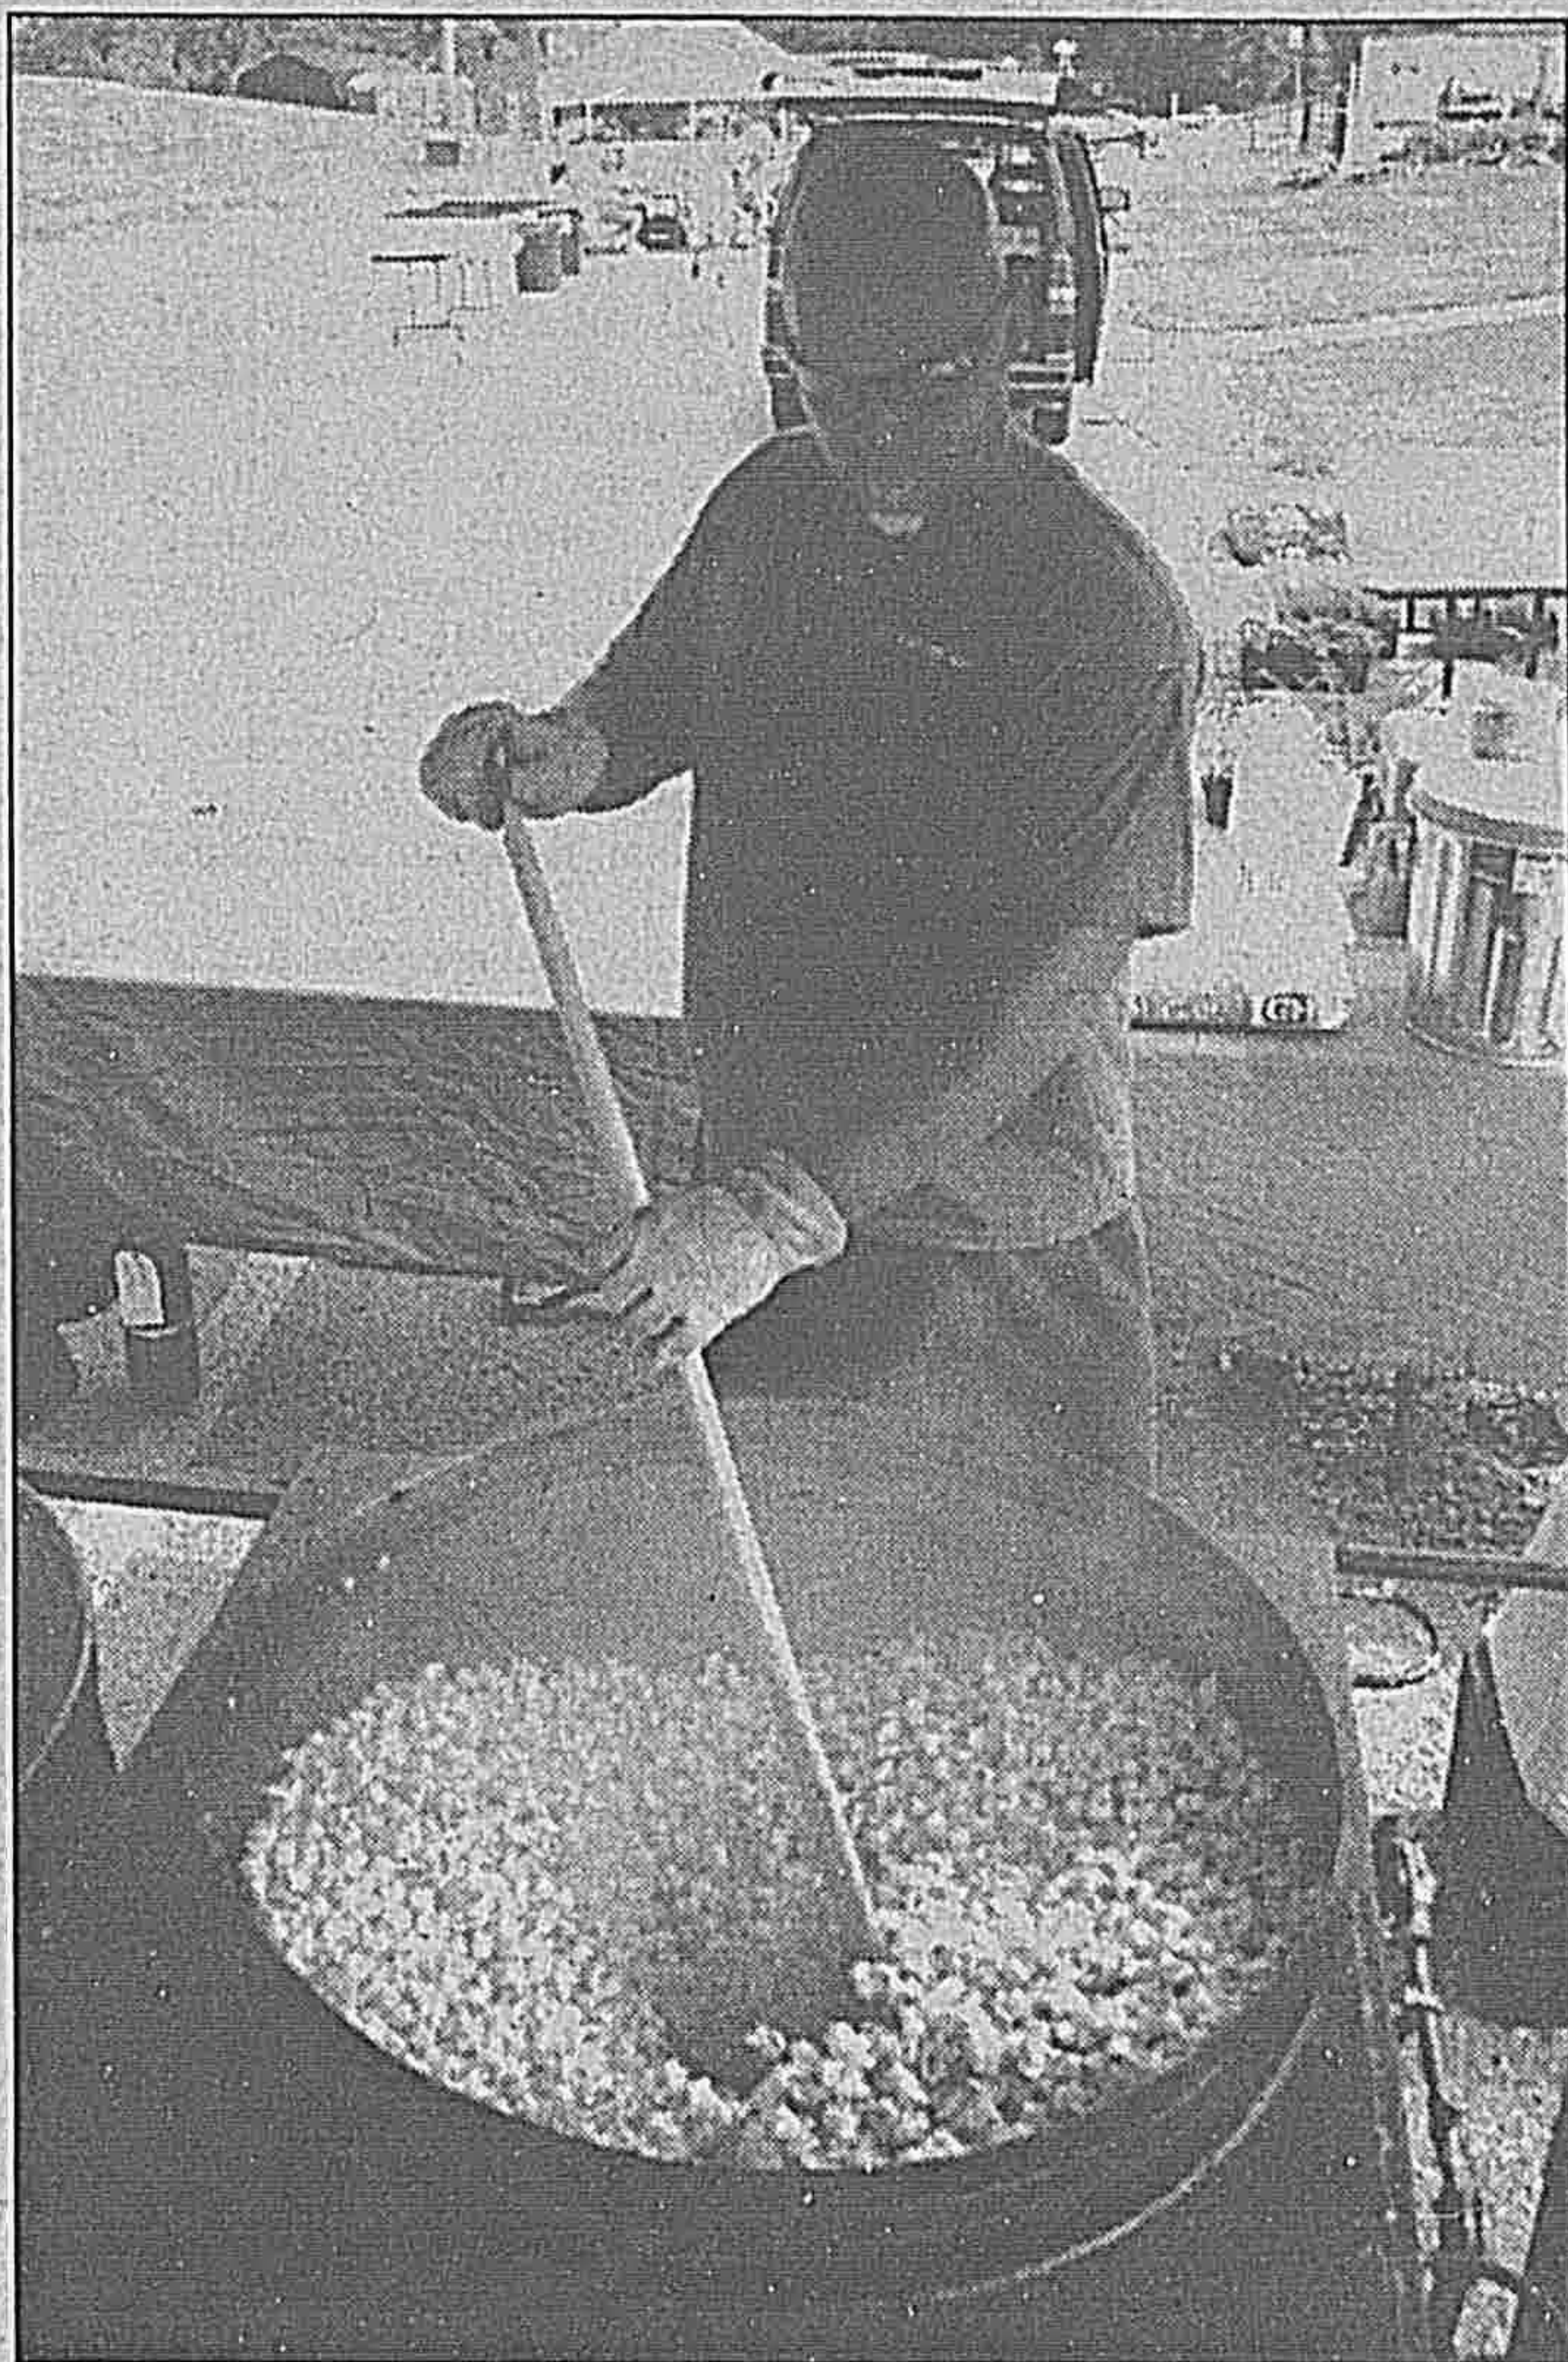

Adding to the problem, according to Keenan, is that there have cutbacks in social services and other reforms making fewer people eligible to receive aid such as food stamps.

The pantry does its best not to turn those in need away.

Food baskets include six meals per person within a household and include fresh milk, bread and meat items in addition to canned and boxed goods. Diapers and formula are also available to families with infants.

Volunteers help Keenan with a mountain of paperwork that keeps the pantry eligible for federal food programs that help to keep the shelves stocked, in addition to filling boxes and greeting clients. With the addition of the Lake Villa parish, he will have more volunteers to help him keep the pantry running efficiently.

"This is an equal partnership," he said. "Everything will be mutually shared, and we'll be getting help from Lake Villa with volunteers. We have all sorts of clients and all sorts of volunteers. It doesn't matter if you go to church."

Skate park construction begins

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Concrete work for Antioch's soon-to-be-reality skate (and bicycle) park will be "started, completed and cured by the time the equipment (ordered last month) comes," said village administrator Mike Haley at the regular village board meeting.

The board approved accepting a bid for the concrete work from Swederski, out of Richmond, as it came in at $35,820, $12,000 under other bids.

When completed, the park will have rails for grinding, fun boxes, launch boxes and spines.

Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) made a request for $100,000 from her discretionary funds to be used to support the skate and bicycle park that is to be constructed in Williams Park.

The village is adding $50,000 to the kitty from the parks improvement fund. The parks and recreation department has an approved budget that will allowed it to spend $25,000 last year for site improvements, and another $25,000 for this year.

A committee made up of regular parks board members Jennifer Knourek, Chris Lienhardt and Debbie Prather along with the Rios family: Matt and Kari and their father Renaldo, explained the process used to determine the best location and design for the park. "We looked at location, accessibility, feasibility and safety," said Lienhardt at a village board meeting last year. "Safety and nuisance measures were definitely taken into consideration."

Lowe sets tone he would like FWA to have as its new leader

The Fox Waterway Agency (FWA) has a new person in charge.

He is Marshall Lowe of Cary, named to succeed James McKinley as FWA board chairman after McKinley resigned his post. McKinley, of Johnsburg, had served for two years, and before him, Dr. William Dam of Fox Lake had served as chairman for seven years.

Lowe talked about what kind of tone he would like the Fox Lake-based agency that has responsibilities regarding the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes area have.

"I think that governments hide behind the Freedom of Information Act requests. If it is a reasonable request, we should give the people the information when they come in. It irritates me when I ask for something simple and the government tells me to fill out a FOIA," said Lowe during first remarks as chairman.

Lowe said one of his strengths is his relationship with Agency staff.

On one staff-related matter, he suggested and the board agreed to give a retiring employee a retirement package that includes time for a previous job where she was just shy of investing in. On another front, he suggested that some field staff be able to work four 10-hour work days.

"They can be a lot more productive, and it can work if you stagger it," he said of the work days.

"I do not see why there should be a rule that directors cannot talk with the employees. Directors can get a pulse of things going on and learn about things 'before the wheels fall off,'" he said.

Lowe's position as a board member will have to be filled from someone from McHenry County. The FWA is made of three directors each from Lake and McHenry counties. Applicants have until July 3 to apply at the agency, 45 S. Pistakee Lake Rd. in Fox Lake. Those interested in applying should send a letter of interest, or may call 847-587-8540 for more information.

"I have always lived around the river," Lowe said.

A native of Cary, Lowe ran for the FWA Board of Directors eight years ago.

Regarding "hot" agency issues, he said that he in favor of improving the navigable status of mouths of channels.

"People have different views about the agency. People who want their channel dredged do not think that we are doing enough. But we also heard tonight from those opposed to Nippersink area dredging," Lowe said.

Residents will have a 30-day comment period to be announced on the agency's web site. An emergency permit has been applied for dredging there by the FWA.

Lowe said that he favors reopening the advisory board.

"I think that controversy was self-inflicted. All we had to do was fire a few members who were not contributing. There should be a full advisory board, and I intend to give them a lot of projects," Lowe said.

Lowe, a graduate of Crystal Lake High School, has been in the excavating contractor business for 30 years.

The FWA is a unit of government created on Sept. 26, 1983 by state statute. Its mission is to improve and maintain the Fox River and the Chain O' Lakes public waterway from the Wisconsin border to the Algonquin Dam for recreational uses, to restore environmental quality, control flooding, promote tourism, and to preserve and enhance the quality of life along the waterway for residents and users alike.

All treasure, no trash at rummage sale

St. Peter's 43rd annual rummage sale begins Thursday, June 27 from 6 a.m.-9 p.m. with a record-breaking amount of goodies for bargain hunters to rummage through.

The sale will be held at the church school located north of the intersection of routes 59 and 173, a cross from the Jewel-Osco. Hours will continue on Friday from 8 a.m.-9 p.m., Saturday from 8 a.m.-7 p.m. and on Sunday from 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

There will be about 15 cars, 20 boats and two campers as well as two semis full of furniture that can't even fit inside the school.

The sale is the second largest in Lake County falling behind Lake Forest.

As with last year, every room in the school was filled to the brim with clothing, antiques, art, furniture, exercise equipment, appliances, and toys. All appliances are tested to ensure they are in working order prior to the sale.

Separate rooms showcase antiques, art, fine clothing as well as furniture and appliances to make shopping easier.

Supporting the Antioch Fire Fighters Association is a worthy cause. Eating pancakes with friends and family at the eighth annual Pancake Breakfast on June 30 from 7 a.m.-noon at the main fire station located at Orchard and Holbek is an easy way to do it.

The Antioch firefighter's Association will be showcasing the fire station and equipment. Additionally, with the used of the Fox Lake Fire Dept. Fire Safety House, children will be given instruction on exit drills and safety.

Along with the breakfast there will be a raffle and prizes. Raffle tickets will be sold at the door for $1 each or six for $5.

Tickets for the breakfast will be sold at the door. Adults are $5; children between 6-12 years old are $3 as are seniors. Children under 5 years old eat for free.

Don't forget to head out to the soapbox derby immediately following the pancake breakfast at noon on Orchard St. east of Main St.

Fourteen teams, drivers and their push starters, will be competing that day and will appreciate your support.

MURDER

drug-related, but instead, may have been motivated by jealousy.

The sheriff's office issued a press release announcing the June 19 indictments at about 8 a.m. on June 20, but retracted the announcement three hours later, when the State's Attorney requested press silence while additional witnesses were sought.

The gag order was lifted 24 hours later.

The complaints allege Neubauer was shot in the head several times, while in his mother's car near the Whiplash Bar at 23409 Grass Lake Rd., Antioch.

His body was found, later that morning, in the passenger seat of the car, a 1997 Ford Taurus.

The body was discovered by a Lake County Sheriff's Deputy on patrol just over the Illinois-Wisconsin border, in the Newport Township area of Kenosha County. The car was parked in the driveway of the Bristol Renaissance Fair, about one-tenth of a mile west of Interstate 94 and on the north side of the roadway.

A joint investigation was conducted, involving the Kenosha County Sheriff's Office, the Lake County Sheriff's Office and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A confidential informant led investigators to the alleged perpetrators, according to Lake County Detective Jim Jonitis.

It is believed that an altercation ensued between Serio and Neubauer over an unidentified female. Information gathered by investigators leads them to conclude that Ruhl was the triggerman in the murder.

Investigators allege the body was driven over the Wisconsin border, and left at the fairgrounds.

Serio is being held in the Lake County Jail on unrelated narcotics, forgery and weapons charges.

Ruhl is currently serving a prison sentence at the Illinois Department of Corrections Logan Correction Center on unrelated narcotics charges.

SETTLEMENT

in a special meeting, will be done "out in the open."

Jim Hermann, of Hermann and Hermann, the attorney handling the Deercrest litigation for the village concurred. "All of this has to go through public hearings," he said. "Everything will be scrutinized." The purpose of this agreement is that it will "ultimately result in the binding 'Global Settlement' which will settle all disputes between the parties in the Deercrest litigation (Village of Antioch, Lake County, Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., Deercrest) and the zoning litigation (Neumann Homes, Village of Antioch)."

The "memorandum of understanding" outlines commitments that must be fulfilled by all parties within 90 days to settle all of the current litigation. The trial, that was to have begun on June 24, will be rescheduled for day 91 if any of the parties fail to fulfill the terms of this agreement.

The terms of this non-binding agreement were hashed out in day long pre-trial conference held on Wednesday, June 19 between representatives of all parties.

Copies of this 11-page agreement are available at Village Hall.

Judge John Goshgarian, presiding over this case, ruled that the Village of Antioch was responsible for sewer as well as water easements in the East Sub-Area properties involved in the litigation with Lake County responsible to support the village's efforts "if necessary."

Neumann Homes will sell the Forest Preserve Dist. between 175-200 acres of the most sensitive wetland and oak Savannah area from its proposed development area. A new proposal will be submitted for the remaining 435 acres for 960 single-family homes with lot sizes of no less than 7,800 square feet.

Additionally, Neumann Homes will, in essence, buy out Deercrest and become the developer for the already approved preliminary proposal on Otto Sprenger's property. A petition for annexation of 55 acres will be made at the southeast corner of Savage Rd. and Rte. 173 with 30 acres to be zoned commercial and 25 acres to be zoned for a school.

The fees and school contribution for both the forthcoming Neumann Homes proposal, and that which the developer is taking over from Deercrest will be subject to the increases written into ordinance on June 15, 2002.

Hermann said that all parties had to compromise to come up with this agreement, and that no party was getting exactly what it wanted. He noted that the approval of this agreement doesn't mean that it's a forgone conclusion that the Neumann Homes proposal will be approved.

Larson added, "We're not giving him anything but the right to due diligence. We're allowing him to come back with a new plan. Marianne (Guy) was concerned about the Oak Savannahs and the wetlands. Mr. Neumann has done his best to take these sensitive areas out of his plan."

After the meeting concluded, Trustee Bob Caulfield said, "I feel good to be part of this, to get this done. There are a lot of things the village needs and getting rid of litigation that cost us $200,000 last month alone will certainly help. This is a real win-win."

Sprinkling restricted until further notice

The Village of Antioch's sprinkling restrictions will be in effect until further notice.

Those with even-numbered addresses are allowed to sprinkle on even-numbered days. Likewise, those with odd-numbered addresses are allowed to sprinkle on odd-numbered days.

Sprinkling is only allowed between the hours of 6 p.m.-6 a.m.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Wal-Mart will be good neighbor

I would like to thank Bill Schroeder from Lakeland Media/Antioch News for forwarding a letter and money order to me from John Reeves for $1.14, "98 cents for thumb tacks plus 14 cents tax."

Mr. Reeves, the money order is being donated to the Antioch Firefighters Association. On their behalf, thank you. My previous letter to the editor was not intended to voice my "loss for her life savings" as you stated in your letter to me, but it was meant to show the people of Antioch that, 1. I would like the best price for what I am buying and, 2. I would like to keep my money in Antioch.

Wal-Mart would be a good neighbor for all of us. The tax revenue could help our schools and village. It would have people stopping in our village to go to the unique shops that we have or eat at one of our fine restaurants before/after they shop in Wal-Mart, instead of just passing us by to drive to Round Lake or Gurnee. And if you look at the Wal-Mart in Gurnee, you would notice that their neighbors are still building all those big expensive homes on Hunt Club Road. Wal-Mart has beautifully landscaped their property on Hunt Club Road, so that it doesn't just look like a big box store.

Although I care deeply for Antioch, I will be in Wal-Mart this weekend, to purchase sandals for approximately $10-20. I hope this doesn't sound too "tacky," but where do you shop in Antioch for your sandals?

WAL-MART

she said she collected in less than one week.

Resident Norm Geary refuted Turner's statements. "If you vote for Wal-Mart, you will destroy downtown Antioch," he said. "Growth does not pay its own way, not even commercial growth."

Previously, a petition of more than 600 signatures against Wal-Mart had been presented to the board.

Lakeland Media is conducting its own poll. Those wishing to voice their opinions should do so by noon July 2. Look for additional information about this poll in this edition.

The Great Lakes Principals project, if approved, would sit on 67 acres that is currently made up of seven smaller parcels at the intersection of Rte. 173 and Deep Lake Rd.

There are two phases to the project, with the first phase to include the Wal-Mart of about 209,000 square feet (of that 60,000 square feet proposed for groceries) on the 38 eastern acres with an expected completion date in 2003. The second phase is slated for "future development" on the western portion.

Selden Fox, Ltd. and Northern Illinois University prepared a study of the potential financial impact to the Village of Antioch.

It found that in the first full year of completion the village could expect to receive $570,000 of new sales tax revenue. Upon full assessment of the first phase of improvements, the report found that Antioch would receive $122,000 in new property tax annually on property currently bringing about $25,000 in annual property taxes.

Additionally, Antioch Community Consolidated Dist. 34 and Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 would receive $325,000 and $255,000 respectively each year.

involved with the community.

She said the pop question was her favorite part of the competition. "I was asked what the most important lesson is that I've learned, and that is not to take anything for granted."

Reagan Martin, 6, daughter of Ty and Cindy Martin, was crowned Little Miss Antioch.

"I was real excited when they called my name," said Reagan. "Last year's Little Miss Antioch (Mallory Lukasik) crowned me."

"I want to be a doctor because they take care of people who are sick, and to help my mom so she doesn't have to walk with a walker," she said. "And, I like science."

As part of her new duties, Reagan will be at the Fireman's pancake breakfast on June 30 that runs from 7 a.m.-noon at the main fire station located at Orchard and Holbek.

Jennifer Blake, 17, daughter of Wayne and Ellen Blake, was crowned Miss Antioch, and will be awarded a $1,325 scholarship toward college.

"I'm an incoming Senior, but I plan on graduating early and taking Emergency Medical Training (EMT) at CLC (College of Lake County), and eventually going to the University of Kentucky for emergency medicine," she said.

Jennifer said she enjoyed the close bond that developed between her and the other contestants, and that the pageant was for fun.

"I liked the interviews. One of the judges was the former Miss Lake County," said Jennifer. "I was asked what kind of character it takes to make a good queen. I said, 'The person should be a good role model who is responsible, dependable and outgoing.'"

Jenifer coaches Antioch Viking Cheerleading and is a member of the CYC Raiders in Kenosha, a competition cheerleading squad that has won both national and world championships.

The price of freedom

Are you thankful to be an American? Do you appreciate the privileges of living in the United States of America? Countless men and women have fought for our independence. Many have paid the price of our freedom with their lives. Let us not take for granted the liberty that has been bestowed upon us!

The beginning of freedom

Independence Day, July 4th, is the birth-day of the United States of America. In 1776 delegates of the Continental Congress met at Independence Hall to declare the American colonies independent and sign the Declaration of Independence.

Thomas Jefferson was the principal writer of the document. The preamble contained the philosophy of human rights. The second part stated a severe indictment of the British policies in America, listing 27 grievances. The concluding part stated a decisive break with England which was a formal declaration of war.

The Declaration of Independence was first read to the public on July 8, 1776. This was the first celebration of Independence Day. The Liberty Bell rang loud and clear from the State House (now Independence Hall) proclaiming the news of freedom. From that time forward Independence Day has been celebrated throughout our country. It was declared a legal federal holiday in 1941.

Celebrate your freedom

The theme of Antioch's 4th of July celebration is "Let Freedom Ring." The day's festivities begin with a Run for Freedom through the streets of Antioch at 8:00 AM. The Antioch Community Chorus performs at 9:30 AM. The Ring in Freedom at 9:57 AM precedes the big parade which starts at 10:00 AM. Numerous activities begin at 11:00 AM. Check out the children's fun fair, the space walk, the Lake Region Historical Society's open house, and Mark Sunday's Military Museum. Watch the softball, volleyball, and horseshoe tournaments and the basketball contest at Williams Park. Enjoy the home-made apple pies that will be sold after the judging of the 10th annual apple pie baking contest at noon. Participate in the family fun games beginning at 3:00 PM. The Lakes Area Swing Band will play 30's and 40's music from 5:00 to 6:30 PM. The Affixes will play 50's and 60's music from 6:30 to 8:00 PM.

The Lakes Area Community Band and Antioch Community Chorus will perform from 8:00 PM to dusk. Fireworks will begin at dusk.

Honor the military and September 11th heroes

General Schwarzkopf, Vietnam, September 11th, Kosovo, Franklin Roosevelt, December 7th are people, places, and days that have changed our lives forever. The world will never be the same! Honor all those who have risked and even given their lives so that we could be free! Today, Americans are united for the first time in decades and that is an extraordinary blessing.

Attend a special celebration at First Assembly of God on Highway 50, just east of I94, in Kenosha this weekend. Celebrate America 2002 tickets are free! Tickets are required for Saturday, June 29th, performances at 3:00 and 7:00 PM. No tickets are needed for the Sunday, June 30th, performance at 10:00 AM. Call 262-694-3300 for more information.

Readers with information for "News-Worthy" should call Sharon Westbrook at 847-395-3079.

Fighting sprawl

We, the members of Alliance of Residents for Responsible Growth (ARRG), support smart growth in Antioch. Contrary to the belief of some residents, we are not all business owners. Our group is made up of a diverse group of individuals from all walks of life. We support responsible growth. The proposed development is not responsible growth. The proposed development is defined as sprawl. This one development is larger than our entire downtown. The negative effects of sprawl has been repeatedly documented.

About 10 years ago the Village of Antioch realized that Antioch could become another statistic of sprawl. They had the foresight to develop and enact the Comprehensive Land Use Plan Ordinance. This ordinance was written to protect the future of our village from the negative effects of sprawl. The plan cites the preserving of our downtown as vital. Why is the village board now willing to disregard this law just because a developer comes knocking on their door?

We, the members of ARRG want to protect the future of our village. This includes helping work with the village to bring businesses to town that fall in line with the Comprehensive Plan. This will ensure that our downtown remains viable and becomes a shopping destination for village and township residents. Let's ask the village board to again reexamine the Friedman Study and perhaps update this study to help identify needed businesses in the downtown. We should ask the village board to instruct the Director of Community Development to focus on filling all downtown vacancies with stores we can buy our most basic items from. Another step is to clean up and promote the industrial park. These two steps would bring in the additional tax dollars that residents are asking for without hurting and disrupting the traffic, the environment, our quality of life, and the economic vitality of our downtown.

LAST CALL

John Phelps

No arm, no problem

For many of us, it's hard playing golf with both hands at our disposal. You should check out the game Libertyville resident Marty Neal has! And this guy plays with only one arm. Not by choice, though.

In January of 1979, Neal, age 15 at the time, was working for his father at the family-owned business when he got his right hand caught in a meat grinder. There was no flight for life back then.

A 1981 graduate of Carmel High School, Neal's arm couldn't be saved.

"All I could do was put ice on it. It was too late by the time I got there (Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke's in Chicago). The only option was to have my arm amputated," recalled Neal. "But when I was at the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago for rehab, I saw a gentleman in the next room who had to be amputated from the waist down. I said to myself, 'I'm not so bad off after all.'"

Neal wound up undergoing physical therapy at RIC and later at St. Therese in Waukegan.

"I basically had to learn how to do everything all over again, things we take for granted, like tying your shoes or writing with your other hand."

And now, after playing some golf in high school and while at Loras College in Dubuque, Iowa, Neal's game has come a long way.

He was at The Merit Club in Gurnee last week for the John Dolan Golf Challenge, where four able-bodied golfers were paired with one disabled golfer in a scramble format. The 18-handicapper's score of 86 was good for second place among the disabled golfer's division.

"I struggle at times with the tee shot and long irons. But my short game and putting are my strongest attributes," said Neal, who, with one arm, can club it 250-plus yards off the tee. You can ask a couple of gentlemen Neal and his buddy paired up with at Pine Meadow in Mundelein.

"We (my buddy and I) were last to tee off," he said. "These two guys saw I had one arm and were shaking their heads as if to say, 'it's gonna be a long day playing with this guy'. I hit last and blasted it down the middle about 250 yards. My buddy looked at the guys and said, 'not bad for one arm.'"

The humble Neal is not one to blow his own horn, but you wouldn't guess that by some of the rounds he has shot.

"I've had a couple of sub-par rounds," he said. "I try to get out and play at least once every couple of weeks. It's been a lot of hard work, though. But it shows what hard work and determination can get you."

Neal, who runs the Pine Tree Pet Super Center, comes from somewhat of a golfing family. He is one of eight siblings. His parents had golf in the blood. One of his sisters and one of his brothers also play with regularity.

Whether it's golf-related or simply having a lot of heart, sounds like there's more than one lesson we can learn from him. Especially if you're a golfer.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Rachel Cleaveland
Jr., P, Mundelein

Hard work and determination definitely pays off. With last year's ace Michelle Kass showcasing her talents at Augustana this season, Cleaveland's turn came up in the rotation, much to the shagrin of the opposition. The Mustangs won the North Suburban crown and regional title during a 29-2 campaign. And Cleaveland played a big role in that, going 24-1 on the year. She fanned 213 batters in just over 179 innings of work while compiling a sparkling 0.47 ERA. When not doing it with her arm, Cleaveland was equally effective with the bat, hitting a robust .422 with six doubles, a triple, 10 stolen bases and 19 RBI. Look out next year!

CO-COACHES OF THE YEAR

Jen Schultz
Antioch

Toni Campbell
Mundelein

Two coaches who are pretty familiar with one another. Schultz used to assist at Mundelein while Campbell played for the Mustangs in the mid-90s.

After going 10-20 last year, second-year coach Schultz of Antioch saw the solid fundamentals fall into place this season. The result—Antioch flip-flopped its record, going 21-11 this season after being shut out eight times and finishing 11-21 last year.

Ironically, Schultz has already tendered her resignation from the North Suburban school.

As far as Campbell, softball is in her blood, especially Mustang-style. Mundelein had plenty of talent but you don't win 29 games in a row and conference and regional titles without good direction from a good skipper.

FIRST TEAM

Amanda Pollitt, Antioch

The senior center fielder was a force in the field with her arm and fielding. She was equally effective at the plate, batting close to .340 with four doubles and 12 RBI. Also had a .435 on-base percentage.

Kristin Elstrom, Antioch

Antioch's ace and only a junior, walked only 17 batters during a 13-8 campaign. Struck out 123 batters while sporting a very respectable 1.48 ERA.

Nicole Mierzejewski, Carmel

The senior pitcher picked up three of the teams eight wins on the mound while also leading the Corsairs with a robust .400 batting average. Shared team MVP honors with LoBue.

Sarah LoBue, Carmel

The junior catcher was second on the Corsairs with her .393 batting average. She also cranked out three home runs while playing solid defense behind the plate.

Rosa Cullits, Grant

The junior shortstop batted .354 with a .512 slugging percentage. Ripped 20 singles, five doubles, four triples and six RBI. On defense, had a fielding percentage of .827 with 70 assists to her credit. Was voted the team's Most Valuable Player.

Lea Corcoran, Grayslake

The freshman pitcher/infielder tallied all of Grayslake 11 wins on the mound. She had a 2.50 earned run average while fanning over 10 batters per game.

Barb Buttitta, Libertyville

The senior pitcher was a bright spot in what was a down year for the Cats. Earned all four of the team's wins on the mound.

Trista Campbell, Mundelein

A team leader in every sense of the word, the senior second baseman led the NSC champs with 24 RBI. Also batted .379 with seven doubles, two triples and two home runs.

Brandi Simon, Mundelein

The senior outfielder did it all. Led the team with 46 hits and a .469 batting average. Also stole 29 bases while driving in 18 runs.

Kristin Poglayen, Round Lake

A solid, all-around player, the junior played shortstop, third base, and relief pitcher on occasion. Hitting in the No. 2 spot, a big season highlight came when she crushed a ball for a home run against cross-town rival Grant.

Alexis Laughhunn, Warren

The senior pitcher won all 14 of the teams wins while compiling a 1.90 ERA. The teams co-MVP.

Erin Minger, Warren

The junior infielder led Warren in extra base hits and slugging percentage. She also batted .350 and knocked in 17 runs.

Kim Rymer, Vernon Hills

The Lakeland Pre-season Player of the Year certainly didn't disappoint. Batted .395 with five homers, 35 RBI, 30 runs scored and eight steals.

Beth Plucinski, Vernon Hills

The junior catcher batted .350 with 25 RBI and was also the best defensive player on the team in calling a strong game from behind the plate.

Rache Shippee, Wauconda

With her glove, the senior played outstanding at third base before transitioning to left field. At the plate, batted .349 while driving in 18 runs.

SECOND TEAM

Carolyn Cooley, Antioch

The future of Antioch's infield looks bright with Cooley, only a sophomore, returning for two more years. The third baseman, playing her second varsity season, batted .319 with four doubles, two triples, three round-trippers and 20 RBI.

Kelly Wells, Antioch

The junior second baseman led the team with a .445 batting average. Wells will be a nice complement on the mound to Elstrom next spring. She won six games and had a 2.48 ERA in the No. 2 spot this season.

Lauren Unsner, Carmel

The senior second baseman batted close to .250. Was a team leader in every sense of the word. Voted team Captain.

Emily Slywestrak, Carmel

At the plate, the senior centerfielder batted close to .250. One of the Corsairs team leaders, she was voted winner of the Most Spirited Award by her teammates.

Lauren Hill, Grant

The junior catcher was solid on both offense and defense. Batted .390 with a .506 slugging percentage. Had four doubles, a triple, homer and 10 RBI. In the field, had an .878 fielding percentage.

Megan Mitchell, Grayslake

The junior infielder will be the backbone of the defense again next year. Played sparkling defense at the 'hot corner'. At the plate, batted close to .300.

Jessica Kelly, Grayslake

The junior first baseman led the Rams in hits, batting average (.324) and walks. Very patient. A team leader and spark for the Rams, was voted the team's Offensive MVP.

Kelsey Maynard, Libertyville

Ana Antonetti, Mundelein

Only a freshman, the right fielder and shortstop batted .435 with two doubles, three triples, 24 stolen bases, 28 runs scored and 14 RBI hitting in the leadoff spot.

Nikki Cartuccio, Round Lake

This senior catcher was one of the team's ironmen. Cartuccio caught every inning this year. She batted a misleading .250. "She has a great bat and hit the ball hard all year," said head coach Barry Gurvey. "Only thing, those hard shots were right at people."

Christina Rasmussen, Round Lake

The senior volunteered to play wherever the team needed her. She saw most of her time at first base and shortstop. On offense, was the designated hitter. Came within 2 points of qualifying for the IHSA Hitting Derby State finals.

All Bonnem, Vernon Hills

The senior outfielder batted .320 with 20 runs scored and 20 RBI.

Kristen Lancaster, Vernon Hills

Junior first baseman batted .320 at the plate. Also knocked in 25 RBI for the Prairie Division co-champs.

Jackie Burris, Warren

The junior infielder played excellent defense while leading the team in steals from the lead-off position.

Jenny Winters, Warren

The senior catcher was co-Captain and co-MVP of the Devils. Recorded nine putouts at home.

State finals next for Lightning

The Lake Villa Lightning 12-year-old Travelers will be heading to the USSSA State Finals in Bourbonnais, IL June 27-30. The first game on June 27 will be against the Downers Grove Long Shots at noon. As many six games will be played for a team to win the championship.

The field will include 40 of the top 12-year-old teams in Illinois.

The 12-year-old Lake Villa team, due to their performance in Omaha, Neb. in a tournament last week, have also earned a berth in the USSSA Triple-AAA World Series. The World Series will take place in Hutchinson, Kan. The week of July 21-28.

"This is the first time a traveling team from Lake Villa has been selected to compete in the World Series," said Manager Rich Coles. "In my 14 years coaching baseball here, it's probably the highest honor we've ever received. The kids are ecstatic. We're just looking to represent Lake Villa the best that we can."

The Lightning competes in the McHenry County and Mike's Memorial Leagues.

Team members include: Kyle Frye, Brent Gruber, Joe Burg, Eric Vazquez, Joey DeBernardis, Kyle Stroup, Brice Walsh, Randy Ratajczyk, Alex Coles, Jomar Vazquez, Dan Andrews and Jimmy Clancy.

Coles manages the squad with coaching duties shared by Jim Clancy, Ken Ratajczyk and John DeBernardis.

Area home run derby hits a grand slam

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

Area youth baseball organizations showed some muscle during the Century 21 United Home Run Derby held at the Lake Villa Township Baseball Park last weekend.

Just before Major League Baseball's All-Star game each year, stars such as Sammy Sosa, Barry Bonds, and Ken Griffey Jr. add excitement to All-Star weekend by showcasing their home run hitting skills at the home run derby. This time, it was the local kids' turn to show off their power.

Contestants from four different age groups, 11, 12, 13, and 14 were chosen by leagues and park districts around the county to represent them in the annual event.

After several rounds, all but two participants remained to battle it out in the final round of the derby. In the final round, each player would receive eight outs, with the player hitting the more home runs in the round winning the title.

In the 11-year-old category, Ken Karagiorgas of Antioch defeated Zack Shaw of Gurnee by hitting four home runs to Shaw's one. Aaron Piekarsz of Lake Villa finished third. In the 12-year-old age group, Eric Johnson of Wauconda defeated Nikko Carroll of Avon Township 3-1. Kevin Durmas came in third for the day.

The true highlight of the day came during the 13-year-old contest when Alex Linbergh of Wauconda squared off against Mike Dussault of Antioch. After the initial eight out final round, both players bombed three home runs, leading to another round to determine the winner. This round dropped to only five outs for each batter. This time around, both players tied at two long balls apiece to force yet another extra round, with this one lowering once more to three outs.

After both batters hit one home run in the third round, a fourth round was needed to determine a winner. Neither hitter found the grass beyond the fences, forcing what would become the fifth and decisive round. When Dussault wasn't able to match Linbergh's one home run, a winner was finally crowned. The final tally ended with Dussault hitting six home runs, while Linbergh hit seven.

"I woke up around seven and warmed up at a friends house for about an hour to get ready for this," said Dussault. "This was my first time doing something like this and it was a lot of fun."

Kyle Sinkus of Lake Villa finished third in the 13-year-old division.

In the 14-year-old age group, Brian Behnke of Gurnee defeated John Heneberry of Lake Villa by hitting two home runs to Heneberry's none. D.J. Sunday of Lake Villa came in third.

"I think it (the home run derby) went very well," said Elizabeth Scheffler, of Century 21 United Group. "There was a good turnout and everything went very smoothly. There were very few problems."

An awards session followed the competition with the first, second, and third-place finishers all receiving trophies for their efforts.

Aside from the home run derby itself, many other festivities took place. Former White Sox player Carlos May threw out the first Century 21 United Home Run Derby champions included 14-year-old winner Brian Behnke of Gurnee, 13-year-old winner Alex Linbergh of Wauconda, 12-year-old champ Eric Johnson of Wauconda and 11-year-old champ Ken Karagiorgas of Antioch. pitch as well as signed autographs. A moon-walk and pitch speed machine were also available for use throughout the day, as well as the opportunity to have your face painted. Raffles were also ongoing, with the main raffle prizes being two tickets to the Major League Baseball Home Run Derby and an autographed Cal Ripken Jr. baseball were won.

"Today was very successful. There was a good turnout and good weather," said Jim Breitbach, Lake Villa Baseball President. "It was nice to see participants from all around the county here today."

The event, which was sponsored by the Century 21 United Group, was the first of its kind in the area, and according to many, hopefully not the last.

"There was a great response from around the county. Walking around and hearing the younger kids talking about how they can't wait to be in it next year," said Scheffler. "In their (the kids) minds it will happen again next year, so I guess in ours it will too."

Devil tennis camp members burn the nets at Urbana Jr. Open

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

The Warren Tournament Tennis Camp members traveled to their first USTA sanctioned tournament of the summer and several camp participants brought back championship trophies.

Warren senior Joe Doreza defeated teammate and fellow Warren senior Bill Baluyot in the finals of the Boys 18-and-under bracket. He then teamed with Baluyot to take the doubles title.

Warren sophomore Brian Silverstein won the consolation title at Boys 16-and-under singles, and then teamed with Warren junior Nick Simonetti to win the title at Boys 16-and-under doubles.

The Warren contingent dominated the upper age groups in doubles with not only the two titles, but also second place finishes in both the Boys' 18-and-under (Warren junior David Martinez and Warren sophomore Andrew Nichols) and the Boys' 16-and-under (Antioch junior Ryan Reimers and Warren sophomore Mike Park).

"(Former Warren star Todd) Lazarski always said the doubles has always been Warren's specialty," said Warren varsity boys head coach Greg Cohen. "And at this tournament it was again. It was nice to see the doubles do so well."

Antioch sophomore Robert Reynolds, Carmel freshman Nick Smith, Warren freshman Patrick O'Connor and Woodland eighth-grader Daniel Gradner also had strong tournaments.

"The 14's used great strategy and the doubles teams implemented a lot of things they learned at camp," said Carolyn Stanley, Antioch assistant coach and the leader of the group that went to Urbana. "The summer is the best time to experiment with your game."

The tournament camp participants will next compete in the Warren Jr. Open from on July 5-6.

Although the Warren Jr. Open is not a USTA sanctioned event, Cohen still expects around 40 kids to compete for titles in Boys U-12, U-15 and U-18 singles and U-15 and U-18 doubles.

"We started the Jr. Open (in 1998) to give players a chance to play matches over the summer in a tournament type format," said Cohen. "The matches are positive because they give the players that much more experience."

The entry deadline is July 3 for singles and July 5 for doubles and will cost $10 for a singles entry and $4 per person for doubles. Players may enter in multiple brackets but must be prepared to play with little or no layoff. The Jr. Open will take place at both the O'Plaine and Almond Road campuses.

For more information, contact Cohen at (847) 599-4334.

Lindenhurst Park District camps

Camp Funtime

Special Recreation Services of Northern Lake County (SRSNLC) is a cooperative effort between Round Lake, Lindenhurst, Zion and Waukegan Park Districts. SRSNLC provides recreational programs for people who need specialized assistance not provided in regular park district programs. Camp Funtime is fun for the little camper.

Camp activities will be based on thematic units and will include games, sports, crafts, field trips and more. Camp is for ages 3-6 and runs Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

Session 3 will run from July 8-19. There will be no camp July 4.

POLICE BEAT

LAKE VILLA

Aggravated assault

Kevin D. Reed, 17, a resident at Allendale on Offield Road in Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 17, at 5 p.m., after threatening a police officer. Police were at Fairfield Road south of Grand, in response to a complaint about a youth jumping in front of cars in the road. Police recognized Reed from previous incidents. The youth swore at police officers as he moved away from them. Police approached, and at a distance of 4-6 feet, observed a knife in Reed's hand. Reed threatened to kill the officer, who drew his weapon and ordered Reed to drop the knife. Reed dropped two knives. Reed, who had also pulled a false alarm before leaving the Allendale campus, is now old enough to be charged as an adult. The State's Attorney's office approved charges for aggravated assault and disorderly conduct/false alarm. The false alarm charge is a class 4 felony. Reed was turned over to the Lake County Jail pending bond hearing.

Possession of cannabis

Daniel J. Wurster, 18, of 18647 W. Lazy Acre Rd., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on June 20, at 1:28 a.m., while driving westbound on Route 132 near Route 83. A police officer, traveling eastbound on Route 132, observed Wurster heading west from the east side of Grass Lake Road, at a rate of 70 mph in a 45-mph zone. When the drier entered the Lake Villa jurisdiction, the officer u-turned and followed the alleged speeder, then paced at 65 mph in a 40-mph zone. Approaching the car, the officer detected an odor of cannabis. After receiving permission to do a pat-down search, the officer found a glass "pot pipe" with a resin in it. In the center console, police found several plastic bags of a leafy substance. Police also found a box containing a partially smoked cigar, stuffed with cannabis. The leafy substances filed tested positive for THC, the active ingredient in cannabis. The total weight of the contents of 10 small plastic bags was 61.47 grams.

Wurster had $220 in currency on his person. He said the cannabis was for his own use, and the bags were a way of attempting to ration his use.

He was charged with speeding, possession of more than 30 grams of cannabis, delivery of more than 30 grams of cannabis and possession of drug equipment. The car, a 1996 Pontiac Firebird, and the cash were taken into custody pending possible seizure.

He was turned over to the Lake County Jail pending a bond court hearing.

Found articles

Lake Villa Police found a camera, car keys and a hat at Lehmann Park on June 23 at 6:16 a.m. The items were apparently left behind after the concert and fireworks display on the evening of June 22.

Geese cause minor accident

While driving westbound on Petite Lake Road, Ted Nielsen swerved to avoid colliding with a car that stopped unexpectedly in traffic. The car in front of Nielsen had stopped to avoid hitting two geese walking in the middle of the road. One goose was already dead on the side of the road, according to police drawings of the accident scene. Nielsen struck some trees and brushed along the shoulder, coming to a stop in front of the car he was avoiding. There were no injuries. The car was damaged on the passenger side, but was drive-able. Neither the other driver nor the geese were reported injured.

Malicious mischief

Lake Villa Police received a report that the driveway, yard and garage of a house on Arapaho Trail had been pelted with eggs. The incident was reported on June 21 at 6:41 p.m., but is assumed to have taken place sometime the night before. The homeowner's daughter said she saw the eggs on the driveway at 11 p.m. on June 20, when she was waling the family dog. Although a neighborhood juvenile is suspected, there is no evidence at this time.

LINDENHURST

Failure to report accident

Daniel E. Emskamp, 19, of 2013 Fairfield, Lindenhurst, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on June 17, at 3:07 a.m. following an accident near Countryside Lane. A homeowner on countryside reported to police that he was awakened by the sound of squealing tires and a crash. Looking out of his window, he saw a car stuck in the trees, rocking back and forth in an attempt to get free. The car got loose and took off. The witness reported the incident to police, who located the driver. They found his car, with airbags deployed and with damage to the windshield, undercarriage and front-end. Emskamp failed four of four field sobriety tests, and breath test yielded a result of .135 BAC. He was charged with improper turning, DUI, DUI over .08 BAC, consumption of alcohol by a minor and failure to report an accident involving property damage. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on July 9, at 9 a.m.

Possession of cannabis

Leroy Chapman Jr., 37, of 64 Balsam Ave., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on June 20, at 6:11 a.m., while driving on Route 132 near Emerald Lane. Police observed him driving with objects hanging from his mirror, obstructing the windshield. When he was stopped, police detected an odor of cannabis in the car. The driver had no license, and produced an expired insurance card for a different vehicle. Antioch Police Dispatch advised that his license had expired in Dec. 2001. Police found a green leafy substance in the car door, and seeds and stems on the floor. The leafy substance field-tested positive for THC, the active ingredient in cannabis. The total weight was less than 2.5 grams. Chapman was charged with obstructing the windshield, driving with an expired license, driving an uninsured motor vehicle and possession of cannabis. He was released on a $2,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Aug. 7, at 9 a.m.

Fireworks confiscated

plaint of "gunshots" at Elmwood and Hazelwood, confiscated several boxes of illegal fireworks. A Chicago man was found setting off the fireworks. He was advised of the local ordinances and the devices were confiscated, but the man was not charged. The inventory included a box of artillery shells, a "super" artillery shell, two "Saturn" missiles, four "chicken-shaped" fireworks and other fireworks.

Consumption of alcohol by a minor

Shaun D. Goedekke, 20, of 133 Hillshire Court, Barrington, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on June 22, at 12:41 a.m., while driving on Route 132 near Route 45. He was charged with speeding and illegal consumption of alcohol by a minor. He was released on $75 cash bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Aug. 7, at 9 a.m.

ANTIOCH

DUI

Arvid G. Pavels, of 8358 106th St., Milwaukee, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on June 18 at 11:53 p.m. on Rte. 173 at Grimm Rd.

Police locked his vehicle traveling 64 mph in a posted 45-mph zone and failed to dim the headlights as he passed the officer. The officer turned around to follow Pavels when he abruptly stopped the vehicle at Deep Lake Rd. with a green signal and turned left from the eastbound lane.

Pavels reportedly "stumbled" out of the car and gave the officer a valid Wisconsin driver's license. The strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on Pavels' breath at this time. He failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued a citation for DUI. Pavels agreed to chemical testing with his blood alcohol concentration testing at .165, slightly more than double the legal limit.

Pavels was given additional citations for speeding, DUI over .08, improper turn, no rear registration plate light and failure to dim headlights. He was released on personal recognizance pending his July 16 court date.

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

June 28-July 4, 2002

By DENYS BUCKSTEN • Staff Reporter

Americans' well-known love of household pets, in a cold, impersonal world, increasingly has them providing financially for the future welfare of cats and dogs taken in by area shelters.

In Lake County, Save-A-Pet, a no-kill shelter in rural Grayslake, and Orphans of the Storm, in Riverwoods, are literally the last hopes for stray, abandoned, abused and neglected dogs and cats in Lake and Northern Cook counties.

In order to keep animals sheltered, fed, exercised, emotionally nurtured and medically sound, hard-working shelter staffs and selfless volunteers perform the Herculean tasks of caring for animals, which are often physically and emotionally scarred.

But the financial reality of saving hundreds of homeless cats and dogs from euthanasia means that Save-A-Pet has an operating budget of nearly $900,000 annually, for its 120 cats and 120 dogs; and Orphans a budget of about $1 million, for between 350 to 400 cats and 160-190 dogs.

Save-A-Pet, which re-located from crowded quarters in Palatine, to a new facility on Fairfield Road in Grayslake in 1996, is celebrating its 30th year this summer.

Orphans, founded by celebrity dancer Irene Castle, has cared for unwanted animals since 1928. Upon Castle's death in 1969, Orphans turned to acclaimed animal activist Thelma Zwirner to run the shelter, and upon her death in 1994, her son, Richard Zwirner, an attorney and businessman who had served on Orphan's board for over 20 years, became president.

Animal shelter operating budgets have scant wiggle room to meet even the simplest capital improvement expenses, from replacing the accelerated erosion of cement floors, through daily high-pressure water cleaning procedures, to repairing aging roofs, replacing furnaces and creating extra space.

And as shelter administrators will tell you, bequests are a bit like winning the lottery: A large, six-figure payout can't be predicted or planned for, but when one comes in, it's like Christmas.

Save-A-Pet last year received a $600,000 bequest from the estate of a Highland Park woman, who had no living relatives.

Dominique Allion, president of Save-A-Pet's board of directors, said "In the past we've had a couple of pretty large ones, like one about five or six years ago for between $250,000 and $300,000. But last year's, for $600,000, was certainly put to good use."

Although shelters say they are loathe to "push" for people to bequest money in their wills, Save-A-Pet's newsletters for years have run little blurbs, reminding people that they can leave money to the shelter in their wills, and can use the not-for-profit's "EIN number" to identify it in a legal document.

"We are not very pushy," said Allion, while admitting that the alternative, aggressive fund-raising is a drain on a shelter's administrators and volunteers. "Fund-raising is very hard and time consuming," said Allion. We organize different events throughout the year. Our next fund-raising walk is Sept. 22 at the Old School Forest Preserve in Libertyville."

Although with an aging population, there is no shortage of people passing, Allion points out that "now we have twice as many animal organizations, so the pool of money is being split many ways.

"We're told that every three or four years the donor base has to be renewed. People move, are divorced and they reallocate their sources. Fund-raising is something where you're never done."

Some fund raising is becoming painless as visitors to the agencies' web sites can pick up all kinds of information.

Save-A-Pet is at www.save-a-pet-il.org. Orphans is at Orphansofthestorm.org. The latter site has numerous links, including a "virtual tour" of the facility, complete with photographs.

Richard Zwirner, who like his mother, has devoted his adult life to the welfare of the animals in Orphans' care, said their long-term funding strategy has been tied strongly into the shelter's good name and reputation for integrity.

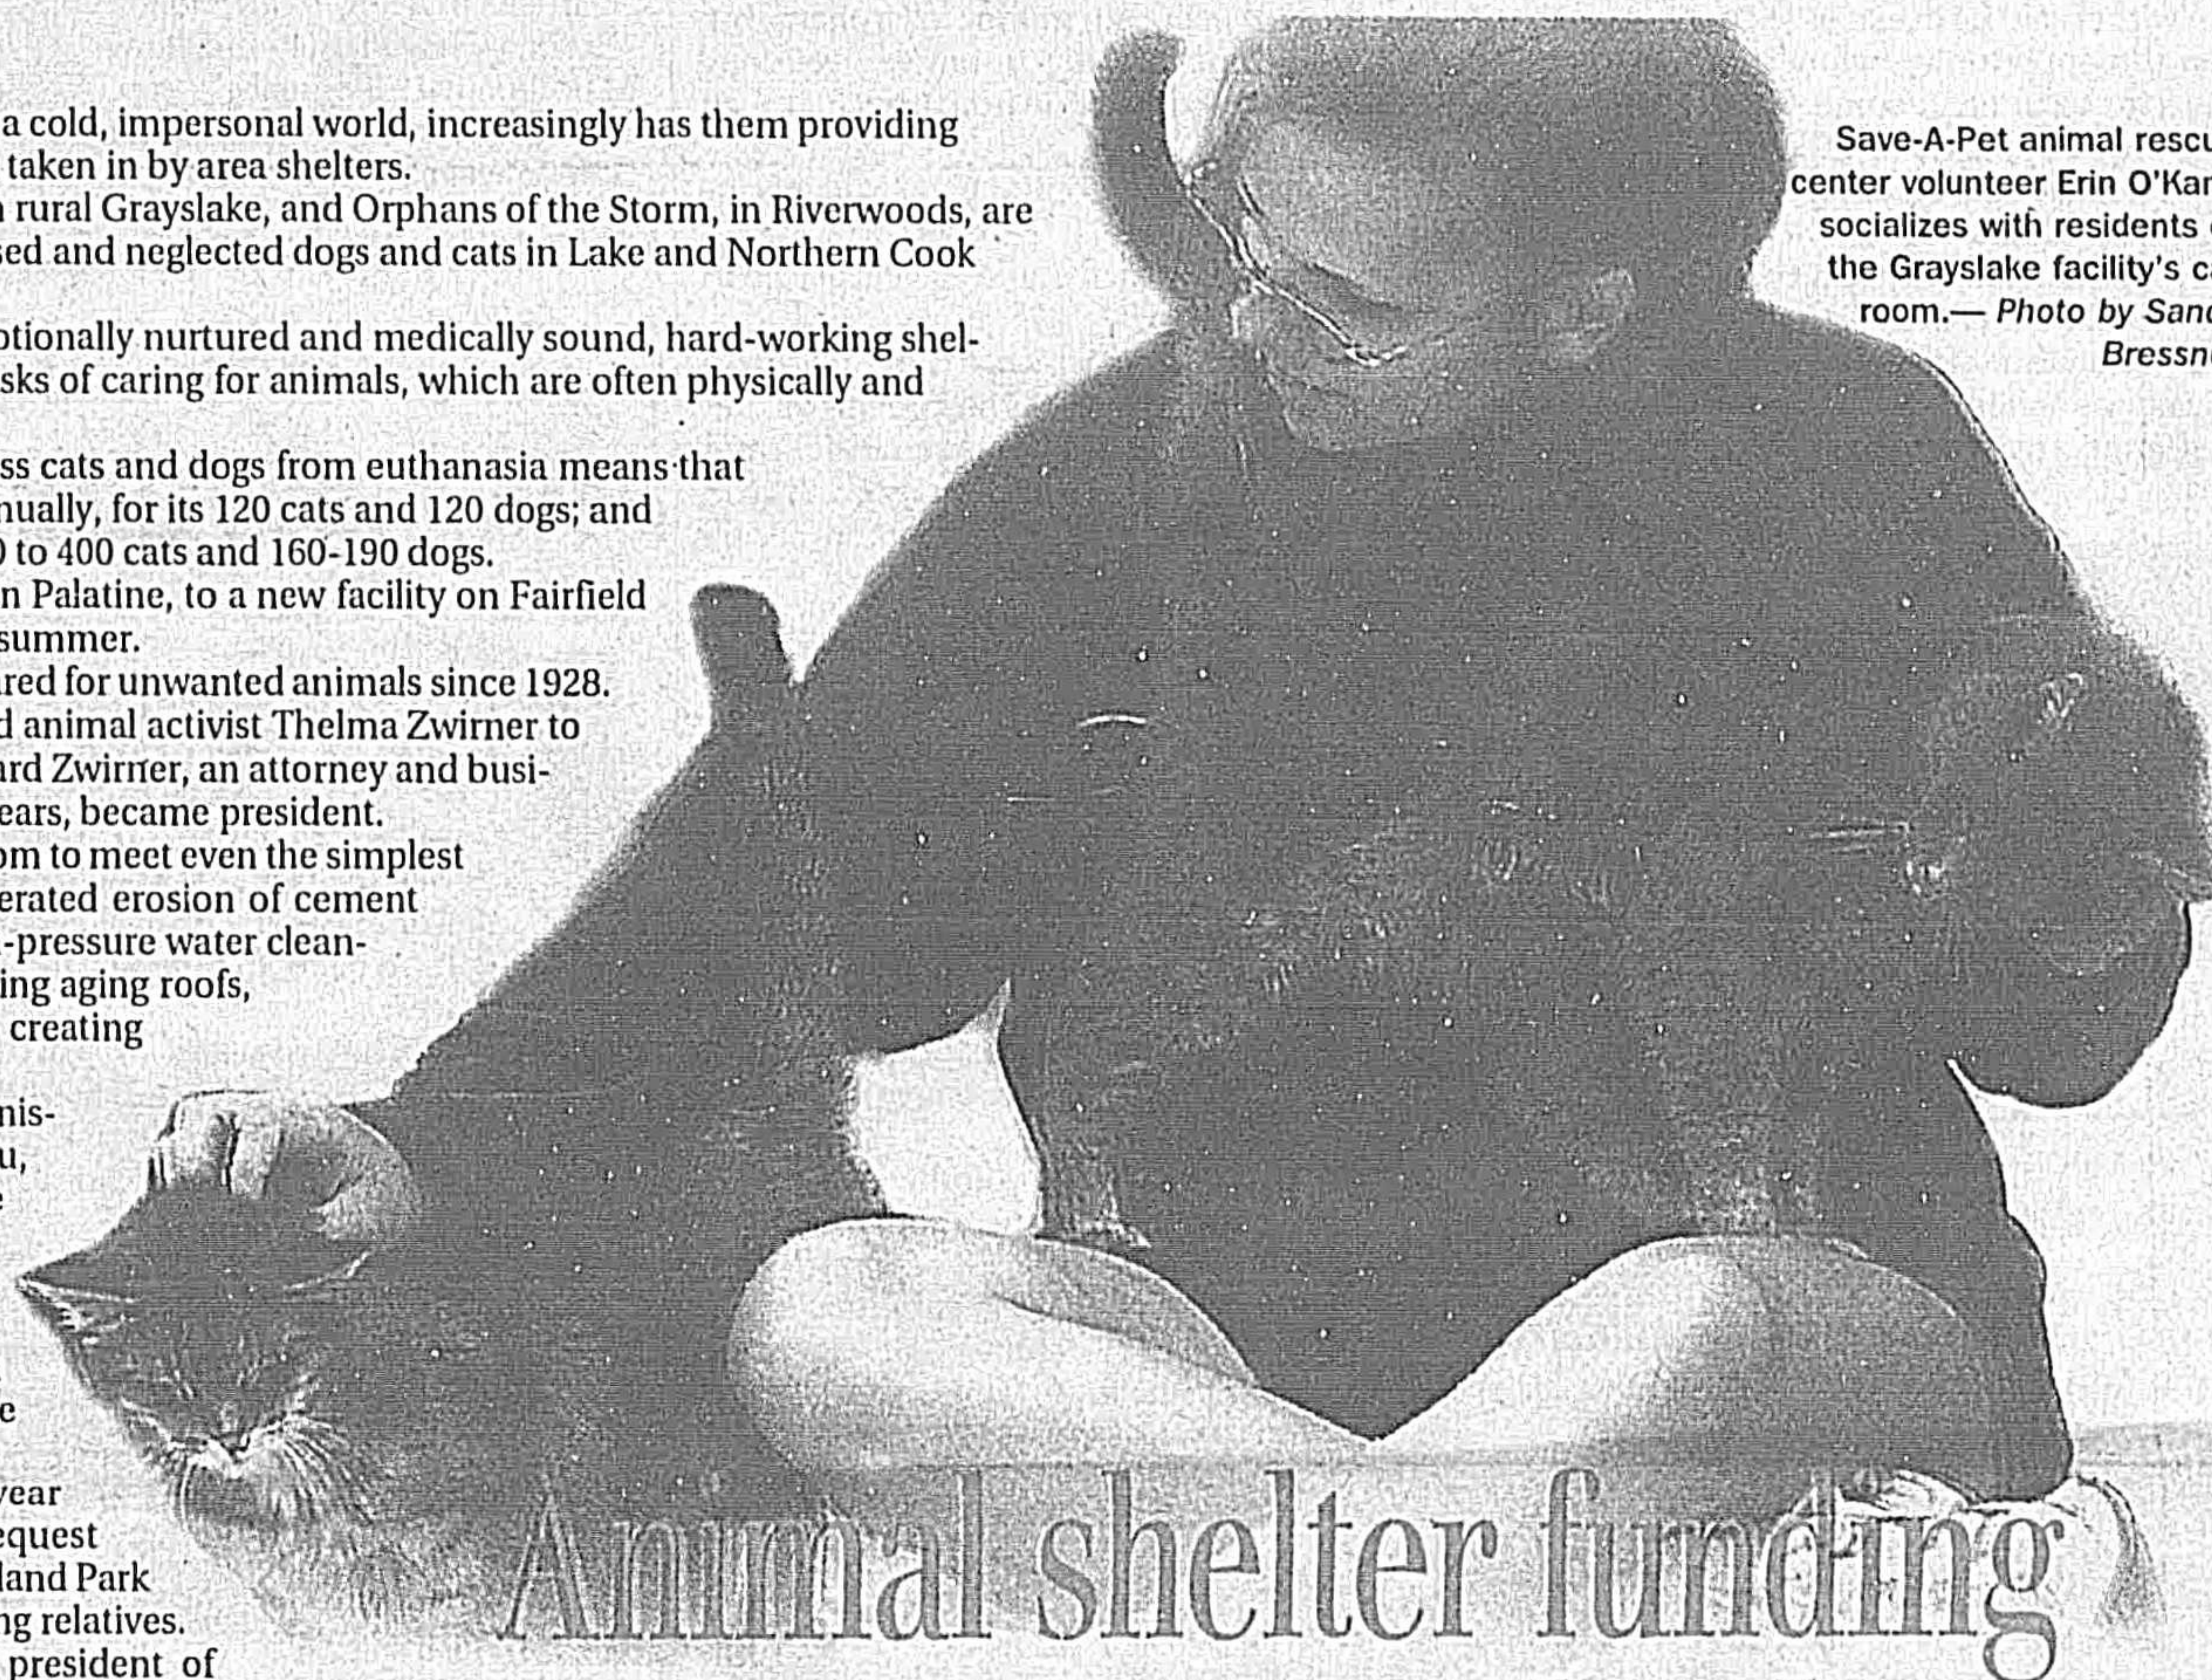

For example, in an analysis four years ago of some 40 not-for-profit agencies in Deerfield Township, Orphans had one of the highest percentages of its budget, 93, spent on the actual charitable program. Conversely, Orphans had one of the very lowest percentages, 7, spent on management and general expenses, according to figures from the Illinois Attorney General's office.

Zwirner said Orphans, which is 100 percent privately funded, derives funding from four major areas: semi-annual solicitation letters; adoption fees and charges to municipalities for taking their animals; a "small investment portfolio"; and monies from bequests, trusts and insurance settlements.

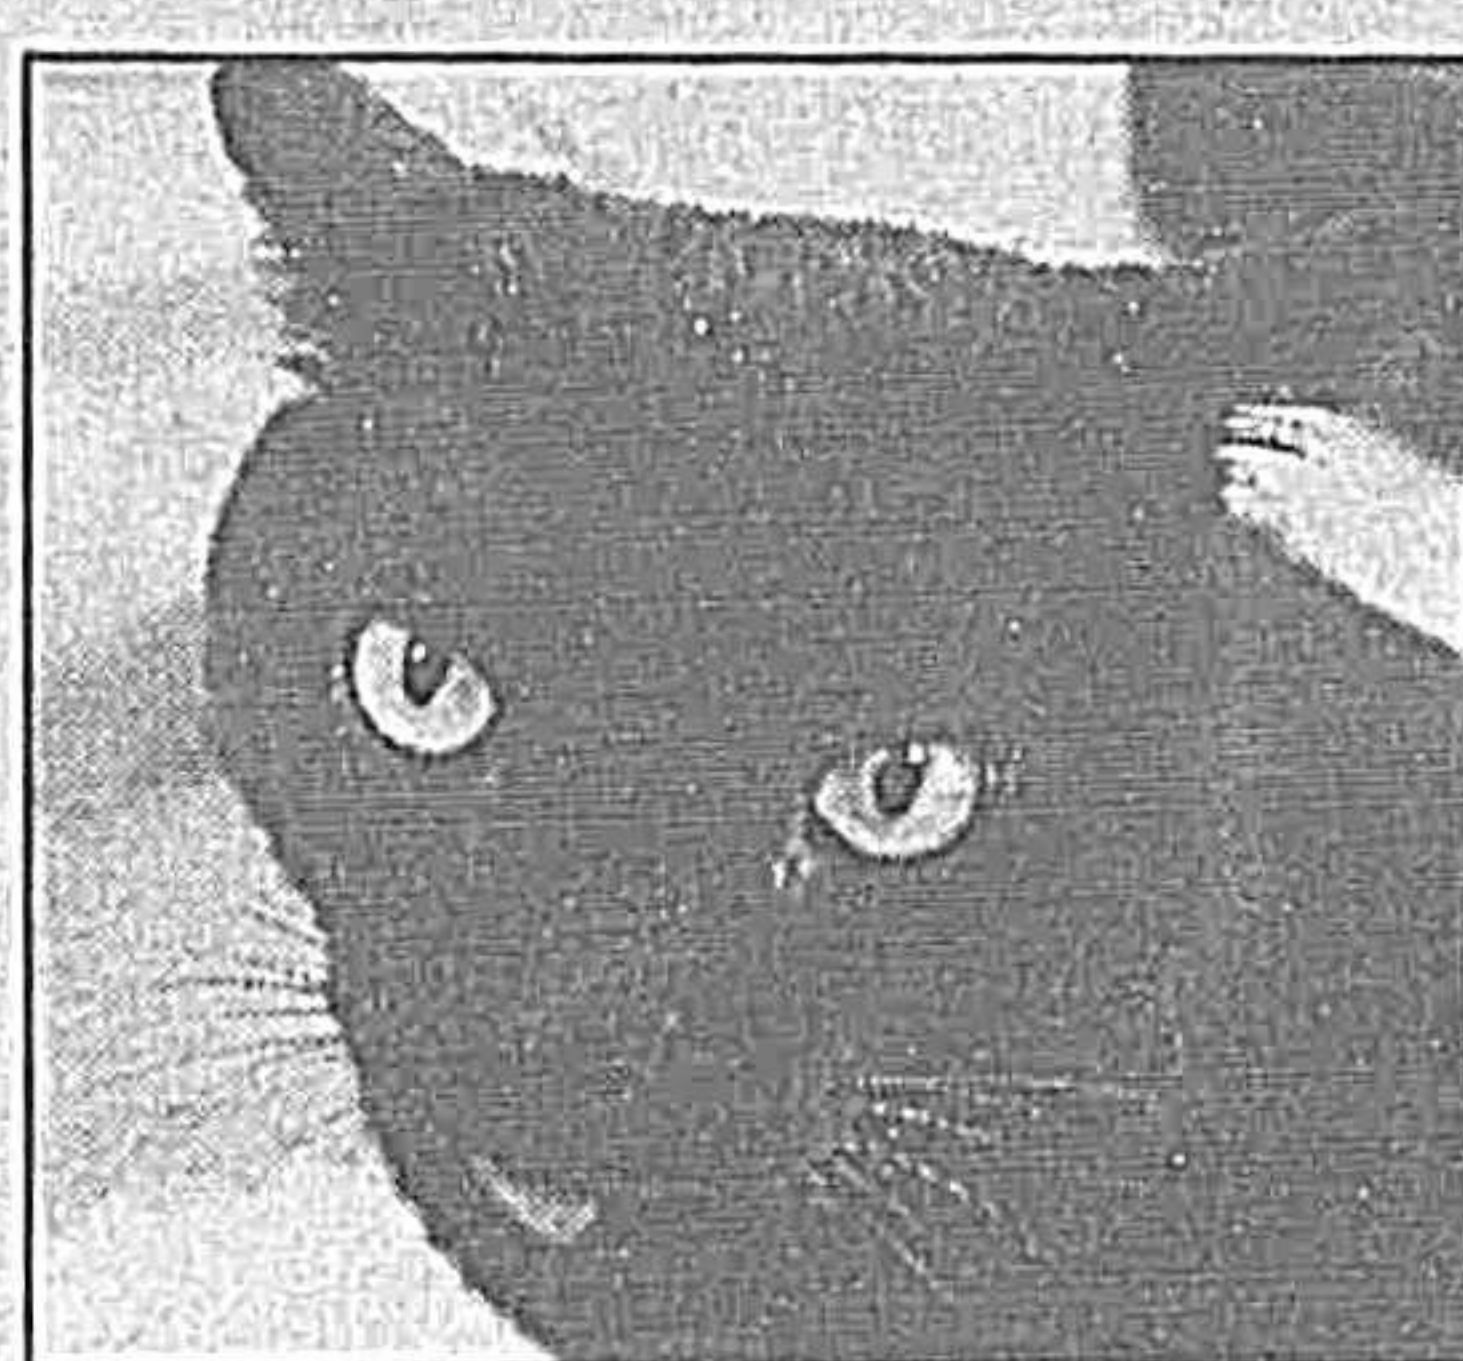

"The last one is a very important one," said Zwirner. "Without it we wouldn't survive. In many years it's our major source of revenue. Depending on the year, bequests have supplied between 10 and 40 percent of our operating revenues."

Zwirner said he doesn't seek out people to convince them to bequeath money to Orphans, but given the opportunity before a receptive audience, "I will tell people that if they've lived long enough to accumulate some wealth, and they've enjoyed the love and affection from a pet for much of their lives, to please consider us in their wills."

"I'm suggesting that they leave us 10 percent of their (estate) to let us continue the work of caring for animals like theirs."

Nor will Zwirner use what he calls "third-party" collection modes, such as metal cans placed in businesses, which Save-A-Pet does use with good results.

One new thrust for Orphans is to increase the flow of potential adopters, which in turn would help the agency's bottom line. Dorian Breuer, an Orphans volunteer from Chicago, has been giving talks at Lake County area social and civic organizations, on a mission, said Zwirner, "of general education and information about Orphans. While we're not there to pitch for money, the more people locally who know we're there, the more it will help."

Adult felines, like this black tabby, are in need of adoption at the Save-A-Pet animal shelter in Grayslake.— Photo by Sandy Bressner

For Zwirner, Orphans' largely unspoken appeal to potential financial donors is simply that "people know we love these animals and are compassionate toward them. We're stable and dedicated and we've been here so long. People know they can depend on us."

And as much as money is the lifeblood of the county's two main animal shelters, the "bottom line" for staffers invariably turns out to be measured in the bond between animals and humans.

"I just can't tell you the excitement that goes around the shelter when a long-time resident is adopted out," said Donna Hegge, a long-time Orphans volunteer and secretary at Richard Zwirner's law firm. "That's what everybody is always working for."

Tea party for gardeners

Celebrate the pleasures of gardening at the 15th annual Open House and Tea at Craig Bergmann's Country Garden in Winthrop Harbor, Sunday, June 30 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

Craig Bergmann's Country Garden, the European-styled perennial farm and garden center, celebrates the grand tradition of gardening. There will be free lectures and demonstrations throughout the day on a variety of topics: "Thyme on Your Hands," "Gardens in a Pot," "Beyond Flowers," "Exciting New Plants" and "Low-Maintenance Perennials."

Visitors to Craig Bergmann's Country Garden will also want to take the opportunity to stroll through the five beautiful demonstration gardens, which will be at their blooming best: the Sun Garden; the Rose and Herb Garden; the Rock Garden; the Shade Garden and the Autumn Garden. There they will find a wealth of gardening ideas and techniques for translating to their own gardens and landscapes.

Whether an old friend or new, a master gardener or a budding enthusiast, come celebrate the joys of gardening at the Country Garden. Complimentary tea and cookies will be served.

About an hour's drive north of Chicago, Craig Bergmann's Country Garden is located at 700 Kenosha Rd. For more information call 847-746-0311.

Brookfield Zoo celebrates

Lucky and Hastings homecoming

Lucky and Hastings, two male Atlantic bottlenose dolphins who have lived at Brookfield Zoo in the past, returned this week from Lisbon, Portugal, where they have been on breeding loan since 1995.

The two males are working on husbandry and veterinary care behaviors with Brookfield Zoo trainers. Both have significant abilities, which will be showcased for visitors during scheduled shows.

The dolphins flew from Lisbon to Chicago O'Hare in specially designed and constructed water-tight cradles, enabling them to remain partially submerged in water with their weight supported to ensure their safety. Two Brookfield Zoo veterinarians and three marine mammal trainers accompanied them.

The move is part of a program of planned animal transfers to continue to mix the gene pool of dolphins at various institutions around the world.

"While in Lisbon, Lucky and Hastings successfully bred three females," Pruett-Jones said. "We hope their success will continue here at Brookfield Zoo. They have not yet had offspring in North America, and the addition of their bloodlines will help promote genetic diversity within the zoo and aquarium dolphin population."

Brookfield Zoo is located off First Avenue between the Stevenson (I-55) and Eisenhower (I-290) expressways, just 14 miles west of downtown Chicago. For more information, visit the zoo's web site at www.BrookfieldZoo.org.

Sound advice on pairing wine, food

Food and wine are a natural pairing, though finding the right match can sometimes be a hit-or-miss proposition.

A new book, "Dean & DeLuca: The Food and Wine Cookbook" (Chronicle Books, 2002) by Jeff Morgan, takes some of the guesswork out of the equation. Morgan, wine director for the New York-based gourmet food emporium, provides more than 80 intriguing recipes (from wild mushroom ragout to chile-pecan chicken breasts with honey mustard glaze to caviar soufflé) along with suggestions on appropriate wines to accompany them.

Granted, some are a little involved, like grilled quail with roasted fennel, leeks, thyme, shiitakes and pomegranate molasses. But some, like Coconut Shrimp (adapted recipe below) are straightforward to prepare and tasty to eat. The only ingredient we substituted was Italian bread crumbs for the called-for panko (Japanese bread crumbs).

With this dish, Morgan recommends a crisp, cool sparkling wine and also suggests that fruity Riesling Viognier or Sauvignon Blanc works well.

Coconut Shrimp

1/3 cup curry powder
3/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 3/4 tsp. salt
3 large eggs
1/3 cup heavy cream
1 1/4 cups unsweetened shredded coconut

1 1/2 cups bread crumbs
1/4 tsp. cayenne powder
1 tsp. dried dill
1 lb. large shrimp (14 to 18 per pound), shelled and deveined
Canola or grapeseed oil for deep-frying

In a shallow bowl, mix the curry powder, flour and salt together. In another shallow bowl, whisk the eggs and cream together. In a third bowl, combine the coconut, bread crumbs, cayenne and dill.

Dredge four shrimp in the flour mixture, then dip them in the egg mixture and coat them in the coconut mixture. Dip them again into the egg mixture and coat one more time in the coconut mixture. In a Dutch oven, heavy skillet or deep fryer, heat 1 to 2 inches oil to 375 degrees F. Deep-fry the shrimp in batches until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Using a slotted spoon, transfer to paper towels to drain.

Serve hot or at room temperature. (Serves four to six as an appetizer.)

Variation:

To add a little more heat to these shrimp, serve a spicy dipping sauce alongside by whisking 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper into 1 cup mayonnaise.

SPECIAL EVENT

Titanic resurfaces

Get your boarding pass and get ready to discover never-before-seen artifacts and experiences when Sears presents "Titanic: The New Exhibition", opening on July 1, for a limited engagement at the Museum of Science and Industry. Guests will be brought back in time through sights, smells, sounds and powerful accounts from the famed luxury liner. They'll behold fascinating artifacts from the grand staircase, a hand-written letter and other personal possessions belonging to passengers and crew. "Titanic: The New Exhibition" also will include recreations of the ship's verandah café, the promenade deck and the ship bridge.

Guests will get another chance to come face-to-face with the "big piece," a 15-ton portion of Titanic's hull—the largest piece of Titanic ever recovered. Also returning is the stunning recreation of the ship's grand staircase.

As guests walk through the exhibit, they will have the opportunity to meet Titanic passengers and discover their unforgettable stories. In the second-class cabin and gallery, guests will hear the untold story of Marion Meanwell. According to Mrs. Meanwell's boarding pass, she was originally scheduled to set sail to New York aboard the Majestic. But due to fateful scheduling, the word "Majestic" was scratched out on the boarding pass and replaced with "Titanic." The story of Howard Irwin will welcome guests to the third-class cabin. Interestingly, Howard Irwin's possessions made it into the cargo hold, but he was running late and never boarded the doomed ship.

Encounter poignant sights and sounds on the promenade deck where guests will experience what it was like for Titanic passengers and crew who were lost and saved.

The Museum is located at 57th Street and Lake Shore Dr. in Chicago. General admission is $9 for adults, $7.50 for seniors and $5 for children ages 3-11. "Titanic: The New Exhibition" has an additional exhibit fee of $10 for adults and $8 for children under 12. For more information, call 773-684-1414 or visit the web site at www.msichicago.org.

FAMILY FUN

Touch a dinosaur

Travel to the land of dinosaurs at the Milwaukee Public Museum, 800 W. Wells St. in Milwaukee, Wis. from June 29-July 1. Touch the horn of a real Triceratops. Make a plaster cast of a trilobite. Compete in the Dinosaur Olympics against an Ankylosaurus and a Compsognathus. At the IMAX Theater "Ring of Fire" is playing. For more information, call 414-278-2702.

Our heritage

The Historical Society of The Fort Hill Country invites you to attend the Annual Patriotic Program at the Fort Hill Heritage Museum, 601 E. Noel Drive (Lions Park), in Mundelein on Saturday, June 29 at 9:45 a.m. The barber shop quartet, "Senior Moments" and the Antioch Brass Quintet will entertain you. A blacksmith will be on the ground giving demonstrations. The museum is open for tours from 11:30 a.m.-4 p.m. and also on July 1, 2, 3, and 6 from 1-4 p.m.

CHILD CARE

Wanted

Bright Beginnings Family Day Care Network is looking for nurturing, responsible, creative individuals who would like to start their own business while staying at home with their children. If you live in Lake County and would like assistance in getting licensed, ongoing ethical assistance, and child referrals this program is for you. For more information, call Terysa Miler at 847-245-6575.

YOUTH

Junior ecologists

Join us on Wednesday, July 3, 10, 17, 24 from 12:30-2:30 p.m. and focus on a different aspect of nature while exploring the biodiversity of Volo Bog State Natural Area. Included each day may be crafts, hikes, songs, games and other activities. A theme snack is also a part of the fun! Participants may sign up for one or more of the programs as each may stand alone. Prizes will be given to those who attend all four days! Open to kids ages 7-11; parent participation is optional. Reservations are required; phone 815-344-1294.

SEMINAR

Chronic pain

Women's Physical Therapy Institute (WPTI), 755 Ela Rd. in Lake Zurich is hosting a one-hour seminar on "Chronic Ankle Problems" on June 27 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Speakers will be Dr. David Charnota, podiatrist and Chris Streed, PT, MHS, OCS. They will be discussing practical ways to deal with reoccurring and annoying ankle sprains and other ankle problems. Everyone is welcomed.

Cost for the seminar is $5. Seating is limited so please call to reserve a place at 847-550-9784.

NATURE

Running rivers

Get the scoop on the Nippersink Creek when the McHenry County Conservation District celebrates National Rivers Appreciation Month. An afternoon of exploring the science and the site of creek restoration projects is planned during the District's "Celebrating Our Streams: Putting the Creek to Bed" event June 29 from 1-4 p.m. at Glacial Park, in Ringwood.

Participants must be at least eight years old; children under 14 must be accompanied by an adult. Registration is required by calling 815-479-5779.

THEATER

Evening enjoyment

The Illinois Chapter of Huntington's Disease Society invites you to join them Sunday, June 30 at the Drury Lane Theater, 1 Drury Lane in Oak Brook, for an evening of great entertainment as they see the all-time favorite "Joseph & The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." The evening also includes dinner and a silent auction.

SINGERS

Females wanted

Riverport Chorus invites all female singers to come and sing with us for the summer. There is no obligation to join, no dues to pay. If you're a teacher, a college student, or just a lady who'd like to try something new, we're waiting for you.

We'll provide the music, learning tapes for our songs and give you some free music lessons. We hope to do a show in August.

We rehearse each Monday at Bristol School, 20121 83rd St. in Bristol, Wis. from 7-9:30 p.m. If you would like more information call 262-859-2343 or 414-761-1463 or visit our web site at www.riverporchorus.org.

CAR SHOW

Cruizin'

The Kroozers on Northern Illinois Car Club is holding their 11th annual "Fun Run" car show event on June 30. This event will be held between 8 a.m.-3 p.m. on the ground of Veterans Memorial Park in Fox Lake, which is located off Rte. 59 between Rollins Road and Rte. 132. Pre-registration is $10. Registration on the day of the event is $12. All gate receipts go to charity. Spectators are free.

There will be food, dash plaques to the first 200 cars, trophies, smoking tire, slow drag and muffler rapping contests. There will be raffles, kid games and other activities. 3-D Sound will be the DJ for the day.

CONCERTS

Bluegrass

The Special Consensus is a four-person acoustic bluegrass band that formed in Chicago in 1975. The band's repertoire features traditional bluegrass standards, original compositions by band members and songs from other genres performed in the bluegrass format.

Prairie Crossing Community is located in Grayslake, one-half mile south of Rte. 120 on the west side of Rte. 45. Enter at the light of Jones Point Rd; turn left on Prairie Trail Rd and three blocks to the gazebo on the left.

Bring chairs, food and beverages. For more information call 847-542-1202.

Concert on the green

The Lake Forest Symphony will be in concert July 4. The gates will open at 4 p.m. on the ground of Deer Path School Campus, 95 W. Deerpath in Lake Forest. Concerts begin at 6:45 p.m. Advanced tickets are $25, children ages 2-12 are $15. For more information call 847-295-2135 or visit the web site at www.lakeforestsymphony.com.

SPECIAL EVENT

Great cats of the world

Now until June 30 from 3-6 p.m. Bass Pro Shop in Gurnee Mills Mall in Gurnee will have The Great Cats of the World Show, a unique attraction featuring great cats from around the world. Feline lovers will have the opportunity to watch the big cats play and frolic and interact with the trainers. The free show is educational and entertaining and focused on the endangered species and the environment we share with them.

Pictures with the big cats will be available to all cat lovers with a $10 donation to help fund the refuge. A tiger swim will be at 4:30 p.m., weather permitting. All this is brought to Bass Pro Shop by Bridgeport Nature Center, a wildlife refuge, dedicated to the care of the big cats and is currently home to more than 65 big cats, many of which have come from abused and mistreated homes.

Union, Confederate forces renew Battle at Lakewood Forest Preserve

The boom of the cannons, the crack of rifle shots and the galloping cavalry hooves will resonate again as Union and Confederate soldiers battle it out in the 11th Annual Civil War Re-enactment at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. Sunday, July 7 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and guided twilight tours of the camps on Saturday, July 6, from 4-8:30 p.m. This exciting family event, sponsored by Lake County Discovery Museum, will transport visitors back to the 1860s with amazing authenticity as they enter the gates of the largest Civil War encampment in Illinois, complete with a battleground where over 750 re-enactors will recreate a Civil War battle.

The weekend's activities kick off on Saturday evening with one-hour re-enactor-led tours, which depart from the museum every 15 minutes, through the camps just as the evening fires are lit. Each stop offers informative and entertaining demonstrations, stories or music. The evening culminates at dusk with a spectacular firing of the cannons, on the battlefield. Ticket cost for the tours are $8 for adults and $4 for youth age 6-17 (the evening tours are not recommended for children age 6 and under), or for Lake County residents, tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for youth. Reservations and pre-payment are required. Please call 847-968-3400 to reserve your spot for this exciting evening.

On Sunday, July 7, Civil War history will vibrantly come to life through on-going performances and demonstrations including military, medical, family life, civilian professions all created with amazing attention to authenticity. Sutlers, Civil War era vendors, will be providing interesting event shopping opportunities. President and Mrs. Lincoln re-enactors will also be attending this year, and President Lincoln will address the crowd. The Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry will all be conducting live drills throughout the day in preparation for the narrated & choreographed full battle re-enactment that will be presented from 2-3 p.m. Admission cost is just $7 for adults and $3 for kids and includes admission to Lake County's award-winning Discovery Museum.

Food services and free parking will be available both Saturday evening and Sunday. Lakewood Forest Preserve is located on Route 176 at Fairfield Road, east of Wauconda. For information please call 847-968-3400.

Teen life jackets at below cost

Along America's waterways, many local school or non-profit groups have a critical need for teen-sized life jackets for on-the-water programs. The BoatU.S. Foundation for Boating Safety & Clean Water has launched a "Teens Afloat Program" to offer community groups teen-sized life jackets at $5 each, two-third's off the usual retail of $15, and free shipping is even included.

These comfortable Type III U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jackets are open-sided vests that can be adjusted for chest sizes of 30 to 52 inches.

Any nonprofit, non-governmental, or volunteer group that demonstrates a continual need for life jackets is eligible to apply for this pilot subsidy program. Selected groups will be able to order life jackets in increments of ten - up to 50 life jackets per local group. Preference for participation will be given to established organizations that will use the life jackets on a regular basis for teen on-the-water programs that incorporate boating safety and clean water education into their programming. The deadline to apply for "Teens Afloat" is July 15, 2002.

The "Teens Afloat" Program is made possible through a grant from the Brunswick Public Foundation and implemented by the BoatU.S. Foundation, a national nonprofit organization that provides resources, education and outreach to promote safe and environmentally sensitive boating. For an application to purchase life jackets or to learn more about the BoatU.S. Foundation's other programs, visit the web site www.BoatUS.com foundation or call 410-897-0514.

Successful launch of Summer First Performing Arts Series

Nearly 1,000 visitors attended the opening weekend of The Morton

Arboretum's 2002 Summer First Performing Arts Series, which combines the pleasures of culture and nature. Ticket holders enjoyed roving, professional theater performances through woodlands and trails during the day and a twilight concert on the manicured lawns of the Thornhill Education Center. Nine more summer performances will uniquely combine culture and entertainment and the Arboretum's stage of woodlands, gardens, trails and lawns.

"The events tap into people's desire to connect with their families and friends. They are excellent for bringing people together," says Bob Noonan, Visitor Services Manager. "Professional arts in a beautiful, natural setting help people enjoy the best of two worlds. And, the diversity of the Arboretum's performing arts entertainment and the value of the activities make it an affordable weekend destination."

Launching the Summer First Performing Arts Series on June 1-2, the Arboretum welcomed guitar virtuoso, Michael J. Miles for a Thornhill Lawn Twilight Concert and Theatre-Hikes for its rousing version of O Henry's short story, "The Ransom of Red Chief." Theatre-Hikes, a professional drama troupe specializing in outdoor drama, brings debut performances to the Arboretum and offers sneak peaks at upcoming shows. Audience participation is often a key ingredient in these performances and viewers enjoy a healthy hike along with first-rate theater.

The series continues this summer with twilight concerts and theatre hikes in July and August. Tentative plans are underway to add both theatre hikes and twilight concerts during the Arboretum's spectacular fall color season. Next performances include:

Thornhill Lawn Concerts (all concerts start at 7 p.m., grounds open for picnics at 6:00 p.m.)

Saturday, July 6, The Ken Saydek Blues Band

Saturday, August 3, The Midway Ramblers Cajun Band

Theatre Hikes (all hikes are from 1 p.m. - 4 p.m.)

Saturday - Sunday, July 6 & 7, Alice in Wonderland

Saturday - Sunday, August 3 & 4, Hiking with Davy Crockett

Saturday - Monday, August 31 - September 2, Love's Labors Lost

Tickets are $10 for each event, ($8 members). For more information check our web site at www.mortonarb.org, or call 630-719-2465 for ticket prices and availability.

CLC presents summer classes for youth

Aspiring young drummers, magicians and outdoor cooks can pursue their interests in classes offered through the College of Lake County's Explore! program.

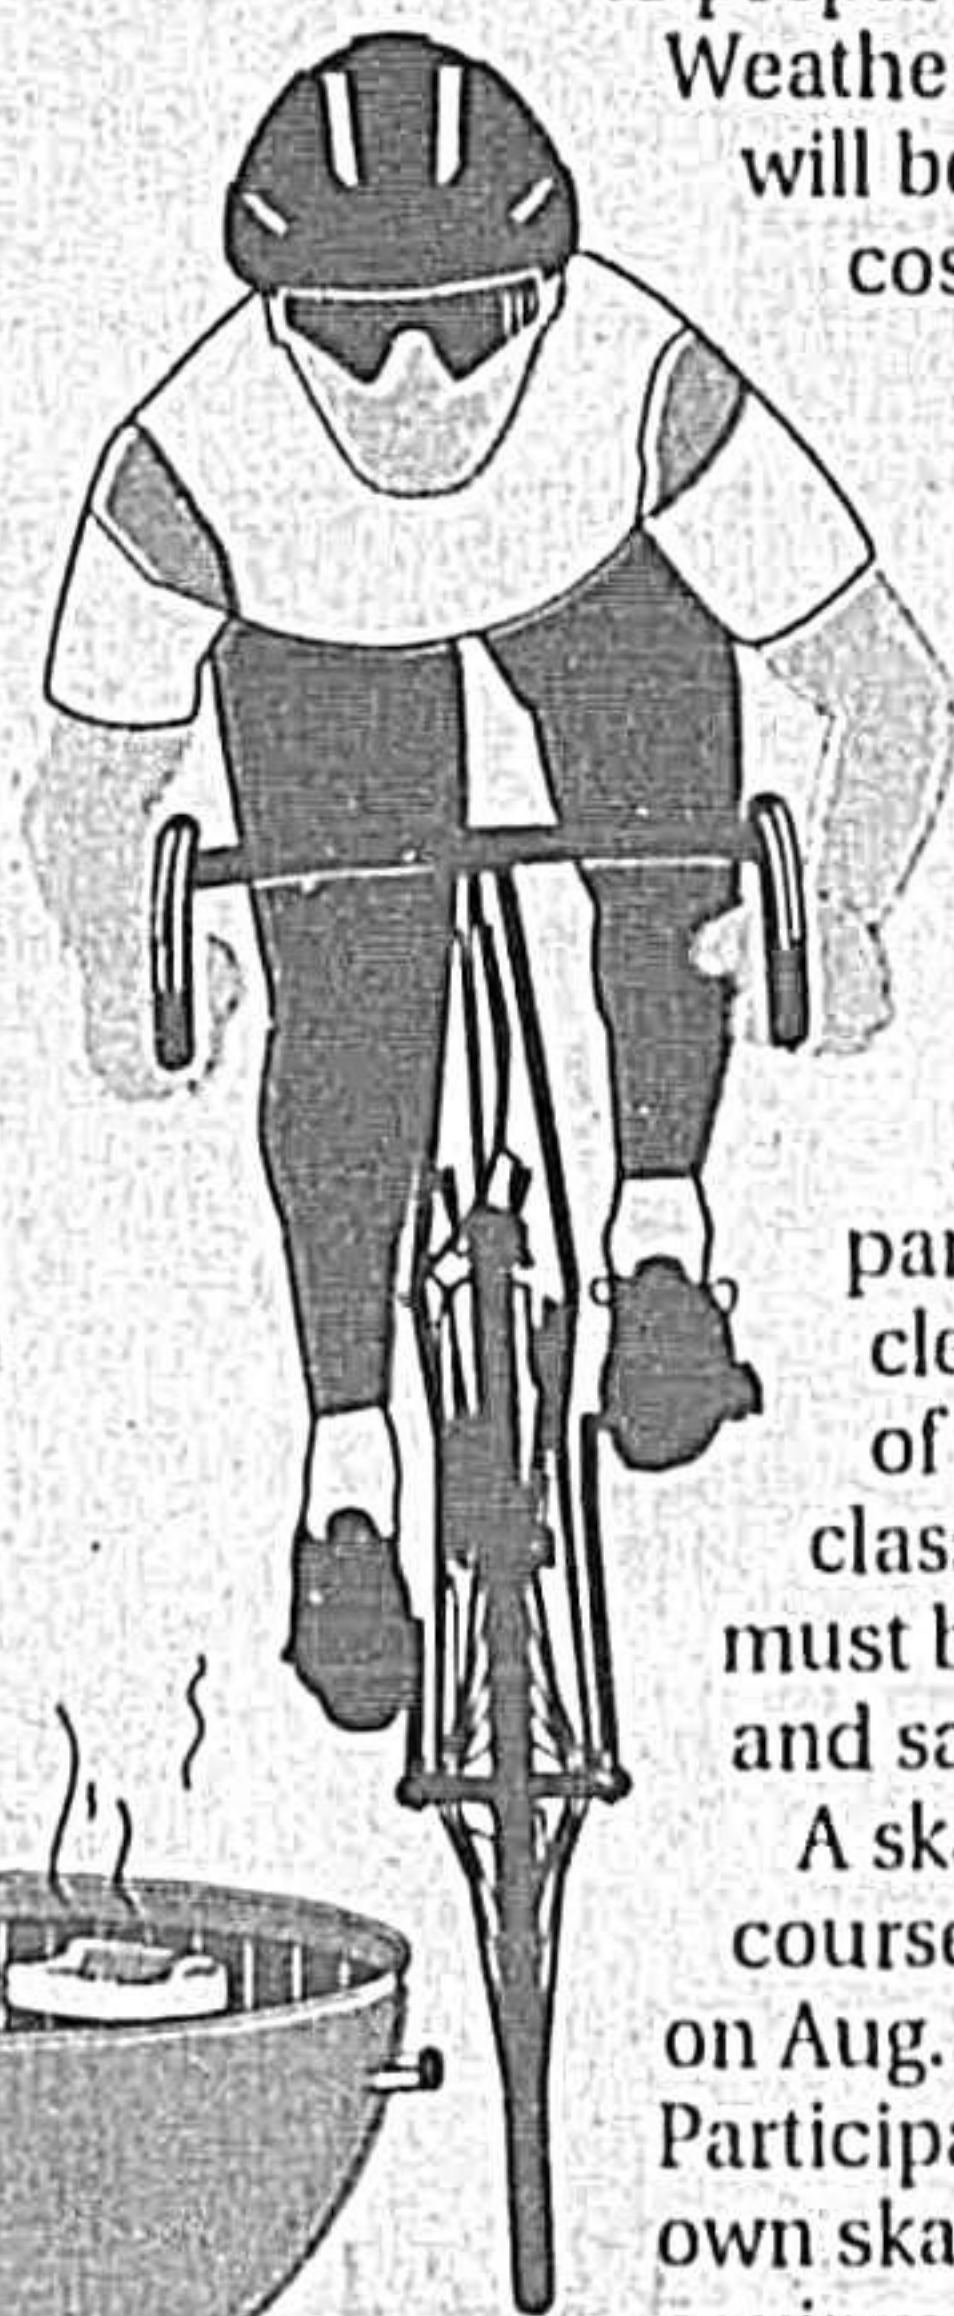

The classes, intended for area junior high school students grades 6 through 8, are sponsored by the Continuing Education Office at CLC.

"Catch the Beat with Drumming," will allow students to experience West African drumming firsthand, as techniques for hand, stick and free form drumming are taught.

The drumming class will be taught from 1-4 p.m., July 13. There is a fee of $30.

On Aug. 10, two programs with special themes will be presented. "Abra Cadabra! The Art of Magic and Illusion" will be presented from 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Professional magician Bill Blagg will share an overview of the history of magic and illusion, along with tricks that can be done using simple household items. The cost of the program is $35. "Cooking with Siggy-A Grill Party!" will be offered from 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m. CLC chef Siegfried Bever will share outdoor grilling secrets, and participants will learn the basics of grilling and how to prepare popular grill foods. Weather permitting, the class will be held outdoors, the cost is $35.

Two safety-related courses also will be offered on Aug. 10. From 9 a.m.-noon, a bicycle safety class will provide safety tips and routine maintenance advice. Each participant will receive a bicycle safety helmet as part of the $30 cost for the class, but participants must bring their own bikes and safety equipment.

A skateboard safety course also will be offered on Aug. 10 from 1-4 p.m. Participants must bring their own skateboards and safety equipment. Safety helmets also will be provided as part of the $30 cost of the class.

The safety classes are being jointly sponsored by Explore! and the Safe Communities Program.

For further information and to register, contact the Continuing Education Office at CLC by calling 847-543-2022.

Explore the nation's best family-friendly attractions

After ten months or so of homework, hectic scheduling and extra-curricular and family obligations, it stands to reason that many families can't wait for summer vacation and the chance to finally relax. However, this time of year holds plenty of its own challenges and opportunities for families. Clinical studies indicate that the weeks prior to summer vacation is a significant time period for families, often when tensions or crises can occur as children wind down the school year and families adjust to being together more often.

Instead of worrying about what to do with the kids for vacation, make the most of your time together by planning family-friendly trips everyone can enjoy.

Hershey Park

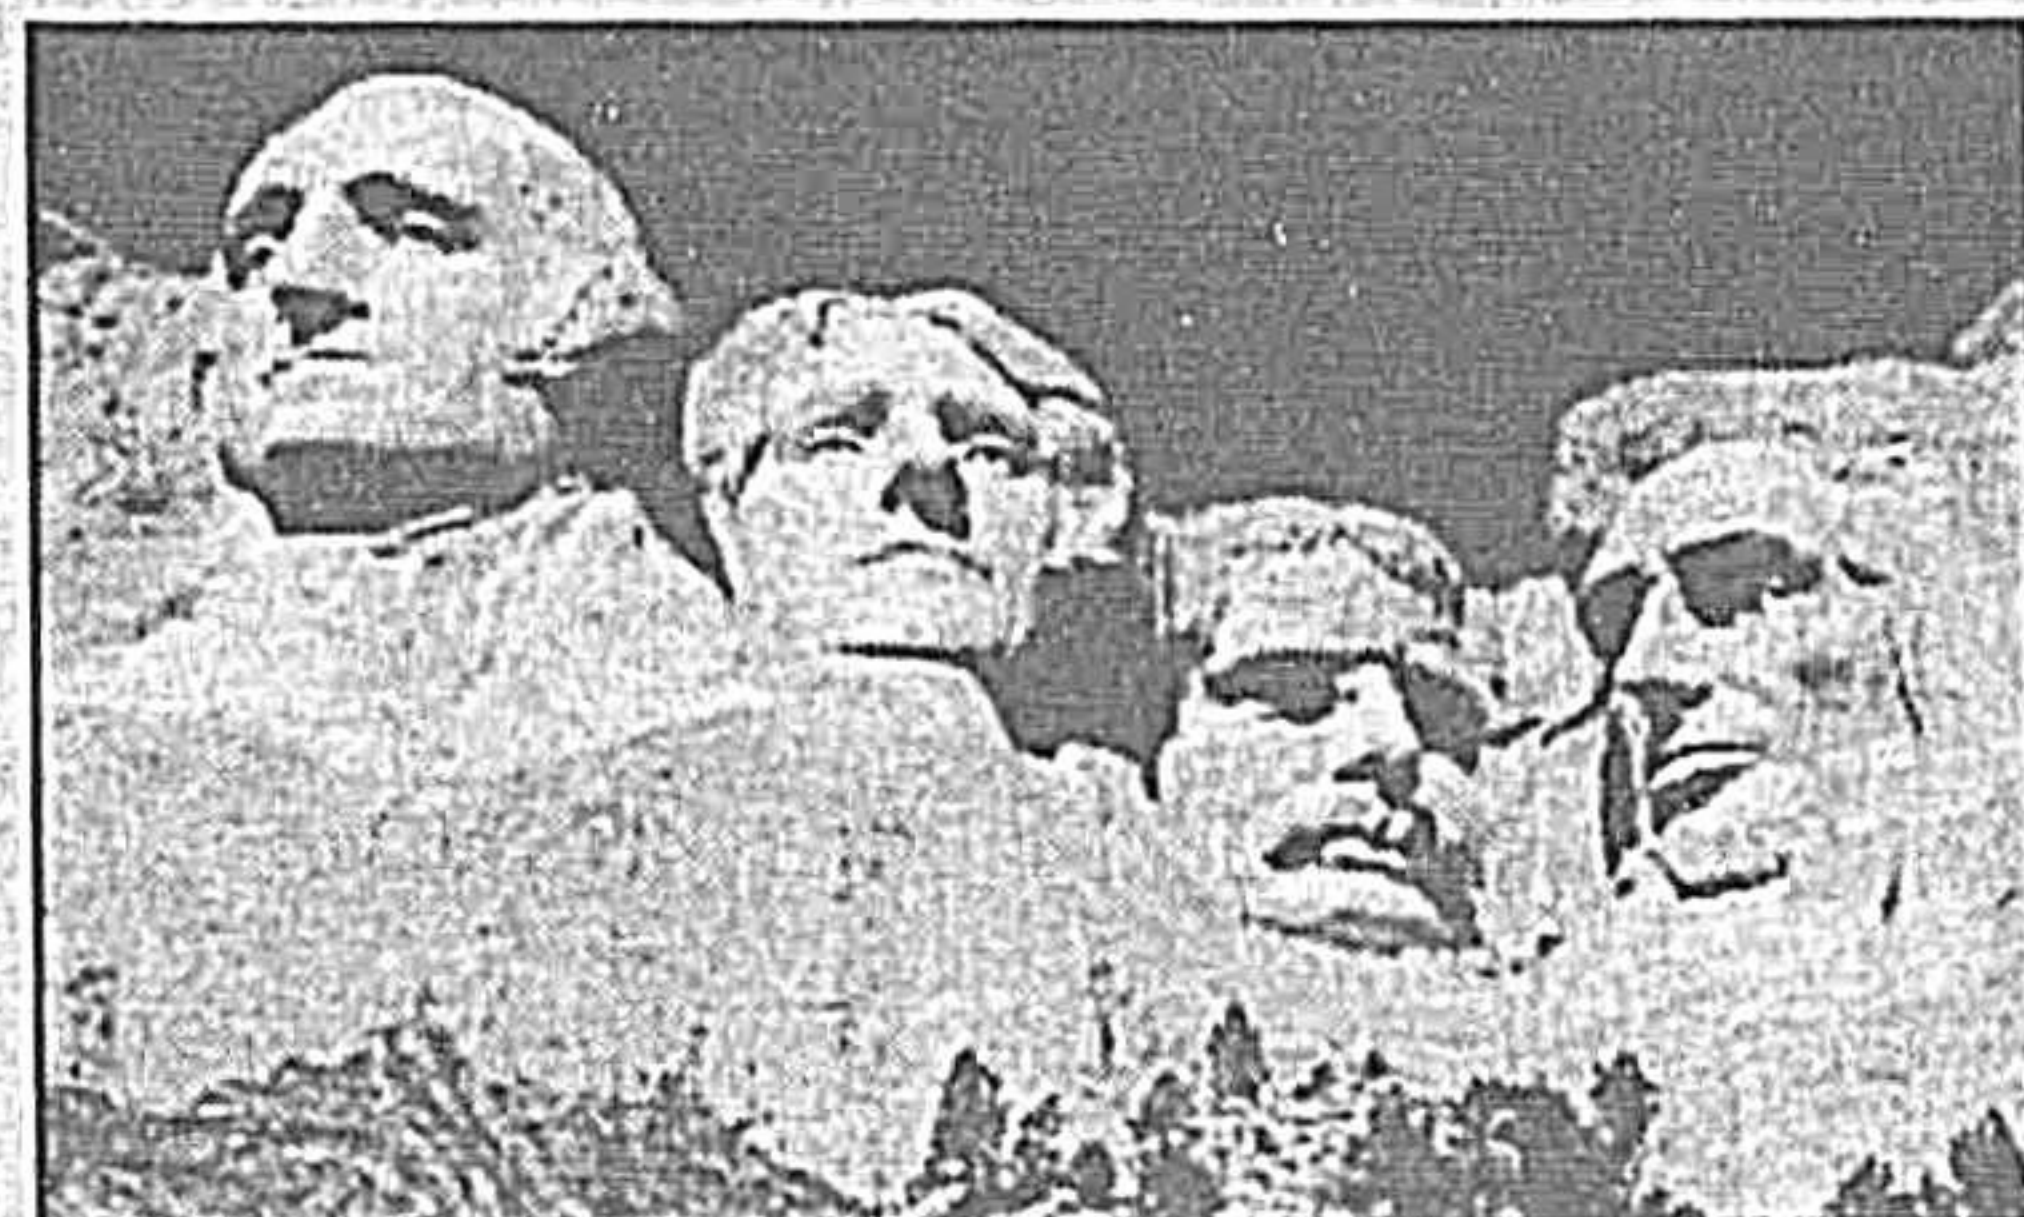

Kick off the summer with these family faves across the United States, courtesy of FamilyFun magazine.

• Hershey Park, Hershey, Pa. — The "sweetest place on earth" boasts more than 50 rides and the Hershey Chocolate factory itself.

• Disneyland, Anaheim, Calif. — This park is always boasting something new, and that may be why it never fails to be a favorite for families.

• Cedar Point, Sandusky, Ohio — This park is a perennial favorite, complete with 68 rides and state-of-the-art roller coasters.

• Southern Maine Coast, Maine — This area has emerged as the new classic beach destination for families. Outdoor concerts, ice-cream shops and a coastline with plenty of tide pools keep kids amused.

Mount Rushmore

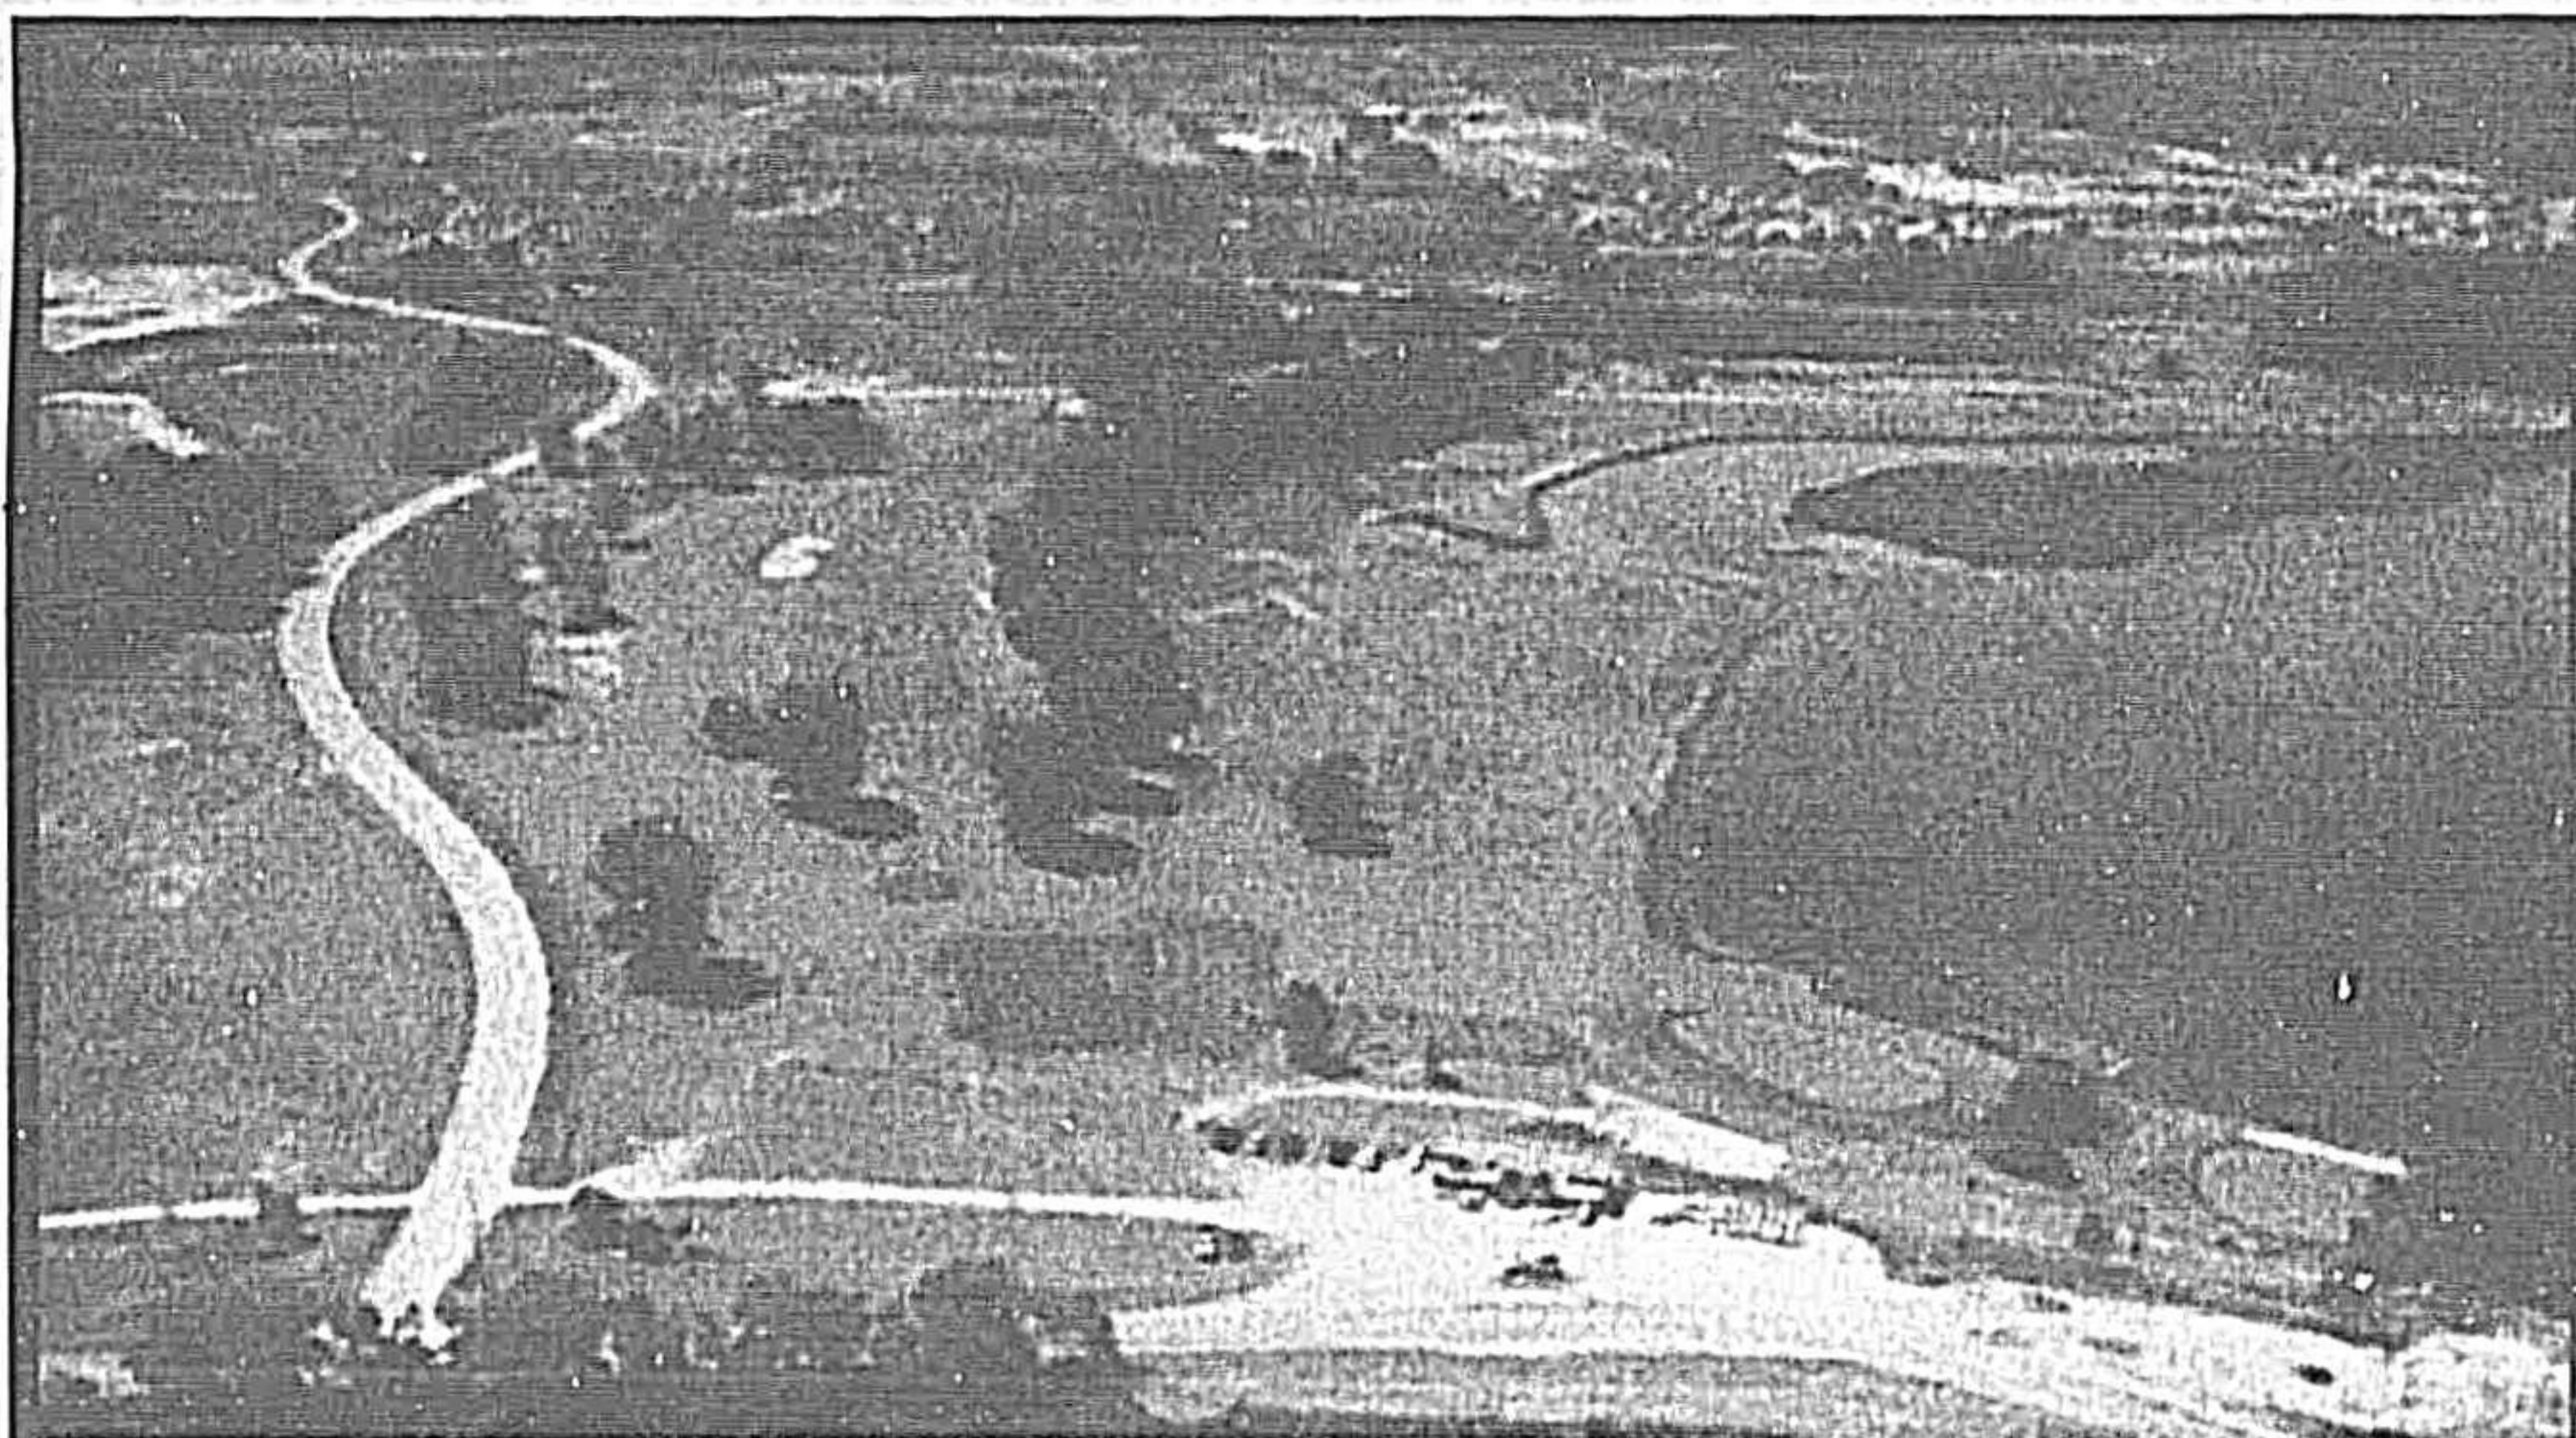

• San Juan Islands, Wash. — These islands are nestled between the Washington State mainland and Vancouver Island and blend country comforts with untouched wildlife. They offer a picturesque sight indeed.

• Niagara Falls, N.Y. — Few sights can top the splendor of the mighty falls. The Canadian side offers the best views and plenty of shops for families to explore.

• Mount Rushmore, The Black Hills, S.D. — This national landmark is quite a sight and the No. 1 tourist attraction in the area. The 60-foot-high monument blends history and nature.

The elimination of choice

Tom Cruise stars as Detective John Anderton in "Minority Report," this futuristic thriller set in Washington, DC in 2054. Police now utilize psychic technology to arrest and convict murderers before they commit their crime. As head of this Pre-Crime unit Anderton is forced to run when he is accused of the future murder of a man he hasn't even met.

No murders have been committed in the nation's capital in six years. The linchpins of this complex crime fighting team are three warm bodies suspended in a pool of liquid nutrients and psychochemicals to induce vivid dreams of murder. Referred to as the Pre-Cogs (precognitive), Agatha (Samantha Morton) seems to be the strongest of the trio. The Temple is what the chamber is called where the pre-cogs are kept in a constant state of somnambulism. Deities, is how they have come to be viewed by some people.

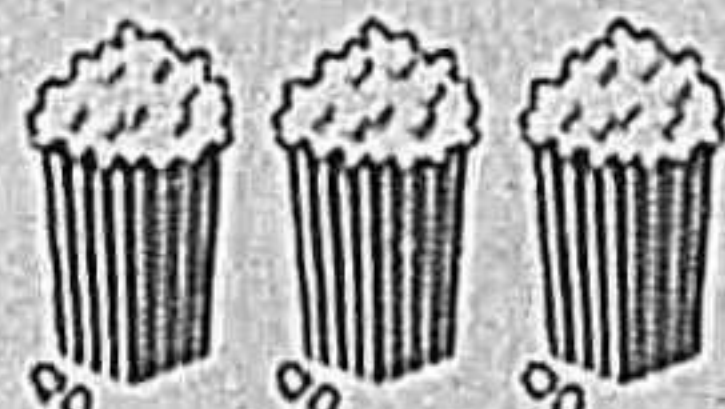

The Maestro of the organization is Anderton; symphonic music swells as he dons his video gloves and begins to conduct the images projected by the pre-cogs into a viable sequence of events on a glass screen. High powered stuff but the music makes the serious scene funny. The assembled information will lead the elite force of pre-crime cops to the right location to stop the murder before it occurs. They have been right for six years...Or have they? Danny Witwer (Colin Farrell) from the Justice Department is investigating the Pre-Crime unit to determine the answer to that question. John, anguished and guilt-ridden over the loss of his young son six years ago and the break-up of his marriage to Lara (Kathryn Morris), has buried himself in his work, and now the only reason left for his existence is questioned. At night he wanders the alleyways looking to score his drug of choice. Anderton is a man on the edge.

He comes face to face with himself as a killer when he orchestrates Agatha's premonition. John has to run. But you can not hide in this society where virtually no privacy exists. Lasers scan everyone's eyes for identification aboarding the subway or entering a store.

Grave doubts about this fail-safe system loom large for John. One operative, Jad (Steve Harris), begins to share those doubts. At a crucial moment Agatha, a woman who has lived her life entirely within her mind, tells Anderton, "You can choose." Washington, DC is a town without murder but it is a decidedly gray world.

Steven Spielberg has plunged us into another of his alternate universes. Last year's "A.I. Artificial Intelligence" was Pam's favorite film of 2001. "Minority Report" is adapted from a short story by Phillip K. Dick, the legendary science fiction writer. It is deliberate that we get the feel of the "near future" while watching the screen. It's all so familiar...sort of. Nothing seems beyond the pale of possibility, certainly not the security measures and identification procedures in the wake of 9/11 and its aftermath.

There is much to admire in this film. Tom Cruise and Samantha Morton are chilling in their portrayals. The supporting cast is outstanding. And the story is thought provoking, though inconsistent in tone.

In the area of visual effects, surprisingly, "Minority Report" is uneven. The Hall of Containment and the labyrinthine tenement building, where mechanical spiders search for Anderton, are fantastic. But the Magnetic-Levitation traffic system laid out here is 'notsogreat.' The vehicles look like large wooden slot cars. And the chase sequence with Tom Cruise leaping from hood to hood is laughable rather than thrilling.

We are asked to consider a world where murder does not exist...but at what cost? Questions of ethics arise. People are arrested and no crime has been committed. The neatly tied-up ending doesn't seem to work with most of the rest of the film.

NEW RELEASES

New releases, currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

Opening this Week

Hey Arnold! The Movie
Nickelodeon's brainy hero tries to save his town from developers who want to replace everything in sight with a shopping mall. When most are ready to sell out, Arnold saves the day.

The Fast Runner: (Renaissance Cinema-Highland Park): An award winning film that focuses on evil in the form of an unknown shaman that divides a small community of nomadic Inuit, upsetting its balance and spirit.

Mr. Deeds: A fish out of water, rags to riches story starring Adam Sandler, Winona Ryder and John Turturro. Deeds ultimately discovers what life is really about and proves that money changes everything...but not everyone.

Pepe Le Moko (Music Box): Based upon the life of a real criminal. Made in 1937, this example of French Poetic Realism inspired films from Casablanca to the cartoon Pepe Le Pew. One week only.

Still Playing

The Bourne Identity 1/2
A man is discovered floating face at sea and is rescued by the crew of an Italian fishing boat. He's nearly dead, has no identity and is affected with amnesia. The more he learns about himself, the less he likes.

The Dangerous Lives of Altar Boys (Renaissance Cinema-Highland Park): A 70's drama featuring two charming but irreverent Catholic high schoolers who confront the mysteries of adulthood. Stars Jodie Foster & Kieran Culkin.

Divine Secrets of the Ya-Ya Sisterhood
A "chick flick comedy" with Sandra Bullock & Ellen Burstyn. When Bullock is about to be married, she does not invite Mom (Burstyn) to the wedding. A dialogue opens up after Bullock learns about her family history.

Juwanna Mann
A spoiled, rich kid basketball star finds redemption when he reexamines his inner self after he is down on his luck.

Lilo & Stitch
A girl adopts a stranded pet, which turns out to be an extraterrestrial experiment on the lam from his creators. An animated feature.

Scooby Doo
Okay for the little kids, Pokemon painful for adults.

Both sides of the coin

By GEORGE SINGLETON
Reel Movie Critic

Juwanna Mann (JM) is a universal comedy that delivers a number of subtle moral messages.

Shortly before the film opened on June 21, I had an opportunity to talk with Tommy Davidson ("Bamboozled," "Strictly Business") and Kim Wayans ("My Wife & Kids"-TV, and sister of the Wayans brothers).

Tommy's perspective is that this film gave him a tremendous amount of freedom to make a "stunningly funny" movie. While there are numerous films that fit the comedy genre, few are able to be satirical and deliver a moral message without getting people bent out of shape. Davidson understands this better than most as he played a key role in the controversial Spike Lee film "Bamboozled," which only played in a handful of theaters in the Chicago area.

It too was a satire, but with a Spike Lee attitude and insistence on posters featuring black actors in black face, the film found major newspapers not accepting ads and distributors reluctant to give it a chance for box office success. "Juwanna Mann" will open on at least 1,500 screens.

Not many people appreciated "Bamboozled," one of my top 10 films of 2000, because not many people knew it was playing in the few places it could be seen. "Juwanna Mann" should do well at the box office and deservedly so. If it can open at $7-10 million and top out at $25-30 million, Tommy and Kim will be able to get the financial backing they need for future projects.

Davidson said, "Who we think we are has nothing to do with what we are about." Often when we attain our goals, we are not the people we were when the journey began. While Kim agrees with my assessment that the film has a "chick flick" flavor to it, she says it's much more than that. She believes "it's all about self respect" and this is one of the areas that I found intriguing with the film. Before you can justifiably demand respect, you must respect yourself.

Respect is the core issue with the Jamal/Juwanna character and the fact that Kim plays a lesbian basketball player is an important point—that there are gays in all sports, men and women, and that we should respect them for who they are.

Directors and actors put their souls on the line for all to see. Davidson wants to be seen as a comedian with something worthwhile to say who happens to be black, as compared to just a funny black man. In a "best possible scenario" Tommy will get a chance to do comedic and dramatic films and Kim will gain the name recognition to propel her in the direction of her own television sit-com. That's the American way.

The Herd is on parade

At 2:30 p.m. on July 6, the Vietnam Veterans of the 173rd Airborne Brigade (The Herd) in co-sponsorship and coordination with the Chicago Park District, the Taste of Chicago and the Mayor's Office of Special Events, will conduct a Military Parade. The Parade will be held in Grant Park at Hutchinson Field just south of Buckingham Fountain at Balbo Avenue and Columbus Drive. This ceremony is part of The Herd's Independence Day Celebration and Reunion 2002 Activities.

Members of the active duty Brigade will be coming from Vicenza, Italy. Veterans from Australia and New Zealand who served with The Herd will be bringing their Regimental and National Colors.

Reserve and Guard units from around Chicago will provide these patriots with support. Come and listen to the 85th Division Band play the Marches of the United States' most venerated military units. Watch the 106th Aviation Blackhawk Helicopters fly over the field and hear the 122nd Artillery fire their salute. The reunion's coordinator says, "This will be a day to be proud to be an American!"

Leguizamo's edgy humor hits home

John Leguizamo brings his one-man show to Chicago.

John Leguizamo, a celebrated actor-comedian who has made his mark on stage, film and television, has added yet another credit to his portfolio.

The versatile performer is starring in his latest show, "Sexholix... a love story." It's a high-octane gig that casts light on many subjects, from family relationships to the history of Latin people—all filtered through Leguizamo's personal lens of growing up part-Puerto Rican and part-Colombian.

As in his previous one-man shows, "Freak," "Mambo Mouth" and "Spic-O-Rama," Leguizamo is a perpetual-motion machine, deftly switching voices and facial expressions to take on the various characters who narrate his story. One minute he's playing himself; the next, his nerdy younger brother or his tough-talking father (he's always putting down his son as a "loser") or impressionable girlfriend.

A lot of the material is autobiographical and covers a familiar path from youth to adulthood. But even what's somewhat predictable is infused with wit and enough passion to connect with audiences.

And there are some zippy one-liners. For example, on a date, he mimics a fatuous actress: "I'm Evelyn... tell me about myself." Later, Leguizamo tells his wife, "We don't need kids. We got me." Or his response when she expresses concern that her biological clock is ticking: "Put it on snooze."

Among the more involving sketches are Leguizamo's impressions of his offbeat grandparents and his re-enactment of the birth of his two children and subsequent bonding with "Little Man," his colicky son.

The play's title is drawn from the high school gang Leguizamo and his pals formed after they were rejected by the "better" gangs in the neighborhood.

Directed by Peter Askin, "Sexholix" plays through June 30 at the Oriental Theater in the Ford Center for the Performing Arts, Chicago (312-902-1400). Lighting, designed by Kevin Adams, consists mainly of strips of bright and at times distracting bulbs hung on a rear curtain.

Liven up summer during museum's adventure weekends

Travel the world, from the top of an ancient Egyptian pyramid to the bottom of the ocean, and discover old cultures and new civilizations during six summer adventure weekends, beginning June 29 at the Milwaukee Public Museum.

Adventures weekends are 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays and 1:40 p.m. Mondays (regular IMAX admission prices apply.)

Museum admission is $6.75 for adults (18-59), $5.50 for seniors (60-plus) and $4.50 for children (4-17). Museum hours are 9 a.m.-5 p.m. daily.

For more information, call 414-278-2702.

• Rocky Road, June 29-July 1—Travel back in time to the land of Dinosaur Olympics against a Compsognathus and an Ankylosaurus. IMAX: "Ring of Fire"

• The Sports Pages, Friday-Sunday, July 5-7—Are you an All-star athlete? Make your own shuttlecock. Learn about the American Indian origins of lacrosse and the Negro Leagues' Milwaukee Bears. IMAX: "Michael Jordan to the Max" (showtimes are 1:40 p.m. and 5:10 p.m. Friday-Sunday.)

• Ancient World, July 13-15—Learn about mummies and ancient Egypt. Take part in a mummy wrap. Write your name in a pharaoh's cartouche. IMAX: "Great Places" adventure weekends.

• Make a Splash! July 27-29—Swim to the bottom of the ocean. Use a pump drill to make an American Indian shell necklace. Hold a starfish and learn how they "walk." Make a Japanese "Gyutaku" fish print to take home. IMAX: "Living Sea"

• Deserts of the World, August 3-5—Learn how plants and animals survive in desert heat and Arctic cold! Make your own rain stick. Learn how desert mummies were formed and how Egyptians mummified the dead. IMAX: "Africa: The Serengeti."

You can attend college free

Most parents and students think that scholarships are only for the students with good grades, low-income families, or the athletically inclined. A small example of the numerous scholarships available to students include left-handed student scholarships, handicapped student scholarships, members of a church scholarships, David Letterman's Scholarship for "C" Students, Veterans' Children's Scholarships, scholarships for minorities and much more.

The general public is not aware that over $10 billion is available to students from private sector scholarships and over $20.4 billion from the federal government. In a U.S. Congressional study, it was reported, "Over $6.6 billion of private sector financial aid went unused because parents and students did not know where to apply."

A conservative college tuition for a full-time student runs from $10,000-$30,000, and high-scoring colleges run from $40,000-$100,000—and this is per year.

There are organizations that have spent hundreds of hours in research locating scholarship sources. These organizations are AEE (American Educational Excellence) members and have a list of over 400 different addresses, telephone numbers, applications deadlines, summaries about the scholarships and the amount the scholarships will pay your child.

Many scholarships pay the entire tuition; otherwise, students combine applicable scholarships together to form one large tuition payment. Most scholarships include junior colleges, career and vocational schools, four-year colleges, graduate schools, and medical and law schools.

For information on obtaining these scholarship lists, send a SASE and $1 handling fee to U.S. Channel of Commerce for Higher Education, P.O. Box 127, Rule TX 79547.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Understanding is the first step toward the solution of a problem, Aries, but this time even you may not be able to help out. Let the air clear and you may find everything will work out.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

Trust in your coworkers this week, Taurus. You all must work together to master a difficult project, which springs up midweek. Some unlikely assistance can be expected.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

You are feeling very vulnerable, Gemini, especially when you are thrown into a situation you did not expect. Accept defeat and move back into more familiar territory.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

You feel both adventurous and secure this week, Cancer. You decide to try something new—whether a hobby or a sport. Expect some close friends to think you're strange. However, pay them no mind.

LEO - July 23/August 23

Your temper may be short, Leo, but you wit is quick. If you feel a problem is arising, you may want to move over and let the difficulties pass, rather than getting involved in the squabble.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Dive into the changes that come rushing at you this week, Virgo. You're bound to have fun and experience excitement as the tides turn in your favor. Love is imminent.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

You realize that everything has not been working according to your master plan, Libra, but now it's finally time to sit down and discover a solution. Reliable Cancer can help out.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

It's time to roll up your sleeves, as projects you crave finally roll your way, Scorpio. Now's the best time to shine and appreciate the opportunities that you've been given.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

It's best if you economize this week, Sagittarius. Limited resources are a common feature of the future and you know it's for the best if you conserve your assets right now. Others may not agree with your plan.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Expand your lists of contacts so that you can finally get that dream job. Don't worry, things are bound to work in your favor this week, Capricorn, turning good fortune in your direction.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

You are very quiet concerning what's been on your mind, Aquarius. Keeping too much bottled up is not healthy. It's best if you share with one close friend.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Unexplainable forces bring you fortune in a big way. There's no need to be afraid of what you don't understand. Just accept the positive and enjoy yourself.

AT A GLANCE

At A Glance briefs are excerpts from the top stories in Lakeland's 11 weekly newspapers. For more in-depth coverage on these and other local stories, see our web site at www.lakelandmedia.com.

Jealousy possible motive in slaying

Waukegan—Two men, Raymond Serio, 28, of Round Lake, and Ronald Ruhl, 33, of Lindenhurst, were both indicted this week for the murder of 27-year-old Lake Villa resident Richard Neubauer in January. Both men, already in custody on unrelated charges, are charged with first degree murder. Although all three men have prior histories of drug involvement, it is alleged the homicide was not drug-related, but instead, may have been motivated by jealousy.

Police seek help in finding flasher

Libertyville—Police are investigating two alleged incidents on the southeast side of the village, in which possibly the same man exposed himself to juvenile girls. The incidents, on May 30 and June 18, occurred within blocks of each other, in the area of Liberty Bell Lane and Valley Park Drive, near Condell Medical Center. The suspect in both incidents is described as a white, between 30 and 40 years old, average height and weight, clean shaven with dark hair, and wearing casual clothing. Victims said the man drove a green, four-door vehicle.

Citizens input on new police station proposal

Fox Lake—Trustees are ready to forge ahead with another attempt to pass a police station referendum. Suggestions from an informal citizens committee have been considered, but trustees question if the $2.3 million cost estimate is valid. The public safety committee will meet next month and may have a recommendation. Voters rejected a $3 million stand-alone police station plan in March. The board has until late August to decide on whether or not to try again on the November ballot.

Wal-Mart supporters show their smiles

Antioch—"It sounds to me that Wal-Mart is a very good neighbor," said resident Mary Turner, who said she supports the silent majority in favor of Wal-Mart. The comment was made in reference to the potential tax dollars the village could gain if the proposal is approved. Turner asked the village trustees and Mayor Taso Maravelas "to keep us in the village." She added, "Downtown, though charming, doesn't give residents the choices they need. The fact is that Wal-Mart will be very good for our community." Turner, and fellow Wal-Mart supporters, handed out yellow ribbons and yellow smile face stickers to visually show their support. Additionally, she presented the board with 979 signatures on a petition favoring the Wal-Mart proposal she said she collected in less than one week.

Temperatures dip below 90°, but not for long

That dripping noise you hear in the middle of the night might not be a leaky faucet.

It may have been the sound of sweat dripping off your body as Lake County has experienced some truly torturous weather as of late.

With six straight days of temperatures reaching at least 88 degrees or above this week, local residents are doing everything they can to try and beat the heat.

That has sent most county residents straight into their swimming pools, beaches, backyard sprinklers and indoors for relief.

Melissa Wilson, of Gages Lake, said she's limiting errand running and her daily jogs to early mornings. Eleanor Horvath of Grayslake, prefers to stay indoors.

Stamps rise to 37 cents

USPS: Rate hike gives us 'breathing room'

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Maybe a 3-cent increase isn't all that it's cracked up to be. It will be worth millions to the U.S. Postal service, but in today's economy, asking consumers to cough up an extra three cents per first class letter doesn't seem to be drawing any protest.

The rate increase goes into effect June 30, which means that Monday, the first business day it's in effect, "we'll be busy," said Ed Folsom, assistant postmaster of the new Gurnee Post Office.

"But quite a few people have been buying the new stamps for a couple of weeks now, so we expect the transition to be fairly painless," added Folsom.

The Gurnee Post Office moved into a new facility at 1 O'Plaine Rd., just north of Washington in May 2001. The office is approximately three times as large as the old facility, just to the north.

The cash-strapped U.S. Postal service says the extra money is sorely needed, in the face of declining business and the hundreds of millions of dollars it has spent securing facilities from anthrax contamination and other biological agents, since the events of 9-11.

The postal service had been considering a rate increase a year ago, before 9-11, because of declining first class mail revenues, and a sluggish economy. The agency reported a loss of $1.68 billion in 2001 and had anticipated a loss of $1.35 billion this year, despite the freezing of new construction and cutting 12,000 jobs nationwide.

In order to save millions in lost revenues, had the post office had to contest its rate increase, the agency met with some 40 organizations representing mailers — including the Alliance of Nonprofit Mailers, AOL Time Warner, Magazine Publishers of America and National Newspaper

Death sees town lose part of its history

Wadsworth—Grace "Gracie" Shields, owner of Shields grocery store in Wadsworth, died last week at the age of 90. Gracie owned and operated Shields Grocery and Candy Store on Wadsworth Road, in Wadsworth. The landmark store, known for selling penny candy, closed after Gracie fell ill last month. She passed away at the Winchester House in Libertyville. Gracie was well known in the community because of her active community involvement. She was the originator of the Miss Wadsworth Pageant, a trustee for the Newport Township Fire Department and also a village trustee.

Midlane responds to neighbor's gripes

Waukegan—Hundreds of disgruntled homeowners turned out for a three-hour meeting in Waukegan to air their gripes over a proposed addition of 409 housing units to be built at Midlane Country Club. Midlane is proposing to remove nine holes of its 27-hole golf course to build the new housing which are identified as the "Greens." "I understand why they're upset..." said owner Lemmy Khayat. "But I have a responsibility to my employees and my neighbors to remain solvent and make good business decisions. I am walking on eggshells to make things easy for the neighbors, while trying to survive."

Village works to hash out settlement

Antioch—An agreement was reached that will supposedly result in a binding 'Global Settlement' which will settle all disputes between the parties in the Deercrest litigation (Village of Antioch, Lake County, Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., Deercrest) and the zoning litigation (Neumann Homes, Village of Antioch). Neumann Homes will sell the Forest Preserve Dist. between 175-200 acres of the most sensitive wetland and oak Savannah area from its proposed development area. A new proposal will be submitted for the remaining 435 acres for 960 single-family homes with lot sizes of no less than 7,800 square feet. Additionally, Neumann Homes will, in essence, buy out Deercrest and become the developer for the already approved preliminary proposal on Otto Sprenger's property. A petition for annexation of 55 acres will be made at the southeast corner of Savage Rd. and Rte. 173 with 30 acres to be zoned commercial and 25 acres to be zoned for a school.

Police to enforce school dress code

Round Lake—Area police officers will be monitoring District 116 students' clothing this fall in an attempt to eliminate the gang activity within the school. For the first 10 days of school, a gang task force will be stationed at Round Lake High School, reinforcing the dress code. Officers will check both male and female students.

Area Catholics remember 2 priests with ties to area

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The scandal of sexual abuse charges against priests has resurfaced memories for Transfiguration Church members in Wauconda.

Two priests with ties to the church, Revs. Richard "Doc" Bartz and James Ray, were among those listed as not being able to conduct themselves publicly as priests as part of the new Chicago Archdiocese rules.

Bartz served as associate pastor of Transfiguration Church from 1979-1983. Ray worked at the church from 1989-1991 in the same role. Allegations against the two of sexual misconduct came while they were serving other parishes or positions in the archdiocese.

Dee Zimmerman, parishioner and advocate pastoral minister, knew Ray.

"He was very well liked. We all came to Wauconda at the same time, 1989. He always had good homilies and people loved him. He was a good guy that people felt comfortable about. When it (his dismissal in 1991) happened it was very abrupt. People did not know why until afterward. Father Bill Zavaski read a letter at all the masses, but I'm not sure if it stated why. People were very upset because they did not get to say goodbye," Zimmerman said.

The new regulations adopted by the U.S. Conference of Bishops in Dallas state any priest with past, present or future allegations against him may not celebrate Mass or wear the priest's collar.

"There are some people who say that they were not harsh enough. They should be treated like any other citizen, but they are held in a higher esteem. A majority of priests are doing what they are supposed to do, and be where they are supposed to be, but they are getting nasty remarks when they go out to dinner or to a movie with their niece," Zimmerman said.

Rosemary Mers knew both Bartz and Ray. "Rev. Bartz married my son and he did the eulogy when my mother-in-law died in 1980. They have both been guests to the house for dinner. We used to have great religious debates," Mers said. "Both were well-liked."

Mers said that most Catholics are supportive of Cardinal George's actions. "I go to church for my faith in God, not for a priest. If they have made mistakes they have to answer for them," Mers said.

"I wrote a note to Rev. Enright (Jim, current pastor), stating that his comment that, 'our faith holds the community together is right on and will get us through,' said parishioner Frank Lahman.

Parishioners said they were glad that the allegations are being brought out into the open.

The source of the allegations for both Ray and Bartz came when they were not at Wauconda.

St. Therese slated to close in 3 years

Making an about-face on a decision two years ago, Vista Health's board of directors have decided to close Waukegan's Provena St. Therese Medical Center by 2005.

The decision is reported to save Vista upwards of $17 million by consolidating its operations at Victory Memorial Hospital, on Waukegan's northeast side.

Vista is slated to open a 120-bed state-of-the-art facility in Lindenhurst in two years, which has five beds less than the 125 St. Therese currently has licensed for service.

Leafblad's property tax lawsuit goes forward

Says too many taxpayers are too mad

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Lake County Board member Larry Leafblad's lawsuit against the county, demanding immediate rebates of recent large property tax increases by 14 township assessors, has been challenged by the State's Attorney's office.

The suit names a single defendant, Lake County Treasurer Robert Skidmore. Skidmore has referred all media inquiries to the State's Attorney's office.

Leafblad, a resident of Highland Lake and rural Grayslake, filed the suit in Lake County Circuit Court in early May, and the Meg Marcouiller, Deputy Chief of the Civil Division, has filed a petition to dismiss the lawsuit.

Leafblad, through his attorney, Newton Finn of Waukegan, has until July 24 to respond.

"They've filed a motion to dismiss a lot of things, but the bottom line is we think the assessors have violated the law and we are still taking calls from all over the county who've had their assessments whacked."

By state statute, major re-assessments are done every four years. But the lawsuit contends that assessors, for the year 2001, capriciously increased the equalized assessed valuations, and hence the property taxes, of large numbers of county residents.

The first of two property tax installments was due in early June; the second is due in early September.

"We've seen increases of anywhere from 10 percent to 136 percent," said Leafblad.

Leafblad has vowed to take the fight all the way to the Illinois Supreme Court, if necessary, and predicts that a grass roots rebellion of county taxpayers will be there to foot the legal bills.

"This is not about me. Somebody has to do something and it's about somebody finally saying 'That's it. I've finally had enough. We're not going to take this stuff anymore.'"

Leafblad said the crux of the problem is that neither Skidmore nor the township assessors are really accountable. "The chief county assessor, Ken Larson, is the person who is supposed to keep the township assessors in line. But there is no accountability; the county board has processes to keep Larson in line and the state has processes to keep the county board in line, but the system is so dysfunctional that the nobody is ever held accountable."

Association — and worked out an agreement for a speedy rate increase.

The agency estimated that had it taken months to resolve implementation of a rate increase, it could have lost as much as $1.5 billion.

Critics of the rate increase claim that the need for a rate increase, so soon after the last two rate increases, reflects badly on the U.S. Postal Service.

And as for the 3-cent stamps needed to make the old 34-cent stamps work, the Libertyville Postmaster Jerry Hoglund said two weeks ago he had 250,000 on hand. Normally, the office would have about 10,000 3-cent stamps in stock.

being cold," Horvath said. "I just put the air on."

According to weather.com, we've been about 10-15 degrees above normal lately. Even though a record high for June has not been set (97 degrees in 1953), the string of so many hot and humid days is making many cry for relief.

Normal temperatures for this time of year is 78 degrees.

"It's just way too hot," said John Buckner of Mundelein.

"I like the heat, it's just the humidity I can't stand. Buckner's workmate, Carolyn Chambers of Lake Geneva, Wis., disagreed.

"I love this weather," Chambers said. "It hasn't slowed me down a bit."

Although recent rains have brought a temporary cooling-off period, forecasts call for northeastern Illinois temperatures to rocket back into the 90s on Sunday and Monday and dip into the upper 80s most of next week.

'COPS in Schools' funded

The Lake County Sheriff's office was awarded $750,000 in the year 2000 for the U.S. Department of Justice, "COPS in Schools" program. Five positions for sheriff's officers in schools are still available for schools in the Sheriff's jurisdiction. These positions must be filled by September or the Sheriff's Department will have to relinquish the right to all unused portions of this grant money.

The COPS in Schools (CIS) program was developed by the U.S. Department of Justice to place law enforcement officers in the schools to serve as School Resource Officers. The officers would be able to serve the schools in a variety of ways including developing programs to teach crime prevention and gang resistance. The officers would also be able to identify any environmental triggers that may lead to a violent atmosphere, and assist in policy making to address school safety.

The CIS grant money would provide six possible positions to schools in the Lake County Sheriff's Office district. Five of these positions remain unfilled. Each position would be funded by a federal contribution of $125,000 over a three-year period. Additional costs would be paid by local funds.

Edward Gonwa, Regional Superintendent of Schools said that he "fully supports this program as it allows schools to add additional security at a reduced cost."

SEDOL, the Special Education District of Lake County, is the only school that has taken the opportunity to participate in this program leaving five unfilled positions.

Sheriff Del Re said, "I hope to develop partnerships with schools in our jurisdiction. The COPS in Schools program is a mutually beneficial situation for my office and the school system. We are eager to utilize this federal grant money for a good cause."

Undersheriff Gary Stryker announced to members of the Law and Judicial Committee that the Sheriff's office would have to relinquish the unused grant money in September of this year.

Bonnie Thomson Carter, chairman of the Law and Judicial committee said, "This is a great opportunity for schools in Lake County. It is surprising that in our post-Sept. 11 world, schools are not taking advantage of an easy and unique opportunity to make a safer environment for their students."

Five positions are still available for schools in the Lake County Sheriff's jurisdiction. For more information or to apply for the COPS in Schools program, contact Undersheriff Gary Stryker at 847-377-4050.

Arrests made in Knollwood after man is jumped at home

The Lake County Sheriff's Department announced the arrest of four individuals involved in the May 31 attack on a 20-year-old Knollwood man.

The incident occurred in the evening hours of May 31, at a residence located in the 1100 block of Quassey Avenue in Knollwood. The victim stated he was having a barbecue party with friends at his residence when several uninvited acquaintances of the victim arrived.

The victim stated he met these uninvited guests in his front yard and asked them to leave. Following a verbal exchange, the uninvited individuals left. Several hours later, these individuals returned to the victim's house and punched and kicked the victim.

The victim, as a result of the beating, sustained three broken ribs, a collapsed lung and received 17 stitches on the interior of his mouth.

The following individuals have been charged with Aggravated Battery (Class 3 Felony) and Mob Action (Class 4 Felony):

Rajko "Ray" Bozic, 18 years of age, of 200 Rivers Dr., Lake Bluff; Randall E. Daniels, 18 years of age, of 600 Thornvalley Ln., Lake Bluff; Dane A.C. Lundquist, 18 years of age, of 44 Wisconsin Ave., Lake Forest.

Joseph K. Kim, 18 years of age, of 8 Columbine Ln., Riverwoods has been charged with Mob Action (Class 4 Felony).

All individuals charged have been released on bond pending court appearances. Investigators expect further arrests in this matter.

County Stormwater agency to inspect wetland borders

The Lake County Stormwater Management commission (SMC) Board approved an interagency Cooperation Agreement (ICA) between the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers-Chicago District (Corps), SMC, and the Lake County Planning, Building and Development Department (PBD), that creates a working program for the SMC and PBD to conduct inspections and make jurisdictional determinations (JDs) of wetlands and other waters within their respective jurisdictions in Lake County.

The intent of the ICA is to increase the level of public service by expediting the permit review process through coordination and cooperation of the involved agencies. Permit applicants may request SMC wetland specialists (or PBD wetland specialists in unincorporated Lake county) conduct office reviews and site inspections, and provide a preliminary jurisdictional determination. SMC or PBD will advise the Corps as to the presence of isolated Waters of Lake County (IWLC) on proposed development sites.

For sites that have a "Waters of the U.S." under Corps jurisdiction, the applicant will still need a final Corps letter.

Prior to the ICA, the Corps has been conducting all JDs, which can have extended response times to provide a JD to a permit applicant. By SMC (and PBD) conducting the JDs, this time frame will be significantly reduced.

"The ICA represents a significant cost savings to the permit applicant and to the permitting agencies like SMC, the local municipalities and the County. Local impacts benefit from local availability and this agreement of cooperation sets in motion a higher level of coordination and time savings," said Ward Miller, SMC executive director.

Balance concept: 'out the window'

A good and decent man saw forces beyond his control subvert his concept of how local government should interface with growth and development, creating ideal communities to live and work. The result was known as "progress."

Both as a village trustee and his early years as mayor of Grayslake, Ed Schroeder advocated a doctrine of "balanced growth." Schroeder's idea of balance was that communities grow three ways—residentially, commercially and industrially. The three forces are interrelated and complimentary.

Interesting idea. We don't know if the former municipal leader, who died June 11, conceived the idea of community vitality resting on a three-legged stool, but it made sense when he first related his thoughts in the late 1960s and it still makes sense today. New residents need a place to work and local businesses to supply their needs and services. Industry requires a ready supply of workers. Local retailing thrives when there are customers close by.

The late mayor, who served three terms from 1977 to 1989, was far too practical to be considered a utopian. As attorney, he served as secretary of the Zenith Corp. so he knew the ways of big business. But his theory was that local government should guide and keep in check, if necessary, the three forces of growth and development. Schroeder's zeal for maintaining balance led him to oppose the mega Heartland Development, which involved him personally, and other village and Lake County officials in an anti-trust case where a jury found in favor of the developer to the tune of a $28.5 million award. The case achieved national attention and ultimately was voided.

Ed Schroeder saw Heartland, 600 acres located in Fremont Township between Grayslake and Mundelein, as upsetting the critical balance needed to achieve the orderly growth he advocated.

Before he left office, the dynamics of progress changed drastically. The mind set of "bigger is better" replaced any regard for balance. Retailing fled to regional malls. Small and mid-sized factories—the economic engines for local communities—withered and folded in the face of overseas competition. Neighboring villages became competitors for high roller developers as homes replaced cornfields. The Chicago suburban story was villages doubling, tripling and quadrupling in the last two decades of the millennium.

Coveted symmetry sought by Mayor Schroeder was a built-in guarantee for manageable real estate tax bills. The practical mayor advocated pay-as-you-go fiscal policies, but an avalanche of rooftops became a magnet for deficit budgets, bond financing and long-term debt. The public school system was left to shoulder the cost of "progress" when regard for the three facets of growth and development went out the window.

Schroeder's thinking and that of many economy-minded municipal officials of his era probably is regarded as old fogey today. His passing, though, gives pause to reflect on what things might be like today if that fragile equilibrium had been maintained.

New plans era for transportation

When you're stuck in gridlock or grinding along at a snail's pace on your daily trip home, it's difficult to appreciate that the northeastern Illinois transportation system just didn't "happen." Believe it or not, what seems to be a patchwork system dictated by expediency, actually was planned. The 24,000 miles of roads and streets and the network of rail commuter lines is the result of decades of regional ideals, visions and public investment.

So says the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS), a quasi governmental consortium founded in 1955 to help provide rhyme and reason for regional transportation planning in the Chicago metropolitan area. CATS looks at the future in 10-year chunks of time. The next planning segment is "Shared Path 2030." For better or worse, planning for 2010 and 2030 already is history, either in the form of programs in various stages of enactment or ready for adoption, or abandoned ideas.

What is unique about CATS is the opportunity for individual citizens to get involved in the transportation planning process. As part of the fact and information gathering process, CATS has scheduled 12 public meetings during July and August. The "Shared Path 2030" meeting for Lake County is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday, August 5, at College of Lake County Physical Education Center (Building 7).

Growth is the driving force behind transportation planning. Another planning organization, Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC), projects a 2030 population in the metro area of 9.8 million, or a 21 percent increase over the 2000 population. Both planners and the public have their work cut out. So the views aired August 5 at CLC will be important, moreso because they could be your own ideas.

VIEWPOINT

Texans leave little unsaid

It's easy to get wrong impressions about President Bush's home state when all you hear are lame jokes from late night comedians or read reports produced by the elite Beltway press corps. There's a lot to like about Texas. A weekend trip to Fort Worth made an in-person look possible.

Our destination was Southlake, a community in a northern sector of the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex, where son Bill and his family reside. The drive to Southlake was through fields of just tassel-out corn that would be the envy of any Illinois farmer. Lake Countians used to crop lands separating towns with sparkling new subdivisions feel right at home. That's the way it is. You get around on mostly new expressways designed for speed. Towns feature sprawling malls and contemporary office buildings. Like the ones along the northern Illinois Tollway. Looks a lot like home. There's marks of prosperity everywhere.

Texans are open and friendly. They spend a lot of time outdoors. Their schools are new and modern. The high school football stadiums surpass a lot of Midwestern and Eastern colleges. Soccer for the small fry is huge. Around Southlake, carryout business is brisk, only it's barbecue. Nice change of pace from subs and burgers. In Fort Worth there's a joke about the carryout of choice in Dallas is sushi. That bit of local humor illustrates the difference between the two cities separated by DFW International Airport.

Almost from birth, Southlake children become Dragons, the team mascot for grade school teams through high school. Smart folks, no PC problems with native-American names. Southlake residents happily coexist with horses and cattle, some folks opting for five-acre homesites. Pastures for livestock qualify for agriculture taxation.

Bill booked passage for grandparents and four grandchildren on a vintage train that connects Grapevine, Texas, with the famed Fort Worth Stockyards, now converted for tourist shopping, eateries, an amusement park and rodeo performances. One of the highlights of the Stockyards visit was a reenactment of an oldtime Wild West shootout.

Can't imagine anything to do with firearms qualifying as a public

Publisher

attraction in Illinois, but in Fort Worth the show never fails to charm hometown regulars even as it stuns out-of-towners. Kids and grownups thrill to the twice-daily long horn cattle "drive" down the main stem of the Stockyards. Texans have a good humored retort to complaints about how they live their lives. Bumper stickers proclaim: "Don't Mess with Texas."

Segments of Lake County would consider Southlake residents "comrades in arms." There's a movement in Southlake to vacate Wal-Mart's big box that contrasts with an attractive town square ringed by shops and anchored by a massive City Hall building colored "Texas red." Bill said townspeople are serious about getting rid of Wal-Mart and they turn out in legions to voice their disapproval. Protestors are known as "People with Pitch Forks." And elected officials pay attention.

As we noted during a too short stay, there's a lot to like about Texas.

Light side of argument

In tense times during the Wal-Mart battle in Antioch, it's nice to see that people haven't lost their sense of humor during the debate whether the big box retailer will be welcomed or sent packing. John Reeves, a Wal-Mart opponent, took solace on a letter writer who found the Antioch price of thumb tacks exceeded that at Wal-Mart. Reeves computed the loss to the writer's "life savings" at 98 cents plus tax and sent a postal money order to this column in the amount of $1.14 made out to the writer, Barbara Reulbach. Reeves equated Reulbach's argument to "the loss of a whole town for 40 thumb tacks." Reulbach chuckled when informed of the reimbursement and commented, "There are a lot of folks around here who share my thoughts." Reulbach is employed as a secretary-dispatcher for the Antioch Fire Department and said she will donate the $1.14 check to the fire department.

Tax man goeth

As a result of state budget cuts, the Illinois Department of Revenue closed its Lake County office located in Park City, Friday, June 28. Personnel will be assigned to other offices. Taxpayers with questions can go to a website at www.iltax.com or call 800-732-8866. The closest remaining office is at 9511 Harrison St., Des Plaines. Other offices were closed in Peoria, Urbana and Culver City, Calif. Good grief. An Illinois revenue office in California. No wonder public funds are stressed.

Hospital story

How Lake County's newest hospital will take shape will be outlined at a meeting of the Lindenhurst Village Board Monday, July 22. Armed with blueprints and diagrams, Tim Harrington, CEO of Vista, will present plans for a full service hospital to be built on Grand Ave. The project will enhance health care for the entire region.

Important date

In business as in life, everything depends on timing. Do you suppose that's the reason Marriott Theatre in Lincolnshire opened its next production, "1776" Wednesday, July 3? The show is a musical celebration of the founding of our nation on July 4, 1776. Coincidence?

Guest commentaries welcome

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

GOP stars sign up for Lake County events

Republican heavy hitters will be trekking to Lake County in increasing numbers in the coming weeks. As the state's third most populated county, GOP contenders know they have to score big to be in contention in November.

A blue ribbon array of GOP candidates will be attending a reception Sunday, July 28, at the North Barrington home of John Alan Sfire and his wife, Bobbi, to honor Sheriff Gary Del Re, up for re-election.

Republican notables expected to attend include Atty. Gen. Jim Ryan, candidate for governor; U.S. Sen. Peter Fitzgerald and House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

The Sfires are leaders in business and civic affairs in and around the Lake Zurich area.

A large contingent of Republican state office holders will be in attendance Sunday, Aug. 11, at the home of Terry Rockenbach on Route 120, Round Lake Park, for the annual Northern Illinois Chapter of Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC) family big roast.

The event is a fund-raiser for the Northern Illinois Political Action Committee of the ABC. With more than 300 members attending, the politicians regard the pig roast as a "must attend" event.

Branch solution

Cook Library President John Kelster is more than pleased with the district's "juggling act" resulting in establishing a branch

Sfire:
Playing host to GOP headliners
at Del Re salute.

Rose:
New look, new location to aid
police work.

Pierce: Remains on job

in the new Vernon Hills Village Hall. Keister, a resident of Vernon Hills, was dealing with two failed referendum attempts for the Libertyville library to expand into Vernon Hills with a second location. Outlook for a third try was bleak so the branch's solution was organized to give residents of the southern part of the district a full-service facility. It will be known as the Evergreen Branch.

Breathing easier

Mundelein Police chief Ray Rose says the new police station is "like a breath of fresh air" even though police personnel still are unpacking boxes and getting settled. The old station was so cramped Rose had to hold staff conferences at neighboring public buildings.

Welcome mat out

Island Lake Mayor Chuck Amrich sees a trend of "county line hopping" with the ground breaking for Crystal Valley RV at a Route 176 location. The employee-owned company is relocating from Crystal Lake. Amrich feels there are other McHenry County businesses that are interested in getting away from Crystal Lake congestion. They'll be welcome in Island Lake, Amrich assures.

Tending to business

Indicating that he's "not through yet," Highland Park Mayor Dan Pierce's future came into focus with the announcement of Councilman Steve Mandel that he will be a candidate for mayor in 2003. Pierce, a former Democratic state representative and long-time North Shore political leader, will be tending to city business before deciding on the next campaign. Mandel is laying claim to being the first mayoral candidate in Lake County for the 2003 municipal elections. Could be.

Hyde seeks backers

Waukegan Mayor Richard Hyde wants to smoke out opposition to the county's plan to build a $7.9 million work release facility in downtown Waukegan. Right now it looks like Planning Director Russ Tomlin, who considers the plan "disrespectful" of Waukegan's efforts to revitalize, is at the core of opponents. Hyde is close to County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) and thinks the plan is good for Waukegan. He has some support, but is working to convince doubters like Ald. Larry TenPas, who wants to have more time for study. There is a waiting list of more than 100 non-violent criminals to add to the 110 work release inmates now housed in the county jail.

Alas, no 'Pfarr for fitness czar'

Passed over again. Story of my life. President Bush has selected former football star Lynn Swann to be chairman of his Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

Maybe the president didn't know I was available. I long have been interested in physical fitness and was planning to get around to it someday.

I play a lot of golf (riding in a cart). I have tennis rackets out in the garage somewhere. I have a weight bench, barbells and dumbbells, and I dust them whenever they need it. Dusting is a good workout for the wrist.

Swimming, of course, is one of the best ways to exercise, and someday I plan to learn how. The few times I have been in a pool, flailing around trying to stay afloat, the lifeguards thought I was drowning and dived in to save me. How can I learn if they keep interrupting my practice sessions?

One Christmas, years ago, my wife surprised me with an exercise bike. In the next 10 years I put 73 miles on it, the equivalent of pedaling downtown and back once a year. But the handlebars were convenient for hanging clothes on.

Last weekend the president held a four-day fitness festival on the White House lawn.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

It included aerobic dancing, soccer games, weight machines and a three-mile footrace. New workout equipment was installed in the West Wing for White House staffers. Bush hopes to persuade Americans to set a goal of 30 minutes exercise a day.

Such a lifestyle commitment, he says, would save the government and private insurers billions of dollars in health care costs.

Our 55-year-old president regularly goes for three-mile runs at the crisp pace of seven minutes per mile. Bill Clinton also jogged but his romps were at a slower pace and often ended at the nearest McDonald's.

"You're a better worker if you exercise on a daily basis," the president says. "Your life will be more complete."

"If just 10 percent of adults began walking regularly, Americans could save $5.6 billion in costs related to heart disease. And research suggests we can reduce cancer deaths by one-third simply by changing our diets and getting more exercise."

"Also," says the president, "eat a nutritious diet. That means at least five fruits or vegetables a day. I've got a little work to do in my family. We've been working on the old -- well, been working on '41' to eat broccoli."

Bush was joking about our 41st president, his father, who once insisted, "I'm the president of the United States and I don't have to eat my broccoli."

The First Family and close friends have nicknamed George H. "41" and George W. "43."

There are skeptics about exercise. My lazy friend Bill says, "I get my exercise acting as a pallbearer for my friends who exercise."

Astronaut Neil Armstrong says, "I believe every human has a finite number of heartbeats. I don't intend to waste any of mine running around doing exercise."

And, yes, as one ages there are risks. Comedian Ellen DeGeneres says, "My grandmother started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 now and we don't know where the hell she is."

COMMENTARY

Listen up, critics, to sheriff's record

By Antonietta 'Ant' Simonian

I would like to set the record straight regarding the recent Democratic politically motivated letters involving Sheriff Gary Del Re.

First of all, the Lake County State's Attorney and the County Board Chairman have every right to defend frivolous lawsuits. Letters incorrectly state the Sheriff was "putting the squeeze on businesses for campaign contributions." In fact, only one disgruntled tow operator who happens to still be towing for the Sheriff's office has filed a civil action—it was warranted no criminal action.

Second, Sheriff Del Re's record speaks for itself. This Sheriff was the first to:

Implement the Domestic Violence Safety on Call Cell Phone project providing victims of domestic violence with a cell phone to dial 911 if they are being stalked.

Implement a web site listing photos and names of registered pedophiles, deadbeat dads, and most-wanted felons. The web site is www.co.lake.il.us/sheriff.

Third, his record on drug abuse is impeccable—he is the single largest contributor to the Lake County Metropolitan Drug Enforcement Agency (Lake County MEG). As a result, the Lake County MEG unit is the largest MEG unit in the State, and has a top-notch record of fighting drugs and educating our youth through their presentations at local high schools and their web site, www.lake-countymeg.org.

Fourth, Sheriff Del Re has a BA in Business from Columbia College and is a graduate of the Senior Management Institute for Police from the Harvard Institute of Government. He has taught criminal justice at Northwestern for nine years, which included courses in ethics.

These are the facts. Sheriff Gary Del Re has demonstrated through his commitment to protecting Lake County residents that integrity, ethics and character are of utmost importance. This Democrat-initiated letter writing campaign may continue—but I am confident the voters in Lake County will see through mean-spirited personal attacks of a gentleman like Sheriff Gary Del Re.

Antonietta "Ant" Simonian is executive director of the Lake County Republican Federation

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Nothing changes

Thirty years ago we were told a state income tax would cure Illinois' awful roads and terrible schools. An income tax would ease property and sales taxes. Since then, the income tax was hiked in 1982 and other taxes were massively raised in 1997 and 2001. Per capita state spending has more than doubled over the last decade.

The results? Our roads are still a mess ($124 million in new road construction hasn't lowered travel times on the Eisenhower one minute).

1. The state is "undertaxed."

Illinois' total tax burden is among the top 10 in the country. Had we avoided an income tax 30 years ago like Texas and Florida, we would have more than enough tax revenue now because our economy would have boomed like those states.

2. Any "cuts" in spending must hurt the elderly, children, welfare mothers, etc.

Our highways cost 25-50 percent more per mile than other Midwestern states. Chicago schools still have more non-teachers than teachers. Welfare costs rose despite big reductions in case loads. Large increases in highly paid staff and "consultants" for constitutional officers (we could save plenty by combining Treasurer and Comptroller as other states do).

Three years ago a handful of renegade Republicans led by George Ryan and virtually every Democrat in our legislature (except carefully chosen exceptions like Susan Garrett) voted for huge new taxes (every Democrat voted for billions more spending and borrowing). Not a single state problem is better today and our state is a fiscal wreck. George Ryan is retiring in disgrace, but his Democratic allies are now poised to seize Governor and both houses of our state legislature. If the Democrats raised taxes when state revenue was soaring and they had to share the spoils with a Republican Governor, you can be sure they'll hike taxes if they get all the power to "solve" a budget "crisis." If you want to pay for big new taxes that won't solve a thing, just vote Democrat.

Eliminate pay-off

What are we to do to stop the suicide bombers? It seems clear that one of the reasons that people blow up themselves is that their families are taken care of through humanitarian benefactors.

I have a suggestion that might slow down the proliferation of these misguided individuals. The Israeli intelligence organizations seem capable of finding out who the bombers and their families are. If their kin, fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, and any aunts and uncles that can be found were rounded up and put into detention camps for the duration, if whatever their assets that could be found were confiscated, if most of the financial reason for their actions were removed. I think it would go a long way to reducing this activity.

Watchdog needed

Six months ago I was told the Fox Lake sewer fund had a surplus of $12 million in a savings account. I scoffed. In truth, as of April 30 it is $14,220,605.

Since then I have tried to get some answers. The plant superintendent is not interested. Martin Galantha, Lake County superintendent, is delighted that people are willing to pay more than they need to.

The new Fox Lake administration that runs the plant for us are good people and mean well. There is, by ordinance, an "Annual Review" of rates. But no one knows who does the review.

Fourteen years ago the Round Lake Sanitary District pleaded that the monthly sewer charge levied by Fox Lake was excessive. My administration didn't listen. During these 14 years the equivalent of 400-500 homes have been added annually to the system. Fox Lake hired RUST Environmental and Infrastructure to prepare a cost projection for expansion by 3 million MGD (12,000 new homes). The cost estimate was less than half of what is in the bank already.

At the current rate of growth, the plant will not need to be expanded for 29 years.

Protect yourself against predatory lending

Predatory lenders usually target those who, because of a poor credit history or limited income, believe they cannot afford a traditional mortgage. While the elderly and people in low-income neighborhoods are the typical targets, no one is immune to predatory lenders. "Home owners seeking to refinance a mortgage or to obtain a home equity loan to pay bills or make home improvements are especially vulnerable," says Peter J. Birnbaum, president and CEO of Attorneys' Title Guaranty Fund, Inc., a company with headquarters in Chicago, whose membership comprises 3,500 independent real estate attorneys. "Unlike potential home buyers, those seeking to refinance usually don't hire an attorney to review the terms of the contract. Without an advocate protecting his or her interests, a consumer who makes an uninformed decision runs the risk of serious exposure. As a result, they can lose their home — or at least the equity they've built up — if they can't make the required payments," he states.

Many organizations such as the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) and the media have tried to educate the public about the problem of predatory lending. Congress is now considering legislation and many states have passed laws that attempt to restrict predatory lending by imposing hefty penalties on those who engage in the practice.

Sadly, the problem persists, Birnbaum says. There are, however, ways to avoid these scams.

Birnbaum suggests taking the initiative to contact three or four banks, savings and loans, credit unions and mortgage companies, to inquire about the best loan for which you qualify, and see how they compare. You will need to obtain the following information from each institution:

- Annual percentage rate (APR), points and fees. The APR is extremely important, along with whether the rate is fixed or adjustable. You will need to know the terms of the loan, including the number of points and fees each institution charges, so that you know whether you can afford the down payment and what the actual monthly payment will be. Keep in mind that you will also have to pay real estate taxes in addition to other routine expenditures.

- Terms of balloon payment. If the rate is adjustable, there will be a "balloon payment," a large payment due at the end of the loan term, usually after a series of low payments have been made. If you cannot come up with the money, you may need another loan, which means new closing costs, points and fees.

Predatory lenders often contact borrowers shortly after their loans have closed and offer refinancing with excessively high fees to "eliminate" the balloon payment.

- Pre-payment penalty. Find out if there is a penalty if you decide to pay off the loan ahead of schedule and also whether the interest rate on the loan will increase if you default. Predatory lenders are often inflexible about these issues whereas a credible lender may be willing to negotiate both of these terms out of your loan agreement.

- Credit insurance. Most people really don't need credit insurance, yet unscrupulous lenders will encourage it, thereby increasing their profit and decreasing the chances that the buyer will be able to make his or her monthly payments.

Predatory lenders are often good salespeople who want to make a fast buck at the expense of the mortgage seeker. But they send out signals that an educated consumer will recognize. These include:

- Recommending that you apply for more money than you need and, furthermore, that you accept monthly payments that you really don't believe you can make;
- Suggesting that you gloss over or falsify even the smallest bit of information on your loan application;
- Misrepresenting the type of credit you're getting, for example, calling a one-time loan a "line of credit";
- Promising one set of terms when you apply, then giving you another set of terms to sign; and
- Encouraging you to sign forms that fail to disclose important financial terms.

Moulis wins again at Wilmot

Dave Moulis scored his second win of the 2002 racing season as he bested a stellar field of drivers at the Wilmot Speedway last weekend. This will be the last tune-up for the Wilmot regulars before this week's World of Outlaw Gumout Series sprint car event.

Moulis started sixth on the field by virtue of his fast qualifying time and was challenging early leader Tim Vandervere for the lead by lap six. The second generation T. Vandervere ran the race of his young career as he, Jeff Ferkin, Todd Daun and Kris Spitz all had a very spirited battle for positions 2-5. Moulis was out in the lead by lap seven and was pretty much unchallenged as he cruised to the victory.

The battle behind Moulis was a good one. Daun finally got the best of the bunch and secured the second position late in race. T. Vandervere settled into a third place payday with Ferkin and K. Spitz next. K. Spitz came up from a 13th starting spot to take the final top-5 position.

"My guys had the car set up to run pretty much wherever I wanted. John Kirk, my crew chief, does such a terrific job making this car easy to drive, I get the fun job of driving it", Moulis said.

When asked if this was a thing to come for this week's Gumout show Moulis said, "I don't like to make a predictions, if we run like I know we can we will be just fine". Thirty seven winged 410 sprints saw action. Ed Devall broke the Scott Kuxhouse stronghold on IMCA modified division A-main win column, as he was victorious in the A-main. Devall put it all together and showed why he is one of the best IMCA modified pilots at Wilmot. Devall started 11th and sliced his way through traffic to take the lead late in the race.

"I knew we would get one soon. It's gratifying starting back a ways and coming to the front, that one was fun," Devall said. Following Devall across the line were Larry Marshall, early leader Mike Simons II, Chuck Ostergaard and Dave Kroening.

Lyle Bottlemey scored his second straight IMCA Hobby Stock feature race of the year. Bottlemey proved that he would be the man to beat in the hobby stock division as he pretty much had things his way throughout the event. Following Bottlemey to the checkered flag were points leader Tony Schlei, Jim Scanlon, John Simons, and Kevin Zurowski.

The next race at the Wilmot Speedway is June 29 the Gumout World of Outlaws Sprint Series invades the historic third-mile oval track. Get there early to secure your favorite seat. For up to the minute race and weather information you can reach the Wilmot Speedway at 262-862-2446, Winker Engineering at 262-694-0656 or keep up to speed on the Wilmot web site at www.wilmot-speedway.com. Gates open at 4 p.m. with times trials starting at 6 and races to follow.

Long drive challenge July 6

The Pinnacle Distance Challenge™ featuring the world's elite in the sport of long drive—the Pinnacle Distance Team—will be held on Sat., July 6, at the Oakbrook Golf Club, 2606 York Rd., Oakbrook. Free to the public, the event includes cash prizes up to $100,000. Pinnacle Distance Team members attending include: Jason Zuback, four-time long drive champion; Brian Pavlet, 1993 long drive champion and 2001 world long drive runner-up; Art Sellinger, two-time National long drive champion and long drivers of American Hall of Famer; Dan Boever, six-time world long drive finalist; and, Mike Moulton, 2001 world long drive fourth-place finisher.

Qualifiers for the Pinnacle Distance Challenge will be held throughout the day from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., along with senior, women, and junior long drive contests. Cobra Golf club promos, a poster signing session with the Pinnacle Distance Team, Pinnacle product giveaways and more will be some of the featured attractions. A junior clinic is also scheduled for 11 a.m., as well as a long drive clinic with a Pinnacle Distance team member at 2 p.m.

The evening portion of the event begins at 7:45 p.m. and features a Media/Celebrity Challenge. Shortly after, the Pinnacle Distance Team will hold a driving exhibition at 8 p.m. Then, the main event will be the Pinnacle Distance Challenge, where the day's top-10 qualifiers will take their best shot against Pinnacle Distance Team member Jason Zuback. Should a participant out drive Zuback, he or she will instantly win $10,000 and qualify for the Pinnacle Distance Challenge finals in Mesquite, Nev., for a chance to compete against 10-time PGA Tour driving distance champion John Daly and a shot at part of a potential $1 million purse.

Should none of the contestants defeat Zuback, the challenger with the longest drive of the event will advance to the finals. Participants should bring their own equipment. For more information on the Pinnacle Distance Challenge, including contest information, registration forms, and directions, visit www.pinnaclegolf.com.

The event is hosted by Pinnacle®, an industry leader in the value-priced golf ball segment and a brand synonymous with superior distance.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

Truman State University (Kirksville, Missouri) Football

Lake Zurich native and former Bear Michael Redding was named to the First Team Arthur Ashe, Jr. Sports Scholar by the magazine, Black Issues in Higher Education.

Redding, a junior running back, was the team's leading rusher last fall when the Bulldogs went 8-3 and tied for third in the NCAA Div.2 Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association.

Redding has maintained a 3.88 GPA in business administration and finance. Redding carried the ball 116 times, good for 535 yards and four touchdowns. He also caught 10 balls for 94 yards.

Redding led the team in rushing in 2000 as well, and was second in that category as a freshman.

Redding is a two-time member of the MIAA commissioner's academic honor roll. For his career, Redding has 325 for 1,511 yards and 13 touchdowns, along with 29 catches for 211 yards and a score.

Redding is a repeat selection to the Arthur Ashe, Jr. First Team, and served as a representative for Truman at the NCAA foundation leadership conference last summer. He is also active with the YMCA after school youth program and is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma honorary business fraternity and a Phi Kappa Phi honorary academic fraternity.

Difficulty: Easy-moderate

Easy holes: #3 (par 3, 121), #6 (par 3, 185), #12 (par 4, 298), #17 (par 4, 291).

Difficult holes: #4 (par 5, 486), #15 (par 5, 559), #16 (par 5, 512).

Signature hole: #16 (par 5, 512). A beautiful slight dogleg left par-5 that is forgiving off the tee. Players will probably lay-up for their second shot because the approach is to a green surrounded by a pond.

Clubhouse amenities: Brae Loch offers a snack shop with full-service bar. Putting green available for practice. A great facility to host your banquet, luncheon, wedding or golf outing.

Price: Fri.-Sun. and holidays (cart optional)—Lake County residents-$25; non-residents-$31. Mon.-Thurs. (excluding holidays)—county residents-$13; non-residents-$20; 18 holes-county residents-$20; non-residents-$26; twilight (after 2 p.m.)—county residents-$13; non-residents-$19 (Note: Electric cart optional for all of the above prices). Value package (includes 18 holes and electric cart; requires two players)—Mon.-Thurs. (per player)—county residents-$25; non-residents-$31. Fri. (per player)—$31 for residents; $37 for non-residents. Twilight (Fri., Sat., Sun.)—$42 for two people with a cart. Sunrise cart rental (before 8 a.m.) rates available. Discounts for seniors (62- and older) and juniors (17- and under) also available. Season passes (good at Brae Loch and Countryside only) also offered.

Pro/Manager's comments: "The course is fairly easy because it is flat and easy to walk. But almost every hole is lined with trees and there are plenty of sand bunkers. A good challenge for all skill levels."—Jack Malloy Difficult holes: #17 (par 4, 484), #7 (par 5, 494), #18 (par 5, 526).

Signature hole: Hole #15 is a 371-yard, par-4. An accurate drive over a pond is required with an approach shot to an elevated green then confronting the player. Very picturesque, as are all of the holes out here.

Clubhouse amenities: Players/guests can enjoy a full-service snack bar in the pro shop. Driving range facilities, locker rooms and showers, lessons and the newly-opened Foxy's Restaurant are all amenities that make visiting Fox Lake a great experience.

Price: Weekdays-$54 (until 4:30 p.m.), $44 (after 4:30 p.m.). Weekends and holidays $64 (until 4:30 p.m.), $54 (after 3:30 p.m.). Nine hole rates are also available. Carts are mandatory but included and now include a GPS system.

Comment: "Fox Lake is a hilly and very challenging test of golf. Players can expect some tough lies on a course known for majestic natural beautification, with bent grass tees and greens and watered blue grass fairways. Very well manicured."—Steve Dau

Signature hole: #18 (par 5, 559). A terrific par-5 with a generous fairway but tree-lined on both sides. Most likely a three-shot hole with the approach shot heading straight at the clubhouse to an uphill green, which is fronted by a rock incline to a smaller green. Length definitely adds to the test, where if played from the tips, measures 600 yards.

Comment: "Another Robert Trent Jones, Jr. gem. Thunderhawk is a championship-designed course built over a 243-acre forest preserve. The course mixes mature oaks, pristine wetlands and native prairie grasses. Fairways generous and wide but accuracy very crucial on many shots. Challenging to all skill levels, with five sets of tees. We have received a four-star rating from 'Golf Digest.'"—Bill Ebdon

Risner Rehabilitation Dr. Paul J. Risner

Chiropractic and acupuncture work hand in hand in the natural healing ability of the body. Manual manipulation of the spine, joints and muscles allows chiropractors to relieve pressure on the nerves and joints of the body to relieve pain symptoms. Acupuncture encourages the body to promote healing and improve function by influencing meridians (energy channels flowing through the body) through needling.

At Risner Rehabilitation, located in Grayslake at 34157 North Route 45 at Washington Street, phone (847) 223-9020, Dr. Paul J. Risner uses chiropractic, acupuncture and physical therapy to promote the body's innate ability to heal itself with proper treatment. After a full health history and a complete examination, Dr. Risner will present a full report of findings, answering any questions the patient may have, and present specific treatment recommendations for recovery. Dr. Risner treats a multitude of conditions affecting adults including migraines, joint pain and herniated discs as well as children's conditions including asthma, earaches and scoliosis. More and more Americans are turning to chiropractic care and acupuncture for conditions relating to the musculoskeletal, nervous, respiratory and digestive systems of the body.

At Risner Rehabilitation, they are members of many insurance programs and are experienced with working with attorneys in such matters as personal injury and Workers' Compensation cases. You're welcome to contact his office today for an appointment or more information. As always, they offer a complimentary initial consultation.

NASE – Diana Anderson

"Affordable Health Insurance For The Self Employed"

The National Association For The Self Employed (NASE) has announced Diana Anderson of Round Lake has been named the new membership representative for the area. NASE is a non-profit association dedicated to the idea that all Americans should have access to affordable benefits and services.

NASE offers more than 100 money-saving benefits. Members have access to discounts on long-distance services, office supplies, travel and hotels, business insurance programs, health, dental and vision services and much more. NASE also provides tools to help members manage their money more effectively with free tax advice from professional consultants and low-cost investment services.

One of the most valuable benefits the association provides is legislative advocacy. NASE believes that individuals and the self-employed deserve the same attention and respect from elected officials that large corporations command. With full-time representation in Washington, DC, NASE gives its members a strong political voice and the negotiating power that comes with group size. NASE has a major role in enacting legislation that puts money back in the pockets of American citizens such as tax reform and expansion of the home office deduction.

For more information about the National Association For The Self Employed and its benefits, call Diana Anderson at (847) 740-3451.

National City Mortgage

Formerly Commonwealth United Mortgage

With today's interest rates, many people are considering refinancing their home or buying a new home with low, fixed interest rates. ## Hainesville Chiropractic Dr. Malia A. Johnson

As concern mounts regarding the cost and safety of unnecessary surgery and the ineffectiveness and side effects of drugs, people have discovered chiropractic. This health care specialty is recognized as an effective treatment for back pain, muscular and joint discomfort, headaches, numbness or pain in the extremities and general physical discomfort, dealing with the cause of the pain rather than just treating the symptoms. According to the American Chiropractic Association, 17 million people visit an estimated 40,000 chiropractors each year.

Dr. Malia Johnson, located in Hainesville at 270 East Belvidere Road, phone (847) 548-3600, is extensively trained in understanding the nervous system. Injury, stress or repetitive movement often causes pressure on nerves and nerve flow blockage along the spinal column. These result from subluxation or improper alignment and positioning of the vertebrae in your spinal column.

Dr. Malia Johnson locates subluxations through orthopedic, neurological, physical, spinal examinations and x-rays when necessary. By proper adjustment, your vertebrae may be restored to their normal position without the possible dangers of surgery or drugs. Chiropractic care is the natural road to your better health and covered by many insurance plans and Workers' Compensation. Contact Dr. Johnson for additional information.

Any Illinois Wildlife Removal

Salvatore "Sam" Calandra, Owner

Wild animals are fascinating to watch and learn about—their lives, habits and habitat. It is especially important for children to learn and experience wildlife to ingrain an appreciation that will last a lifetime.

In today's society, however, humans have overrun a great deal of what was natural habitat. Skunks, opossums, squirrels and raccoons have adapted quite well to living beside humans. Our garbage and discards provide food and perfect nesting materials. Thus we often find the contents of our trash cans scattered around the yard. Bats find their way through the vents of our attics or rest in the eaves of our homes. Snakes, although they are valuable for hunting vermin, frighten the large majority of Americans—even non-venomous varieties. Many animals can nest or get caught in chimneys, blocking the exit of smoke and fumes.

All of these creatures have their niches and are valuable to the environment, but can be annoying in human habitations or even dangerous if there happens to be a rabies outbreak. Any Illinois Wildlife Removal is available to provide wildlife damage control. These experts are experienced in the humane capture and relocation of wild animals which have come into conflict with humans in urban areas. They also provide repairs to prevent future problems. Call Any Illinois Wildlife Removal at (847) 526-8219 for more information.

tions this will have. Kids that get everything they want due to a divorce tend to grow up expecting the same treatment from everyone. This can become quite out of control and difficult. You're obviously concerned that your child have the best possible future, however, if you want to get through to your ex-spouse a little better, try this: a child that is never taught to earn for himself or be responsible, usually tends to be living with you much longer than you would like. While we all love our kids, at some point, we want them independent so that we aren't having to fend for them forever. Kids that get everything they want from one parent usually go back to that one parent for everything they want throughout time! Most parents I know don't really want this for their child's or their future. What is important is to set up the rules and expectations in each home so that the transition is smoother for the child and easier on the parents. This program tends to bring even divorced parents closer in thinking. This improves kid's behavior tremendously. It can work if both parties are reasonable with each other. Certainly, if both are not, it might be good to get some professional help to mediate.

Hi Dr. Singer, My husband and I are getting a divorce and are unsure of how to explain this to our kids. We have a 7 and 9 year old. We want to make sure that we tell them the right way. Can you help? P.P.

Hi P.P., Your concern is admirable and getting your children prepared ahead of time will help. First you should know that kids are very resilient and will adjust. It does help if your presentation is calm and prepared ahead of time. The kids I've met seem to have several fears when it comes to divorce. One fear is that they will not get to see one or the other parent at all. Another fear is that life will totally change. Another fear kids have is that they somehow caused the divorce or that it is their fault. First, we need to reassure kids that divorce in no way, shape or form, is ever their fault. Let them off the hook! I usually ask parents to make sure to try and keep the child's life as stable as possible. Try to keep the school, home, friends, neighborhood, etc. the same in the child's life as much as can be done. The less adjustments the better. More importantly, the child needs to know that he or she will have free access to both parents. Baring a physically abusive or sexually abusive situation, the children need both parents. Many times, I see 2 parents feuding with each other who cannot believe that a child might still like or love the other parent. The truth is, if there is a battle, it is between you and your spouse. Not between your spouse and child. Your child, more than likely, loves both of you and should. Therefore, if the child is kept out of the adult situation as much as possible and is allowed to believe that both parents will be accessible, the child usually adjusts better. Additionally, the more you and your spouse can communicate and put your problems aside for the good of your child, the better the adjustment will be. If you make your child feel safe and then follow through, things should be O.K. You might also want to have this talk in a therapist's office since things can come up and a therapist can help you to watch for things you might not think of ahead of time.

Good luck to all of you!

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's attention, behavior and processing skills. New to Dr. Singer's practice is her very powerful "Tic Mark System of Behavior Improvement in Kids." This system has promoted unbelievably fast behavior change both at home and school with very little work from parents and teachers. Dr. Singer continues to help kids with improving attention, distractibility, self-control, focus and processing in her Total Success Program. ## 55 Alive/Mature Driving refresher course offered 55 Alive/Mature Driving, a refresher course designed specially to meet the needs of mature drivers, will be offered July 18 and July 19 at Advocate Good Shepherd Hospital. The eight-hour class will meet 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. each day in the Lakeview Room at the hospital. This program covers driver safety techniques geared toward those persons 55 and older. It can help to save lives - yours and others. It can also help to prevent injury, help make you a better driver and perhaps even lower your insurance rates.

The fee is $10. Participants must attend both half-day sessions to complete the course. To register for this class call Advocate

HealthAdvisor 1-800-3ADVISOR (323-8622)

Produced by the American Association of Retired Persons, the class helps participants refine existing skills and develop defensive driving techniques. Instruction covers rules of the road; age related physical changes, declining perceptual skills, local driving problems and license renewal requirements.

Good Shepherd Hospital is located north of Barrington on Highway 22, two miles west of Route 59. Good Shepherd Hospital is part of Advocate Health Care, one of the largest health care organizations in the Chicago area.

Sox, Bulls training centers offered

The Chicago White Sox Training Centers, the official youth baseball and fast-pitch softball camps of the Chicago White Sox, are pleased to announce the kick-off of the 2002 summer camp season.

The White Sox Training Centers provide answers for parents and kids alike searching for fun and active options for memorable summer experiences.

For additional excitement, current and former White Sox players and coaches often make special guest appearances at Training Center camps throughout the summer.

Ray Durham, Keith Foulke, Paul Konerko, Kim Parque, Carlos Lee and Bob Howry all made guest appearances in 2001, stopping by to sign autographs and offer major league tips and advice. White Sox legend Minnie Minoso make frequent visits as well.

Top collegiate and professional coaches, major league scouts, former major leaguers, full-time private instructors and hand-picked collegiate players instruct camp participants through 17 1/2 hours of fine-tuning fundamentals, learning and improving skills and gaining advanced insight into the game from those who know it best.

Each week long Training Center cost $169 and runs Monday through Friday for three-and-a-half-hours daily.

Training Centers cover all the basic fundamentals to make sure every young athlete leaves a better player.

Hitting covers lessons in batting stance, bunting, proper swing technique and baserunning, while pitching and fielding cover lessons in position play, throwing mechanics, glove work, ball transfer and other infield and outfield training.

Physical and mental preparation, specific game situation and strategies are also taught. In addition to providing individual instruction, the Training Centers also stress the importance of teamwork.

Every student who completes the program receives a Sox Training Center T-shirts, cap and bat bag, in addition to membership in the Silver and Black Pack, which includes six game tickets and a pre-game parade on the field at Comiskey Park.

Chicago Bulls camp

The Chicago Bulls Basketball School, the official youth basketball camps of the Chicago

Bulls, is also pleased to announce the kick-off of the 2002 summer camp season.

Entering their fourth season, the Bulls Basketball School have already instructed more than 10,000 young athletes.

These weeklong, half-day basketball camps will take place in more than 100 communities across the state.

Occasionally, current and former Chicago Bulls players make appearances at the camps.

Bulls' stars Eddy Curry, Marcus Fizer, Fred Hoiberg, Bob Love and Bobby Hansen all stopped by Bulls Basketball School during the 2001 summer season to share basketball pointers and advice.

The goal of the camps is to teach young players the fundamentals of the game in a fun and positive environment.

Boys and girls, ages 6-14, are taught ball handling, shooting, passing, individual offensive moves, defensive moves and rebounding from hand-picked high school, university, college and junior college coaches.

Each week-long camp is $189 and runs Monday through Friday for 3 1/2 hours daily.

Each player received a Chicago Bulls basketball, Chicago Bulls gym bag, T-shirt, reversible practice jersey and a Chicago Bulls Graduation Certificate.

Young players even have the opportunity to compete in the Fox Sports Net Basketball Skills Competition, with the top boys and girls from each age group advancing to Champions Day on the court at the United Center.

Area dates and times for White Sox/Bulls camps In Grayslake, the White Sox will be at Jaycee Park from July 15-19 and the Bulls will be at Frederick School from July 29-August 2.

In Libertyville, the White Sox will be at Odom Field in Butler Lake Park from July 22-26 and the Bulls will be at the Libertyville Sports Complex from July 22-26.

In Lindenhurst, the Bulls will be at the Health and Fitness Institute from August 12-16.

The training centers will also visit the Round Lake Area, with the Sox will being at the Avon Township Baseball Complex from July 8-12.

And, in Antioch, the White Sox will be at Williams Park from July 15-19 while the Bulls will hold a training center at Antioch Upper Grade School July 22-26.

County women's amateur July 15

The 31st Annual Lake County Ladies Invitational Amateur Golf Tournament will be held at Highland Park Country Club on Mon., July 15.

Please note that this year's event will not be a shotgun start. Starting times and pairings will be mailed to contestants.

Eligibility requirements include an 18-hole established permanent U.S.G.A. handicap index of 30.6 or under. Players need to reside in Lake County or have an affiliation with a ladies golf league. If not a Lake County resident, an affiliation with an 18-hole ladies golf league association is required. The field will be limited to 15 percent of the total field for non-Lake County residents. Collared shirts and/or sleeves is part of the required dress code.

The entry fee for the event is $85, which includes a 2002 LCLGA membership, greens fees, prizes, and lunch. Flight entries close when flights are filled, but a waiting list will be kept. The deadline to enter is July 2. No refunds will be afforded after the close of entries.

The entry fee also includes the team event fee. All teams will be generated by computer. On tournament day, posters will show names of players on assigned teams.

Prizes will be awarded in various categories, including low gross and low net in each flight. Prizes will also be awarded according to IHSA/NCAA rules where applicable.

The awards luncheon, which will follow play, will be held at Highland Park Country Club. Cash bar will follow immediately after play with lunch beginning at 2:30 p.m. Vegetarian lunch is available if ordered ahead of time. Extra lunch tickets are available at $25. Seating is subject to availability. Please call 847-295-0411 for an entry form or further information.

Urlacher Football Camps offered

While summer offers many sports camps, most do not have a two-time Pro-Bowl linebacker on staff. The 2002 Brian Urlacher Football Camp will have two sessions. The first is the Youth Fundamental Camp and will run from June 30-July 3. The second session is the High School Fundamental Camp running from July 8-11.

The camp director is Lake Forest College head football coach Chad Eisele. Lake Forest College competes in Division-3 for NCAA football. Other coaches from Lake Forest include offense coordinator Brent Holsclaw and assistant coaches Bernie Berconti and Tom Dranger. The camps will be held at Lake Forest College.

These camps will help young athletes improve their skills on both offense and defense. Guest speakers will provide campers with additional insights about the game. Camp will end with an award ceremony.

With the camps starting soon, interested young athletes should sign up now. These camps are sure to help young football players improve their skills in many aspects of the game. Chicago Bears All-Pro linebacker Brian Urlacher Football Camp feels this camp should not be overlooked by any young athlete.

PUBLICATION NOTICE

The requisite affidavit for publication having been filed, notice is hereby given to you: SCOTT PAULINA, NON-RECORD CLAIMANTS, UNKNOWN TENANTS AND UNKNOWN OWNERS, Defendants in the above entitled suit, that said suit has been commenced in the Circuit Court of LAKE County, Chancery Division, by the said Plaintiff, against you and other Defendants, praying for Foreclosure of a certain Real Estate Mortgage, conveying the premises described as follows, to wit:

LOT 3 IN BLOCK "L" IN WILDWOOD ON GAGES LAKE, (FIRST UNIT), A SUBDIVISION IS SECTIONS 30 AND 31, TOWNSHIP 45 NORTH, RANGE 11, EAST OF THE THIRD PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN, ACCORDING TO THE PLAT THEREOF, RECORDED JULY 6, 1949, AS DOCUMENT 674003, IN BOOK 31 OF PLATS, PAGE 88, IN LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Tax Number: 07 30 318 015

commonly known as 33136 NORTH VALLEYVIEW DRIVE, GRAYSLAKE, ILLINOIS 60030; and which said Real Estate Mortgage was made by SCOTT PAULINA AND ROBIN L. PAULINA, and recorded in the Office of the LAKE County Recorder of Deeds as Document Number 4374968; that summons was duly issued out of the said court against you as provided by law, and that the said suit is now pending.

Now therefore, unless, you the said named Defendants, file your answer to the Complaint in the said suit or otherwise make your appearance therein, in the Office of the Circuit Court of LAKE County, located at 18 NORTH COUNTY STREET, WAUKEGAN, ILLINOIS 60085, on or before the 12 day of July, 2002 default may be entered against you at any time after that day and a Judgment entered in accordance with the prayer of said Complaint.

THIS COMMUNICATION IS FROM A "DEBT COLLECTOR", (15 USC 1692a)

PUBLIC NOTICE
2001 CONSUMER CONFIDENCE REPORT
VILLAGE OF FOX LAKE PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM #0970200
ABOUT OUR WATER SYSTEM

In 1928 the Village of Fox Lake Public Water System was put into service. The system supplies potable water to our residents from RT. 12 & Grand Ave. to Washington St. & Rollins Rd. The system also supplied potable water north up Forest Ave. to Lakeview Ave. & Howard Ave. The distribution system was comprised of a 60,000 gallon water tower floating over 8" & 6" cast iron water mains. Well #1 located on Ernest Ave. supplied all the Village's treated water until 1941.

Well #2 located 25 feet south of Well #1 was put into service in 1941. Iron removal filters were required to reduce the iron concentration to an acceptable limit.

In 1976 a new 500,000-gallon water tower and Well #3 located at 301 S. Rt. 59 (just behind the Village Hall) was put into service. Well #3 along with Wells #1 & 2 supplied all the Village's potable water until 1988.

Well #4 located at 100 Industrial Blvd. was put into service in 1988. Not unlike Well #2 Iron Removal Filters were required to reduce the treated water's iron concentration to an acceptable limit.

In 1999 a 250,000-gallon water tower was constructed to replace the 60,000-gallon tower on Ernest Ave.

Today our Water System supplies 500,000 to 1,000,000 gallons of potable water per day for over 5,000 Village residents, and our water system now reaches as far south as Rt. 134 & Rt. 12. Wells #1, 2 & 4 supply all of the Village's treated water.

Water from Well #1 is pumped and blended with filtered water from Well #2. Polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help control tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection.

Water from Well #4 is pumped and filtered for iron, polyphosphates are added for corrosion control, followed by the addition of fluorine to help control tooth decay, chlorine is then added for disinfection.

WATER SAMPLING & TESTING

The Sewer & water Dept. personnel sample and test for polyphosphate, fluorine, chlorine and iron concentrations 365 days a year. These tests are performed daily at our two well sites and throughout the Distribution System to ensure the chemicals added to our water are within acceptable limits.

In addition to our daily samples the Sewer & Water Dept. Personnel sample throughout the year for contaminants that may be present in our well water before we treat it.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk.

Sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.

Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and residential uses.

Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that your water is safe to drink, the I.E.P.A. prescribes regulations limiting the amount of certain contaminants in the water our Public Water System provides you. All water Treatment and the Operation & Maintenance of our Water System is performed according to all I.E.P.A. regulations.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water with their health care providers. USEPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the USEPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline.

More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained from the EPA Safe Drinking Water Hotline.

2001 Water Quality Data

Definition of Terms-

Maximum Contaminant Goal (MCLG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water which there is no known or expected risk of health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Level Found: This column represents an average of sample result data collected during the CCR calendar year. In some cases, it may represent a single sample if only one sample was collected.

Range of Detections: This column represents a range of individual sample results, from lowest to highest that were collected during the CCR calendar year.

Date of Sample: If a date appears in this column, the Illinois EPA requires monitoring for this contaminant less than once per year because the concentrations do not frequently change. If no date appears in the column, monitoring for this contaminant was conducted during the CCR calendar year.

Action Level (AL): The concentration of a contaminant that, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

Nd: Not detectable at testing limits.

WATER QUALITY DATA TABLE FOOTNOTES

COPPER

Copper is an essential nutrient, but some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over a relatively short amount of time could experience gastrointestinal distress. Some people who drink water, containing copper in excess of the action level over many years could suffer liver or kidney damage. People with Wilson's Disease should consult their personal doctor.

Samples taken on 09/30/1992 show 8 sample sites to exceed the action limit for copper. The Fox Lake Water & Sewer Department is now adding a chemical known as Aqua Mag®. The addition of this chemical in other Water Systems has effectively controlled red water in the distribution system and has also been found to protect copper plumbing from the corrosive effects of some waters.

LEAD

Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water.

Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS:

A maximum contaminant level (MCL) for this contaminant has not been established by either state or federal regulations, nor has mandatory health effects language. The purpose for monitoring this contaminant is to assist USEPA in determining the occurrence of unregulated contaminants in drinking water, and whether future regulation is warranted.

IRON

This contaminant is not currently regulated by USEPA. However, the state has set an MCL for this contaminant for supplies serving a population of 1000 or more.

MANGANESE

This contaminant is not currently regulated by USEPA. However, the state has set an MCL for this contaminant for supplies serving a population of 1000 or more.

SODIUM

There is not a state or federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers and health officials that are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If you are on a sodium-restricted diet, you should consult a physician about this level of sodium in water.

2001 Violation Summary Table

2001 Source Water Assessment Summary

As of the date of this report, this summary has not been completed. The Illinois EPA must complete all source water assessments by May 2003. As this assessment becomes available, our supply will summarize the results and incorporate the information into this report, as required.

Further information on our community water supply's source water assessment is available on the USGS web site at <http://il.water.usgs.gov> or by calling the Groundwater Section of the Illinois EPA at 217-785-4787.

Village Board Meetings

The Village Board meets on the second, third and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 7:00 pm at the Village Hall located at 301 S. RT 59.

The Sewer & Water Committee meet on the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 pm at the Village Hall. Please feel free to attend these meetings.

A Few Words From The Sewer & Water Dept.

The Sewer & Water Dept. flush the fire hydrants twice a year, once in the spring and again in the fall. This flushing is required to insure our fire hydrants are working properly and to clean the water mains of sediments that cause red water and odor problems. This can be difficult in some areas of the Village due to the hilly terrain. Our Employees are very concerned about where the discharged water ends up. For the properties that receive some of this water, please accept our deepest apologies.

If you have a question about your Sewer & Water Bill please call our office at 847-587-8393 or E-mail munoza@foxlake.org

All calls other than Billing are accepted at 847-587-3694 or 847-587-4671 or E-mail petersok@foxlake.org

ABOUT OUR WATER SYSTEM

In 1972 the Leisure Technologies completed construction on the Tall Oaks Public Water Supply, now known as the Fox Lake Water System #2. This new water system supplied potable water to the Leisure Village and Vacation Village Home Owners Associations.
The water treatment facility, located on Grass Lake Road one half mile east of State Park Road, consisted of a 500,000 gallon ground reservoir, one shallow well, and three high pressure booster pumps. The distribution system consisting of 10", 8" and 6" water main, serviced all of the Leisure Village and Vacation Village area.
Well #1 was drilled to a depth of 146 feet in 1972 and produced 1500 gallons per minute. At present this well produces 350 gpm and is treated with sodium hypochlorite for disinfection, and hydrofluosilicic acid to help prevent tooth decay. The treated water from well #1 is then pumped into the ground reservoir.
In the fall of 1976 well #2 was drilled to a depth of 133 feet and produced 730 gallons per minute.
With the high iron content in both Wells 1 & 2 an iron removal filtration system was installed in 1989 to lower the iron content in your drinking water to an acceptable limit.
At present this well produces 650 gpm. This water is filtered of iron then treated with gas chlorine for disinfection, and hydrofluosilicic acid to help prevent tooth decay. The treated water is then pumped to the reservoir for storage before entering the distribution system.
The Tall Oaks Water System now supplies potable water to not only Leisure Village and Vacation Village, but also to Hickory Cove, East and West Dunns Lake Subdivisions, Woodland Green, and Reva Bay Subdivisions.
The Tall Oaks Public Water System is now treating approximately 200,000 gallons of water per day in the cool months of the year, and approximately 400,000 gallons per day during the warm months of the year.

WATER SAMPLING & TESTING

The Sewer & Water Dept. personnel sample and test for Fluorine, Chlorine and Iron Concentrations 365 days a year. These Tests are performed daily at our Treatment Plant and throughout the Distribution System to ensure the chemicals added to our water are within acceptable limits.
In addition to our daily samples the Sewer & Water Dept. Personal sample throughout the year for contaminants that may be present in our well water before we treat it.

WATER QUALITY DATA TABLE FOOTNOTES

*BETA/PHOTON EMITTERS
The MCL for beta particles is 4 mrem/yer. EPA considers 50 pCi/l to be a level of concern for beta particles.
UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS:
A maximum contaminant level (MCL) for this contaminant has not been established by either state or federal regulations, nor has mandatory health effects language. The purpose for monitoring this contaminant is to assist USEPA in determining the occurrence of unregulated contaminants in drinking water, and whether future regulation is warranted.
IRON
This contaminant is not currently regulated by USEPA. However, the state has set an MCL for this contaminant for supplies serving a population of 1000 or more.
MANGANESE
This contaminant is not currently regulated by USEPA. However, the state has set an MCL for this contaminant for supplies serving a population of 1000 or more.
SODIUM
There is not a state of federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers and health officials that are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If you are on a sodium-restricted diet, you should consult a physician about this level of sodium in water.

2001 Violation Summary Table

Violation summary
2001 Source Water Assessment Summary
As of the date of this report, this summary has not been completed. The Illinois EPA must complete all source water assessments by May 2003. As this assessment becomes available, our supply will summarize the results and incorporated the information into this report, as required.
Further information on our community water supply's source water assessment is available on the USGS web site at <http://il.water.usgs.gov> or by calling the Groundwater Section of the Illinois EPA at 217-785-4787.
Village Board Meetings
The Village Board meets on the second, third and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 7:00 pm at the Village Hall located at 301 S. RT 59.
The Sewer & Water Committee meets on the third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 pm at the Village Hall. Please feel free to attend these meetings.

A Few Words From The Sewer & Water Dept.
The Sewer & Water Dept. flush the fire hydrants twice a year, once in the spring and again in the fall. This flushing is required to insure our fire hydrants are working properly and to clean the water mains of sediments that cause red water and odor problems. This can be difficult in some areas of the Village due to the hilly terrain. Our Employees are very concerned about where the discharged water ends up. For the properties that receive some of this water, please except our deepest apologies.
If you have a question about your Sewer & Water Bill please call our office at 847-587-8393 or E-mail munoza@foxlake.org
All calls other than Billing are accepted at 847-587-6960 or 847-587-4671 or E-mail petersok@foxlake.org

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals

If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

To whom it may concern,

Recently, I placed an ad for a sleeping room in the Pioneer Press, Copley Newspapers and the Lakeland Newspapers. Lisa at extension 191 was exceptional. She expedited my request with exceptional speed, enthusiasm and courtesy. I wish that all employees at local newspapers were as friendly and efficient. When I have ad needs, I will definitely use your company in the future.

Demonstrate the RIGHT Attitude to Future Employers

By Scott T. Fleischmann

Last week in this column I explained why many employers regard values, character, and attitudes as more important than skills. I also identified some of the attitudes that are most important to recruiters and hiring managers. This week we will explore how to demonstrate your positive attitudes to a future employer.

Most candidates have been trained to focus only on skills when applying for a job. Learning to discuss attitudes with future employers can be uncomfortable. Here are some steps to start that process:

• Distinguish Important Values - Write down the values that are important to you. Every item you list effects your attitudes, so the more you list the more information you will have to share with a possible future employer.

• Describe Attitudes - Values influence attitudes and every attitude is viewed as positive by some and as negative by others. A person who believes that family is important is more sensitive to those with families but may not be as sensitive to others. Someone who believes that diversity is important may be sensitive to many segments of society but may offend some that have strong specific beliefs. Those who value honesty will be more honest, but if not done tact-fully, that honesty may offend others. List the positive perceptions in one column and the negative perceptions in another.

• Develop a Plan - Create an approach to tell others about these good attitudes. You want to share data as early in the process as possible. Although including them in the resume is often awkward, the language that you use will tell a future employer much about your attitudes. You may be able to include some of the attitudes in the cover letter. Examples include: "My analytical nature and calm demeanor allow me to lead others in times of stress," "In my last performance evaluation I was told that my strong interpersonal skills contributed to teamwork," or "Several co-workers recently recognized my contributions to a project in a sister department."

Look for opportunities to share your positive attitudes in the interviewing process. When giving illustrations that demonstrate your skills also mention the attitudes that contributed to the accomplishment. For example: "my past project management experience was a key factor in completing the XYZ project on time and within the budget constraints.
The people who worked on the project were diligent, supportive and goal oriented. I believe that teamwork is important. We functioned as a team on this project."

• Decide to Implement - You now have all of the needed information and a plan to share that data. The last step is to start sharing with future employers.

The four D's for sharing your attitudes and values with future employers is a process that has worked for me and for many of my friends. Give it a try and future employers will be more likely to select you as the best person to fill that important opening.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q. How long is too long to wait? I was interviewing for a job with (name withheld). I interviewed initially and was called back for a second interview a week and a half later. After the second interview, I was told I was among 2 people in contention for the position and that I would shortly be notified about a third interview. I turned down another job offer for a little less money during this time, because my heart was really in getting the position with (name withheld). After not hearing from them in the next five days about the third interview, I contacted the person in Human Resources. Her response was, "Oh yes, I am supposed to schedule you for next week to meet with a third person.
I agreed to the date and time, but the more I thought about it, this was a 3 and a half week process already, and I couldn't hold out for work much longer. My friends and family tried to encourage me to continue to interview for other positions during this time in case this fell through. I was stubborn believing I could get this job. The day before the interview I made sure I had everything under control especially research on the company so I would be prepared. The morning of the interview a call came in to me from the person in Human Resources pushing my interview time ahead 4 hours to later that afternoon. Much to my surprise I received a call an hour before the interview from Human Resources informing me they filled the position with the other candidate. I wasted almost a month on this company and now am back to square one.
I'm angry and feel like a total fool since my family tried to warn me this could happen. What advice can you give to others to prevent this from happening to them? What steps should I personally take to put this behind me. Thank you. T.M. (via email)

A. It is a shame that you fell into that situation. It's more of a shame that the company felt so little regard to not even take the time to interview you after keeping you hanging that long. It's the old saying . . . "Don't put all your eggs in one basket." Don't dwell on this because it will only anger you more. These situations occur more often than you know. The trick is to continue to channel your efforts with the idea that you too will continue to interview just the same as the company is doing during that time. There are companies out there who when they are finally finished with all the interviews, extend an offer to someone who may have interviewed with them a few weeks before that they felt was the ideal candidate, only to find that person didn't wait around for them and has since moved on to another opportunity. Then the company realizes that they are back to square one themselves and need to start the process all over again. It can be a wasted effort in many cases. Obviously the company saw something very strong in you as a candidate to have kept you hanging on. It was possibly the idea that they were planning on extending the offer to the other candidate all along, and waiting to see if that person would accept the position. If they didn't, they knew they had another great candidate waiting in the wings. Use this as a learning experience. You'll come back stronger. Good luck.
